MAYOR URGES PUBLIC VOTE ON EASTERN TIME

Proposes November Test at Polls.

The city council yesterday adopted a resolution, drawn by Mayor Kelly, to encourage and facilitate the filing of petitions by citizens for a referendum on whether eastern standard time should be permanently in effect in Chicago. The city changed from central standard to eastern time on March 1, gaining an hour of daylight each day all year round, but Mayor Kelly pointed out that voters have not yet had an opportunity to express themselves on the change.

By an ordinance passed last November the council ordered all official city business to be transacted on the new time. This did not apply to private business and social life, the mayor said, and the general compliance throughout the city was voluntary.

375,000 Signatures Needed.

In order to place the time question on the ballot for a referendum at the general election next November, petitions signed by one-fourth of the registered voters in the city must be received by the board of election commissioners sixty days before the election. As there are approximately 1½ million registered voters in Chicago, the petitions must have 375,000 signers.

"The use of eastern standard time by the citizens of Chicago, in their business and social life, is purely voluntary on their part," said Mayor Kelly. "While the change to the new time has been general throughout the city, no one except city officials has been compelled to make the change by the terms of the ordinance. I am one who believes that the public, insofar as possible, should decide questions of this kind.

Petition Only Legal Way.

"I am advised, however, that under our state law the council lacks the power to place on the ballot such questions for referendum and that even if a referendum were held the result would be merely advisory and the council must still decide.

"In an opinion backed by the precedent of 16 years or more, the city law department, last Oct. 28, pointed out that the only way questions of public policy may be placed on the ballot is by petition of a required number of registered voters. This is in accord with the public policy act.

"Of course, the power of the council to determine, by ordinance, how the official city clocks shall be regulated cannot be questioned. The action by the council, in fixing eastern standard time as the official city time, was taken, I am informed, in view of apparent popular demand, as testified to by numerous prominent citizens and civic groups.

Acts for Public Vote.

"Because I believe thoroughly in the democratic way of determining these things, I am proposing to initiate and provide the facilities for an all-city movement to bring this question to a vote by the people. I invite and urge the council members to join me in persuading the citizens to obtain for themselves such a referendum and coöperate fully with those who are at this time circulating petitions in this regard.

"Without going into the merits or demerits of having eastern or central time, I believe it is again worth emphasizing that it is an unusually happy circumstance that the new time is already in effect. We can thus expect a fair test."

Cronson Favors Referendum.

Ald. B. A. Cronson [4th], who introduced the ordinance for the time change last November, said he was in favor of a referendum.

"It will give the voters a chance to express their opinion after they have put the new time to a test," Cronson declared.

The referendum, according to the mayor's resolution, would consist of two questions:

1. Should the city continue with daylight saving time, as it has in the past, from the last Sunday in April to the last Sunday in September?

2. Should eastern standard time be in effect each month of the year?

The motion for adoption of the mayor's resolution was made by Ald. Arthur G. Lindell [9th]. It was seconded by Ald. Harry E. Perry [18th]. The council vote for the resolution was unanimous.

INJUNCTION NIPS PLANS OF BLACK LOBBY QUIZZERS

Chicago Law Firm Wins Case.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 11.—[Special.]—The Black committee's prying indiscriminately into the telegrams sent and received by opponents of the New Deal was halted today by the Supreme court of the District of Columbia as a violation of the bill of rights protecting citizens from "unreasonable searches and seizures."

JUDGE WHEAT.

Chief Justice Alfred A. Wheat granted a permanent injunction restraining the Western Union Telegraph company from delivering to the senate inquisitors the telegrams sent and received by the Chicago law firm of Winston, Strawn & Shaw during the ten months ending Dec. 1 last.

Rebuke to Senator Black.

The action of the court was a signal rebuke of the chief inquisitor, Senator Hugo L. Black [Dem., Ala.], for a campaign of harassment of critics of the Roosevelt administration which he has been conducting for several months under the guise of an investigation of lobbying activities. In pursuance of his objective he seized or attempted to seize and scrutinize the 5 million telegrams dispatched by all persons to or from Washington in the ten months' period.

With the aid of the federal communications commission Senator Black obtained several million of these messages before one of the victims appealed to the courts for protection from methods of espionage made notorious by the agents of the secret police in other countries. The adoption of such methods by the New Deal have been pronounced by its foes a long step toward the establishment of a dictatorship on American soil.

Company Plans No Appeal.

The Western Union Telegraph company, it is learned, does not intend to appeal Chief Justice Wheat's injunction ruling to the higher courts. Inasmuch as the senate committee was not a party to the suit Senator Black's only possible recourse is to seek retaliatory action in congress.

He might ask the senate to cite the Western Union officials for contempt of that body for refusal to surrender the messages despite the injunction granted by the court. Or he might propose legislation depriving the courts of the power to grant such injunctions. In the senate last week the Alabama senator said that if such an injunction were to issue congress ought to limit the jurisdiction of the courts.

In either event there would be brought to a head the entire controversy revolving around the proposals of the New Dealers to deprive the courts of the power to interpret the constitution and around the charges that the New Dealers are employing the Black committee, the communications commission, the income tax bureau, and other agencies to intimidate and silence their opponents in the approaching presidential election.

Sees Motive Revealed.

Jouett Shouse, president of the American Liberty league, tonight said Black at least revealed why he seized the telegrams of the law firm of Winston, Strawn & Shaw, because the league paid the law firm more than $1,000 for telegrams and phone calls. Shouse explained that Mr. Ralph Shaw, a member of the firm, is chairman of the Illinois division of the league and as such has had several occasions to wire or telephone the league in the last year. The league reimbursed him for such expense.

Shouse offered to give Black's committee any of these telegrams his copiers may have missed and said the telegrams in question offered but a flimsy pretext for the attempt to

ARMY BUYS 512 NEW AIRPLANE ENGINES AT COST OF $3,850,000

Washington, D. C., March 11.—(AP) The war department today awarded a $3,850,000 contract to the Wright Aeronautical corporation of Paterson, N. J., for 512 new airplane engines.

Of the total purchase, 432 will be the most powerful single row radial aircraft engines in the world for use in the new bombers which the army recently purchased.

The remaining eighty engines in the new order will be nine cylindered, 450 horsepower "Whirlwinds" for use in basic training planes recently ordered by the war department.

The engines contracted for today were developed jointly by engineer officers of the army air corps and technicians of the Wright company. The war department said they incorporate the "new dynamic damper which virtually eliminates torsional vibration in crankshafts, new supercharger devices, and new types of cylinder heads which greatly increase cooling area, resulting in lowered fuel consumption, which is now comparable to that of Diesel engines."

A Forgotten Man Is Found in County Jail

Never convicted of crime but jailed more than three years ago for failure to pay $45,000 in a civil proceeding, Raymond E. Prochnow, once a La Salle street investment broker, faces the prospect of remaining behind bars the rest of his life.

In the Cook county jail Prochnow is known as the "forgotten prisoner." About him is an air of mystery such as clung to the Man in the Iron Mask, that unnamed prisoner who mused and slept away the years in French prisons, by order of King Louis XIV, until he died—still unidentified—in 1703.

Forgotten by the Law.

Prochnow's identity, it is true, is known. But the judge who sent him to prison for contempt is no longer on the bench. The law has forgotten Prochnow. And he admitted yesterday that he is himself beginning to forget why he is held.

"The strain is terrific," he declared. "If I had the $45,000 that was demanded of me I would gladly pay it. But I haven't. I have filed a bankruptcy petition listing this judgment among my liabilities. If they'll let me out of here I'll try to earn money and pay instalments on the debt until it's cleared up.

Mask of Silence Lifted.

"I have tried to hide behind a mask of silence here. To be in jail, even for debt, is a disgrace to my wife and children. I had hoped to keep my friends and the neighbors from learning of my plight. My wife has been wonderful, and I've that much to be thankful for. But I am suffering torture.

"My greatest hope is that my children will never learn their father was in jail, never understand the stigma that has been placed on me because of my inability to pay a debt."

Breaking Down, Says Warden.

Prochnow is 39 years old. Frank Sain, warden of the jail, said that until the last day or two he had been a model prisoner, and was a waiter working in the dining room of the jail administration building. But, the warden added, he seemed to be breaking as the days pass.

The jurist who sentenced the now forgotten prisoner for contempt of court back in 1932 was Judge Thomas Taylor. Prochnow was summoned before Judge Taylor in connection with litigation over the estate of Attorney William Garnet and was jailed when he failed to turn over to the court the $45,000 he was alleged to owe the estate.

Judge Taylor retired from the bench in the summer of 1933.

Several attorneys said yesterday that, in their opinion, no other judge can assume jurisdiction and free Prochnow unless he obeys the order of Judge Taylor and clears himself of contempt by paying the full amount.

Petition Before Appeals Court.

On a number of occasions Prochnow has sought freedom on writs of habeas corpus, but has been unsuccessful. At present he has a petition before the Illinois Appellate court requesting his liberty, basing his plea on the fact that outside he would have earning power and could begin paying off.

"That petition has been passed for several terms," the prisoner said. "Unless the court acts in my behalf it looks as if I'll have to perish here. I have reached the end of my legal rope."

Another prisoner held in the county jail for contempt is Mrs. Daisy Tegtmeyer, 50 years old. She was sentenced by Circuit Judge Hugo Friend two years ago because she declined to tell what she did with $30,000 that was claimed as a part of the estate of her father-in-law, Henry Tegtmeyer. She was one of the trustees of the estate.

G. O. P. WINS BATTLE TO KEEP R. ISLAND'S CONSTITUTION ALIVE

Providence, R. I., March 11.—[Special.]—Republicans dealt the New Deal Democrats a smashing blow in yesterday's election battle over a proposed constitutional convention, complete returns revealed today.

By a margin of 11,376 votes, the proposal was defeated. Republicans and independent Democrats ran up a total of 98,383 opposition votes in the 232 voting districts, against 87,007 recorded by the New Dealers.

The state administration, which threw out the Supreme court a year ago, proposed to scrap Rhode Island's constitution. Their Republican opponents contended that the 94 year old document is adequately elastic by the process of amendments.

King Edward Tells England He May Wed

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 11.—There is a possibility that King Edward VIII. of England will marry—and the king himself broached the subject today.

It was in the royal message to the house of commons, submitting the civil list—the government's allowances for members of the royal family—that the king authorized the lines: "His majesty desires that the contingency of his marriage should be taken into account so that, in that event, there should be a provision for her majesty."

The royal message was read by Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, and when he had finished William James Thorne, a Labor party member, quickly asked:

"Does his majesty give any assurance that he is going to get married?"

Gets Privy Purse Alone.

For several years the civil list has totaled about $2,100,000, which includes sums for the upkeep of palaces and household stafs, but the late King George V. shared the privy purse of $489,000 with Queen Mary. Special provisions are made in the new civil list for Queen Mary, but her son Edward will get the privy purse alone.

In fact he will enjoy a larger sum, for he still will receive the revenues—about $350,000—from the duchy of Cornwall. These traditionally belong to the prince of Wales, a title which will be vacant until an heir is born to a reigning couple.

Edward made a request that commons make "suitable provisions" for the duke of York, heir presumptive to the throne, "and, in certain events, for his family." But Edward said he would yield some of the revenues from the duchy of Cornwall toward increasing the pay of the duke.

The duke's and duchess' family consists of Princess Elizabeth, who is now third in line to the throne, and Princess Margaret Rose.

Five Princesses Mentioned.

Chamberlain announced a committee of the house, headed by Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin and consisting of 21 members, will consider the civil list next week.

Edward, now 41 years old, since 1919 has been the target of countless marriage rumors and almost any woman who danced with him frequently, was seen often in his company, or was a member of a European noble family and had reached a marriageable age, was touted as a possible mate.

At the moment it is conjectured that five princesses of Europe are most eligible. These include Irene and Catherine of Greece [whose ancestry is Danish], Juliana of the Netherlands, Eugenia of Greece, and Kyre of Russia, daughter of Grand Duke Cyril of Russia, who is pretender to the Russian throne.

URGES PARTIAL WITHDRAWAL AS ROAD TO PEACE

The Situation in Brief

LONDON—British government, seeking peaceful solution, urges Germany to withdraw part of its army from the Rhineland. Statesmen of Britain, France, Belgium, and Italy meet today. Page 1.

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, March 11.—Another special session of the British cabinet will be held tomorrow morning, preceding the meeting of the four remaining Locarno powers, to make a final survey of the situation created by Reichsfuehrer Hitler's remilitarization of the Rhineland in violation of the Locarno and Versailles treaties.

Two cabinet meetings were held today, at the second of which Capt. Anthony Eden, foreign secretary, and Viscount Halifax, lord privy seal, reported on yesterday's Paris session, when France demanded British help in ousting the Nazi troops from the Rhineland, with force, if necessary.

Act to Oust Some Nazi Troops.

British diplomacy, it is understood, will concentrate on persuading Germany to withdraw a part of her troops from the Rhine area as a preliminary to negotiations on the wider issues raised by Hitler.

The British are inclined to agree with the French viewpoint that the 90,000 troops already sent in to the Rhineland are more than "symbolic."

The danger of a frontier incident which would cause a disastrous flareup is causing considerable worry. For this reason the British plan of action for the Locarno negotiations, as outlined tonight, is, first, to eliminate the danger of some such precipitate act, and, second, to ascertain whether it may not be possible subsequently to build a new and better security system on the ashes of Locarno and Versailles.

League Council Program.

The first concern of the league of nations council, which will meet here Saturday at St. James's palace, will be to pronounce whether there has been a breach of the Locarno treaty, and the second, to determine what action should be taken.

Britain is expected to be a target of the little powers. The latter argue that Britain urged them to levy sanctions against Italy for a breach of treaty but is not willing to be a sanctions nation against Germany for a similar breach.

The upshot of the situation on the eve of the assembly of the Locarno powers—Great Britain, France, Belgium, and Italy—is that there is greater agreement on the idea, as the London Times puts it, "that a firm stand for the sanctity of international obligations need not preclude the fullest use of diplomacy in the weeks and months ahead to establish settled peace."

Flandin in London.

Pierre-Etienne Flandin, the French foreign minister; Rene Massigli, director of the league of nations department of the French foreign ministry, and others of the French delegation arrived in London late tonight for tomorrow's meeting.

It is still hoped here that Hitler will send Joachim von Ribbentrop, his personal ambassador, as a German representative to the league council meeting so that speedy contacts with Germany will be possible for the delicate negotiations to follow. Ernst Hanfstaengl, head of the foreign press department of the Nazi party, and the duke of Saxe-Coburg-and-Gotha arrived by air tonight.

It is expected the league meeting will last ten days. To gain time and allow tempers to cool, it was suggested the British may urge the Germans to propose submission of the Franco-soviet mutual aid treaty to The Hague tribunal, as a test of legality.

Questions in Commons.

Searching questions regarding the Locarno pact and British commitments under it have been introduced in the house of commons for answers Monday. J. C. Wedgwood, a Laborite, is asking for a statement from Eden as to sanctions the French propose against the Germans and whether they include the withdrawing of ambassadors from Berlin.

David Lloyd George, wartime prime minister, presided at a meeting of the council of action for peace and reconstruction, which has thousands of members. The council adopted a resolution condemning France equally with Germany for treaty breaking and proposed utilizing Hitler's proposals to negotiate a new basis for peace.

The London press openly states the British government has defaulted on its obligations to back the French under the Locarno pact, but asserted that no other course is practicable and that Britain is well rid of the document.

ESTRANGED WIFE OF CAPT. LUCEY ENDS OWN LIFE

Los Angeles, Cal., March 11.—[Special.]—In fear of becoming blind, Mrs. Florence Glover Lucey, 58 year old estranged wife of Capt. John F. Lucey, millionaire manufacturer and associate of Herbert Hoover, ended her life today by firing a bullet through her heart. She left a brief note to her maid, Susan Fleming, to notify her two nephews, Attorneys Richard Cantillon and John E. Glover, Los Angeles. She also is survived by two brothers, George Glover of Los Angeles and Leslie of Wisconsin.

Mrs. Lucey, prominent in Washington and European society during years when Capt. Lucey was associated with Mr. Hoover as food administrator and President, had been in ill health for some time. Cataracts were slowly causing her to lose her sight.

Capt. Lucey, since separating from his wife, has been living in Dallas, Tex. He was one of California's first oil producers.

He received his captaincy during the Spanish-American war, and during the world war he and Mrs. Lucey were in Rotterdam in charge of relief administration.

ARREST PORTER'S EX-SECRETARY ON THEFT CHARGE

Authorities at Boston, Mass., notified the Chicago police last night that they had under arrest Lawrence J. Breanna, alias Albert L. Brennan, who has been charged with the theft of jewelry and family heirlooms valued at $5,000 from Washington Porter II., 4043 Lake Park avenue.

A warant for Breanna was taken out in January by Porter, who is a wealthy collector of art objects. Breanna was formerly Porter's social secretary.

The Boston authorities said that the prisoner had agreed to waive extradition, and two detectives are to go at Porter's expense to bring him back to Chicago. They added that they identified Breanna through a picture, showing him in the garb of a Roman gladiator, that had been furnished them.

FRANCE SPLIT ON WAY TO CHECK HITLER ADVANCE

4 Cabinet Members Favor Warlike Action.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, March 11.—A trend in favor of immediate reprisals against Germany has developed in the French chamber of deputies. Four members of the cabinet, including Premier Albert Sarraut and Pierre-Etienne Flandin, foreign minister, also are reported today to favor energetic steps which would almost inevitably lead to war.

At the same time any action which might lead to war is strongly opposed by a big section of parliament — it would almost certainly be opposed by the general public if it knew what is going on — by a majority of the cabinet, and, above all, by the general staf.

The thesis of the general staf is that the French army thinks the Maginot line of fortifications is strong enough to check any German attack at this time, but is not adapted to offensive war.

Duel Behind Scenes.

With diplomatic interest shifted to London owing to the departure of Flandin for the Locarno pact conference tomorrow, the duel behind the scenes between these two conflicting reactions to Reichsfuehrer Hitler's occupation of the demilitarized zone of the Rhineland appears to be the key to this country's position in the latest European crisis.

The "hit Germany before she is too strong" school of thought may be strengthened by the expected adjournment of the chamber of deputies tomorow, thus stifling the prudence party during the most critical phase of the crisis.

One highly placed, responsible official summarized the philosophy of this group when he said:

"If we let Hitler get away with this he will be so strong in a short time there will be no stopping him. At the moment Germany is weak, both militarily and economically. There should be no need for military sanctions. Economic sanctions would ruin Germany and bring about the downfall of the Hitler régime in a short time."

Ready for Any Kind of Sanctions.

For this school of thought the question of military or economic sanctions is purely a question of expediency. They are prepared to take either.

THE TRIBUNE's revelation last night that Foreign Minister Flandin had asked Great Britain to join France in military sanctions should Hitler fortify the demilitarized zone was vaguely denied in some official quarters today by the statement that no military sanctions were discussed, but only "military assistance."

An official spokesman admitted, however, that if Germany did fortify the Rhineland this would create a "very grave situation." The denial sounded more like confirmation, and the information amply was confirmed in well informed and nonofficial quarters.

Second Report Denied.

On the other hand, report that Flandin might negotiate with Hitler under certain conditions, even if all troops were not withdrawn from the Rhineland, was denied in an official communique. Flandin, just before leaving for London, told a French correspondent there was nothing in the story and then added as an afterthought, "for the moment."

The fact that the communique was published, however, was further indication of the strength of the Germanophobe school.

In the last analysis, the general staf seems to hold the balance. The army seems satisfied with the rapid and efficient occupation of the Maginot line of fortifications by the covering forces and considers there is no immediate danger from Germany.

At the moment, France has a class of half trained conscripts under arms —about 300,000 men—plus colonials and professionals, totaling slightly under 400,000. This is just enough, in the opinion of the general staf, to man the fortifications and provide the necessary reserves.

Censorship on military news is becoming increasingly severe. It was so stiff today that even incoming service messages to two American correspondents from New York offices were held up.

7 Nations Promise to Aid France Against Germany

GENEVA, March 11.—(AP)—Five nations, one of them Turkey, a German ally in the world war, agreed to back France today in her protest to the league of nations against Germany's militarization of the Rhineland.

This decision was taken at a meeting of the little and Balkan ententes over which Nicholas Titulescu, Rumanian foreign minister, presided.

Czechoslovakia, Rumania and Jugoslavia make up the little entente. Rumania and Jugo-Slavia also are members of the Balkan entente with Greece and Turkey.

Titulescu Leaves for London.

No communique was issued, but sources close to Titulescu said it was agreed in principle to support France in the Locarno crisis. Titulescu left tonight for London.

Soviet Russia was generally expected here also to back France.

Some comment was caused in league corridors by the fact the league has not yet posted any official notice that the council will meet Saturday in London instead of tomorrow in Geneva, as originally scheduled.

However, Joseph A. C. Avenol, secretary general of the league, and a number of other members of the secretariat prepared to entrain for England.

Belgium to Back France.

The premier of the tiny country which was among the most tragic sufferers in the world war advised the nation to remain calm.

Van Zeeland, who attended the Locarno conference in Paris yesterday, opened his address by saying:

"With common sense and cool resolution, in spite of the errors and past angers of the hour, we can spare our children the horrors, uncertainty, and misery which our generation had to bear."

Assails German Coup.

Van Zeeland pointed out that the Franco-soviet mutual military assistance pact, which Adolf Hitler gave as his reason for violating Locarno, does not concern Belgium and that Germany's repudiation of the pact is "unjustified" so far as this country is concerned.

"Should the Locarno powers fail to agree on the problems facing them," he said, "the worst consequences are possible for us, the whole world, and our civilization."

He pledged Belgium's allegiance to Locarno "until it is replaced by another accord between all interested parties."

Previously in the chamber session Deputy Raymond Foucart had suggested that Belgium expel all German subjects "except anti-Hitlerites" because of Germany's denunciation of Locarno.

Italy to Do Nothing.

ROME, March 11.—(AP)—Italy, an official spokesman said today, will adopt an attitude of "absolute reserve" at the London Locarno talks, refusing to collaborate with France and Britain as long as economic sanctions are applied against her.

[French officials admitted in Paris they had promised to lead a drive for the lifting of sanctions against Rome in exchange for Fascist support against Germany in the Locarno crisis.]

The spokesman added that any discussion of an African peace would have to be held over until at least a preliminary settlement had been reached in the Locarno crisis.

Italy is continuing to send supplics and men to Africa although she qualifiedly accepted a league plea to enter peace negotiations. The S. S. Principessa Maria sailed from Naples with 1,480 men and officers and the aircraft carrier Miraglia departed with 40 bombardment planes.

Soviet Asks United Front.

MOSCOW, March 11.—(AP)—An appeal for a united front at conversations of European powers on the Locarno treaty was launched tonight in the official press.

The newspapers treat the idea of a preventive war—where one of the Locarno signatories might attack Germany to prevent an attack on itself—as out of the question. They say it should be made clear to Germany that the nations surrounding her are in accord for a plan of collective security.

The organization of a "front of peace loving states" will be the only means to convince the Nazis that "everything is not to be permitted," Izvestia said.

Attacks Hitler Offer.

The paper called Hitler's offer of separate nonaggression pacts in eastern and western Europe an "attempt to divide possible adversaries [of Germany] and spread illusions among peace loving masses in order to gain time for the next fait accompli."

Without going to the extent of committing the soviet union to opposition to German reëntrance to the league of nations, the press commented with sarcasm on Hitler's readiness to return to Geneva.

The people of Europe, said Izvestia, must "collect their senses" and get together for collective security before the Germans "start throwing bombs from airplanes."

MRS. THIBODEAUX CITES EX-MATE FOR $3,510 DEBT

Circuit Judge Ralph J. Dady of Lake county yesterday issued a contempt citation for Page J. Thibodeaux, 7518 Malvern avenue, for failure to pay his former wife, Mrs. Dorothy Gardner Thibodeaux, a total of $3,510 toward the support of their son, Page Jr.

The couple were divorced in December, 1931, on the wife's charge of desertion, and Thibodeaux was ordered to pay $15 a week to the support of the child, who is now 9 years old. He has paid nothing, according to his wife.

Mrs. Thibodeaux, who resides at 287 Central avenue, Highland Park, is the daughter of the late Frank Gleason Gardner, who was treasurer of the Chicago Title and Trust company.

Sweitzer Granted Delay to Answer Shortage Suit

Robert M. Sweitzer, former county official who was ousted from public office last June following discovery of a shortage of $533,817 in his accounts, was granted an extension yesterday until Monday in which to file his answer to the county's civil suit in Circuit court for recovery of the money. His answer was due yesterday, but Louis Rosenfeld, his counsel, asked Judge Michael Feinberg for the extension on the ground that the answer of the United States Fidelity & Guaranty company, also a defendant as surety while Sweitzer was county clerk for twenty-four years, was not due until that date.

HITLER MAKES TRIUMPHAL VISIT TO RHINE TODAY

Big Army Show Planned to Hail Nazi Leader.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, March 11.—Reichsfuehrer Hitler's first visit to the remilitarized zone to review his troops and accept the tributes of tens of thousands of Rhinelanders eager to thank him for restoring their military sovereignty will take place tomorrow in Karlsruhe. Hitler will make an address tomorrow night.

No soldiers were visible on the streets of Karlsruhe or Heidelberg, which started a report that the troops of the entire district have barrack orders, while other reports claim that leaves also have been canceled, according to reports.

First Army Display Since 1918.

Karlsruhe, barely twelve miles from the Alsatian border—it is one of the few cities of Germany which was bombed by enemy planes during the world war—is prepared to give Hitler a tremendous patriotic ovation.

It will be the Rhineland's first big German military display since 1918.

In Kehl, near by, opposite the French city of Strasbourg, quiet reigns. French customs men in dark blue uniforms with red striped trousers and German customs men in green uniforms fraternize quietly. A few curious persons have come from nearby cities to watch the doings of their neighbors on the quiet river bank.

Traveling around the remilitarized zone, THE TRIBUNE correspondent heard the same thought expressed over and over: "Boy, we have certainly got the French worried," or "Even big fortifications can't prevent the French from worrying because they know that if things ever broke again the fortifications would be worthless. They could be pumped full of water and that would finish them."

70 Special Trains.

Officials in the Rhineland say such talk is ridiculous, but the people are enjoying it.

Seventy special trains will carry the population from all parts of the Rhineland and Baden to Karlsruhe tomorrow.

This evening Hitler hastened back from the Bavarian Alps to Berlin with his counselor on foreign affairs, Joachim von Ribbentrop, to discuss the situation with the other members of the government. They are seriously alarmed by reports from Paris and queries from London.

The cabinet is deciding on its reply to the London inquiries, which asked that Germany guarantee she will not build fortifications in the Rhineland but be satisfied with garrisons, including artillery, and an air force.

Most members of the government hold the restriction would represent "continued discrimination against Germany" and therefore would not be acceptable to the Hitler régime.

The Nazis also heatedly reject the suggestion of submitting their quarrel with France about scrapping the Locarno treaty to arbitration courts.

Will Snub League Council.

In a conversation with the British ambassador, Foreign Minister Konstantin von Neurath declared Germany will send no representatives to the council of the league of nations when it meets in London because "we do not want to create the impression Germany is sitting on the bench of the accused."

More optimistic Nazi circles asserted Germany came to an understanding with London, which "extended a formal invitation to Von Ribbentrop. He will avail himself of this invitation only when the Paris and Geneva storm has somewhat subsided and the worst stumbling blocks to an understanding have been removed."

BRITISH NAVY BARES ANOTHER SABOTAGE CASE IN DOCKYARD

LONDON, March 11.—(AP)—Lord Stanley, financial secretary of the admiralty, disclosed another case of suspected sabotage in the British navy to the house of commons today.

The latest case, he said, occurred in a private dockyard carrying out admiralty work. Six cases of sabotage already had been announced.

Lord Stanley said the damage was slight, although potentially serious. Admiralty officials said they believed the epidemic of sabotage was the work of cranks rather than foreigners.

Brookfield Chimpanzee Starts on Second Month

Under the care of his mother, Sally, little Adam, prize baby chimpanzee at the Chicago Zoölogical gardens in Brookfield, began his second month of life yesterday. Director Edward Bean said he had high hopes that Adam would become one of the few chimpanzees ever born and raised in America.

Ex-Orchestra Leader Tries Suicide; Critically Wounded

Angelo F. Admiralli, 57 years old, former orchestra leader, who shot himself three times in a suicide attempt early yesterday, was in a serious condition last night at the Chicago hospital. He was found in his living quarters at the rear of a music store at 4355 Cottage Grove avenue, where he worked as a repair man.

EX-POLICE CHIEF TELLS WIDE OPEN DAYS IN STICKNEY

He Confronts Loeffler in Malfeasance Trial.

BY VIRGINIA GARDNER.

This was the reason given by William G. Loeffler, village president of Stickney, for granting a license to the proprietor of the Nut House, a resort at 4225 Harlem avenue, according to the testimony yesterday of Louis Marek, Stickney's former police chief. Marek testified in the Criminal court of Judge Robert C. O'Connell at the trial of Loeffler, who is charged with malfeasance in office.

Summoned by the state, the former police chief described a conference held last summer, during which Capt. Daniel Gilbert, chief investigator for the state's attorney, ordered Loeffler to "clean up" Stickney. Gilbert asked specifically why a license had been granted for operation of the Nut House.

Ordered to Clean Up Resorts.

"I don't care if he is a good vote getter," Marek quoted Gilbert as replying to Loeffler's explanation. "I want you to clean out the bookies and the Silver Slipper [taxi dance hall at 3943 South Harlem avenue.]"

According to Marek, the village president said, "I never see anything wrong happening in those places," and the captain replied: "You never will. But clean them out."

"Afterwards I said, 'Mr. Mayor [Loeffler, though village president, was called mayor], things are getting pretty hot. You'd better cut out these houses of prostitution and the gambling.' But he said, 'O, forget it. What's the matter—are you scared?'"

In addition to Marek's testimony the court later in the day heard a graphic description of the wild scenes that followed two early morning raids on one of the resorts by county highway police. This was in support of Marek's statements that Stickney had been "wide open."

Marek said he served as police chief from Aug. 15, 1933, until July 29, 1935, when Loeffler fired him for raiding slot machines. He got $150 a month and had a force consisting of one lieutenant and one sergeant.

One Raid; One Arrest.

"During the whole time you were in office you made only one arrest and one raid?" asked Assistant State's Attorney William Lancaster, as Marek concluded his direct testimony. Marek replied that was true.

Under questioning of the prosecutor, Marek described Stickney's "wide open" days. He named the houses of prostitution which had operated in the suburb while he was police chief. His list included Mike Ness' place, 3909 Harlem avenue, two doors north of the Silver Slipper; the Rendezvous at 6928 Pershing road, and the Ace of Clubs, 4038 South Park avenue. Gambling was included at the Ace of Clubs, he said.

On July 29, 1935, he seized two slot machines in the Silver Slipper, the former chief said, and locked them up in the police station.

Encounter with "The Mayor."

"Then my lieutenant and I went to the Nut House to seize slot machines there," he said. "They had too good a watch, though. They got them out of the way. I was coming out of a back room, where I'd gone to look for them, when I met the mayor [Loeffler] coming in.

"'What the hell do you think you're doing?' he asked. I says, 'What I'm supposed to be doing.' He says, 'You're fired.'"

Under cross-examination by Attorney Louis Golan, counsel for Loeffler, Marek admitted that in 1927, 1928, and 1929, when he was an employé of the sanitary district, he operated a tavern and made liquor, some of which he sold to sanitary district employés when he was at work.

A Highway Police Raid.

Conditions of extreme confusion in and around the Rendezvous after county highway police raided it on Dec. 10, 1934, were described by Chief Lester J. Laird, their leader. Getting into the club was a slow process, he said. Once in, Laird looked out a window and saw two girls and a man running across the snow-covered prairie adjacent, he said. They apparently had jumped out of an open window.

On Dec. 16, 1934, at 2 a. m., he again raided the place, this time smashing down the doors.

"I saw a lady who had nothing on," he said severely, "pull on a dress, and a man hastily putting on his trousers. I arrested these two. I looked out a window and saw others running through the snow.

"I pursued them, and behind a garage there was a man, with his clothes lying beside him in the snow. He was standing on one foot and pulling a sock on the other foot."

More About the Silver Slipper.

Another witness yesterday gave an academic description of the dancing he saw in the Silver Slipper during its heydey in September, 1934. The witness was Ronald Kayser, 58 West Goethe street, who described himself as a writer and a former investigator for the Juvenile Protective association.

Although Kayser's description of the dancing lacked the bluntness that marked the testimony the day before of Marcia O'Hara, a former "hostess" at the Silver Slipper, it was never the less listened to eagerly by the courtroom crowd. On cross-examination Kayser said that his investigating work was "very tiresome," but admitted, with a wave of the hand:

GARMENT UNION APPROVES NEW WAGE CONTRACT

A new three year wage and hour contract with the Chicago Association of Dress Manufacturers was approved yesterday by 6,000 members of the Chicago joint council of the International Ladies' Garment Workers union, meeting at the Ashland boulevard auditorium. According to M. A. Goldstein, secretary-treasurer of the council, the contract calls for an increase in wages ranging from 50 cents to $2 a week, minimum wages of from $14.50 to $41 a week, a 35 hour week, four holidays a year with pay, and a closed shop. The new agreement also sets up an impartial board for arbitration of trade disputes.

ETHIOPIA CLAIMS 50 KILLED IN BOMB RAID ON TOWN

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia, March 11.—(AP)—Ethiopian reports said today 50 persons, including 30 women, were killed and 85 wounded in a bombing raid by 12 Italian planes yesterday on Debra Markos, capital of Northwestern Gojjam province. Some American missionaries are stationed at Debra Markos.

Again Protest Bombings.

GENEVA, March 11.—(AP)—Another telegram arrived from Ethiopia today protesting against what was described as new bombardments of a British Red Cross ambulance unit near Quoram, on the northern front, March 5.

"In view of the bombardments of the two previous days Italy cannot deny knowledge of the exact position of the ambulance," said the protest.

Alabama Minister Found Slain; Two Suspects Held

Tuscaloosa, Ala., March 11.—(AP)—The body of the Rev. John Pate, 70, rural Baptist minister, was found in a shallow grave near his home today after an all night search, and officers arrested two men on charges of murder. Sherif Festus Shamblin said one of the men, Edgar Skelton, 35, confessed he and a man held as James Franklin killed the minister in a robbery attempt.

MOTHER SEEKS WRIT TO OBTAIN CUSTODY OF SON

Mrs. Emma Johnson, 30 years old, of Wilmington, Ill., filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus in the Circuit court yesterday to obtain custody of her son, John, 11 years old. The defendant is Joseph Hoffman, salesman for a motor company at 4341 Grand avenue.

Mrs. Johnson is the widow of Joseph Johnson, who died last June 21. According to the petition, Johnson enlisted in the army in 1927 and the boy was placed with Hoffman, who was paid $1,500 for the child's care by Johnson before he died.

Hearing on the petition was set for tomorrow morning before Judge Michael Feinberg.

Wants 'Round and Round' Profit to Come Out Here

Ernest Palmquist, 29 years old, an orchestra leader whose home is in Green Bay, Wis., filed a suit yesterday in the Circuit court declaring he is the composer of "The Music Goes 'Round and Around," and demanding an accounting of all profits which the song has yielded.

The suit, drawn by Attorney Morton Jacobson, names as defendants "Red" Hodgson, Edward Farley, and Michael Riley, who have claimed authorship, and others who have acquired an interest in the piece.

CONDON ON WAY HOME; FACES NEW LINDY QUESTIONS

Arrest Is Demanded by Hauptmann Lawyer.

Trenton, N. J., March 11.—[Special.]—The arrest of Dr. John F. [Jafsie] Condon, "unless he names Bruno Richard Hauptman's accomplices" on the day his ship docks in New York City, was demanded this afternoon by Hauptmann's chief counsel, Lloyd Fisher.

The liner Santa Inez, on which Jafsie unexpectedly sailed yesterday to face his critics, is scheduled to arrive on March 17. Approximately two weeks later Bruno is doomed to die in the chair for the murder of Charles A. Lindbergh Jr.

Fisher's statement was issued shortly after Gov. Harold G. Hoffman's aides had disclosed that unless recalcitrant Col. H. Norman Schwarzkopf, head of the New Jersey state police, takes steps to question the aged Bronx educator immediately on his arrival, the governor's own private investigators will do so.

"There must be an arrest in the Lindbergh-Hauptmann case on the day Dr. Condon's ship arrives," Fisher declared in Flemington. "Either the New Jersey state police should force Jafsie to name the man he described as building the kidnap-ladder for $14, provide his address, and identify him after apprehension, or else Jafsie himself should be taken in custody on charges of obstructing justice."

Fisher also declared that Jafsie's various contradictory statements, unless clarified before Hauptmann's execution day arrives, would be the basis for requesting a second stay of execution.

"Hauptmann," Fisher added, "has asked to talk to Jafsie in the death house. That request for a conference in jail is hereby renewed."

WOMAN IS FINED $50 FOR CALLNG LAWYER A LIAR

Mrs. Alice Janacek, 36 years old, 1815 South 55th court, Cicero, was fined $50 for contempt yesterday by Judge Rudolph F. Desort in the Superior court when she called Attorney David H. Greenberg a liar.

Mrs. Janacek had brought suit to set aside the divorce won in 1934 by her first husband, Joseph Placek Jr. In 1935 Placek was killed in an automobile accident. He left $1,500 of insurance. This estate is claimed by Mrs. Inez May Placek, 25 years old, 1817 South 50th court, Cicero, whom Placek married after his divorce.

Mrs. Janacek hopes, however, to be declared Placek's widow. She alleged he had never given her formal notice of their divorce. Under questioning by Attorney Greenberg, counsel for Mrs. Placek, Mrs. Janacek admitted marrying her present husband, Jerry Janacek, in 1932, in the belief that she had been divorced from Placek. Mrs. Janacek called Greenberg a liar when he inferred she had falsified her second marriage license in not mentioning her first marriage. The hearing was continued for a week after Mrs. Janacek paid the fine.

Mayor Kelly Appoints Two to City Commission Posts

Mayor Kelly yesterday appointed Mrs. Charles Balch, 7030 Stewart avenue, a member of the Chicago Recreation commission, and C. R. Smith, president of the American Aviation company, a member of the Chicago Aero commission. Mrs. Balch is state recreation chairman of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers. The appointments were confirmed by the city council.

Nazis Order Jewish Butter Concern to Quit Business

BERLIN, March 11.—(AP)—Nazi officials ordered a large Jewish butter firm to close today. Police said the butter merchants had systematically supplied their product to Jewish retailers during the recent butter shortage and had refused to serve Aryans. The firm was forbidden to trade further in the reich and its staf was distributed in other companies by the labor front.

Choked Wife to Show Love, Doctor Says in British Trial

MANCHESTER, England, March 11.—(AP)—Dr. Buck Ruxton, Indian blooded physician accused of slaying his wife and nursemaid, testified today that when he squeezed his wife's neck "it was no violence, it was all loving."

Punctuated by bursts of emotional exclamations and uncontroled sobbing, the doctor's testimony occupied most of the day before Defense Counsel Norman Birkett rested his case.

"It is suggested that you killed your wife," Birkett said.

The doctor burst into sobs and replied, "It is a deliberate and fantastic story."

"It is suggested also that you killed Mary Jane Rogerson."

Never Saw "Devil's Beef-tub."

Dr. Ruxton was asked whether he had ever visited the "Devil's Beef-tub" ravine, hiding place of Scottish cattle rustlers, where the dismembered bodies of two women were found done up in packages.

"Most emphatically never! Never in my life!" he cried.

He said he last saw Mrs. Ruxton with Miss Rogerson on the morning of last Sept. 15. At that time, he said, they were leaving the house, telling him they were going to Edinburgh. It was fifteen days later that the bodies were found.

The doctor told the jury he and his wife were "the sort of people who couldn't live with each other and couldn't live without each other."

When he was questioned about the testimony of a prosecution witness that he once had been seen with his hands around his wife's throat, he said:

"It was exactly the reverse. I was squeezing my Belle. She said, 'O, let me go!'" Then he said in French, "Who loves most, chastizes most."

A moment before Dr. Ruxton had testified that he and his wife sometimes quarreled, but insisted the tiffs lasted "only two or three hours."

"Every time a quarrel arose I paid dearly for it." He explained that following the disputes Mrs. Ruxton often would ask him why they "kicked up a row" and then inquire: "How do you think I'd look in a blue suit or a blue costume?"

Straw Was for Game.

Ruxton explained to the jury that the straw which littered the floors of his home—which the crown asserts was used to soak up blood from the two slayings—was used by his three children "to play Father Christmas." He repeated his assertion that the trail of blood in his house was spilled when he cut his hand on a can opener and dashed from his wife's bedroom to the bathroom.

In response to Birkett's questions, the physician suggested that his wife had gone to Holland without a passport as she had done once before.

Asked what kind of a girl Miss Rogerson was, Ruxton replied:

"She was the sort of a girl who was loyal, who would stand by her master."

"Then why isn't she standing by you today?" the prosecutor persisted.

"My dear sir," the doctor retorted, "I'm very sorry, but I cannot fathom the inscrutable workings of providence."

CANADA YOUTH FOUND GUILTY IN 'BABY DOLL' PLOT WITH 3 DEATHS

DORCHESTER, New Brunswick, March 11.—(AP)—Arthur Bannister, 20 year old lumberjack, today was convicted of murder in the weird "baby doll murder-kidnap" case—a conviction carrying a mandatory sentence of death.

Bannister, cracking jokes, was sent back to his cell to await the trial of his brother, Daniel, 18, on a similar charge. Then their mother, Mrs. May Bannister, will be tried on a charge of kidnaping and planning a plot which ended in the death of three persons and abduction of a 6 months old girl.

The crown contends Bannister murdered Philip Lake, a squatter, Lake's commonlaw wife, and their infant son so that his mother could gain possession of the baby girl in order to deceive two male friends. She had told the men she had become a mother so she might extort money from them, the prosecution asserted. Before the alleged kidnaping, the prosecution asserts, Mrs. Bannister walked through the streets with a bundled up baby doll and then was faced with the necessity of securing a real baby to continue her deception.

Reports Bogan's Condition Improving After Relapse

William J. Bogan, superintendent of schools, who suffered a relapse Tuesday night in his home at 741 Gordon terrace, where he has been recuperating from a severe attack of hiccoughs, was reported improving last night. Dr. Sylvan Coombs, his physician, said that Mr. Bogan was able to take light meals during the day.

U. S. ARMY A BIG CHICAGO FACTOR, SAYS GEN. M'COY

The United States army, through its headquarters here, spends between 40 and 50 million dollars annually in Chicago and vicinity, Maj. Gen. Frank R. McCoy, commander of the Sixth corps area, told a luncheon meeting of the Chicago Association of Commerce yesterday at the Hotel Sherman.

"Measured by its expenditures," he said, "the army is one of the big businesses in Chicago. In addition to most all the supplies for the army and National Guard, the headquarters here buys the clothing and other supplies for all the CCC camps between the Alleghany and the Rocky mountains."

Reviewing other military activities of the last few years, Gen. McCoy said that the entire army is now undergoing a reorganization as a result of the high speed of motorized transportation.

Commission Approves New Bus-Elevated TransferPoint

The Illinois commerce commission yesterday approved an additional transfer point in the joint transfer system now in effect between the elevated lines and those of the Chicago Motor Coach company. The commission ordered the motor coach company to reroute its Lunt avenue line so riders can transfer to the elevated at the Rogers Park elevated station. The new transfer point, bringing the total to twenty-eight, will be added within thirty days.

TWO SENTENCED FOR BURGLARY.

Municipal Judge J. M. Braude yesterday sentenced William Meyers, 21 years old, 5053 South Wells street, and John Finn, 19 years old, 5047 South Wells street, to six months each in the Bridewell and fined them $200 for breaking into a grocery store.

NAZI RULE SET UP IN PARAGUAY; FOES FACE PURGE

Army Leader Assumes Role of Hitler.

ASUNCION, Paraguay, March 11.—(AP)—The provisional government of Paraguay, headed by Col. Rafael Franco, today published a decree setting up the nation as a totalitarian state modeled after German National Socialism and Italian Fascism.

The decree declared the state and the "liberating revolution" of Feb. 17 as indivisible and banned for one year political, labor, or other unions which "do not emanate explicitly from the state."

Paraguay, the government asserted, will be purged of "endemic, demagogic, industrial, and sectarian evils."

Political Activity Banned.

The aims of the new government, the decree said, will be the construction of a new, strong Paraguay and constitutional reorganization for a future republic.

The decree declared:

"1. The liberating revolution of Feb. 17, 1936, is declared identified with the republic of Paraguay.

"2. The liberating revolution of Feb. 17, 1936, as identified with the state will from today mobilize the voluntary concourse of all citizens of the republic and integral realization of its permanent ends directly by organs of the state.

"3. All activity of a political character, organization of a party syndicate, created interests or interests which may be created of a political nature within the nation which do not emanate explicitly from the state or revolution as identified with the state are prohibited for a term of one year.

"4. Under the jurisdiction of the minister of the interior are placed all questions of politics or society of the state as identified with the liberating revolution, comprehending relations or conflicts between labor and capital, and necessities of workers and laborers as equally with those of employers.

"5. A committee of civil mobilization is created to effect fulfillment of article two.

"6. A national labor department is created under effects foreseen in article four.

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, March 11.—The action of the provisional government of Paraguay in decreeing a Fascist dictatorship took the Chaco peace conference by surprise as it was drawing up a note recognizing the Franco régimé. This joint note was intended to be presented to the Paraguayan foreign office by the diplomatic representatives of Argentina, Brazil, Chile, Peru, the United States, and Uruguay. It declared that one of the reasons for extending diplomatic recognition to the provisional government was Franco's promise to respect democratic principles.

PRIESTS FLEEING SPAIN IN FEAR OF MOB ATTACKS

Nuns and Students Go to Places of Hiding.

MADRID, March 11.—(AP)—Catholic priests and nuns, threatened with violence as political disturbances since the February elections continued in central and southern Spain, were fleeing for the frontier and other points of safety tonight.

At Madrid, Seville, Malaga, and other cities the clerics were reported abandoning their rectories and convents, and resident students were being returned to their homes after extremists threatened to burn religious schools. An Irish convent school in Madrid abandoned classes and suspended sessions indefinitly.

Wave of Burnings.

The wave of convent and church burnings has been much more widespread than that which followed the overthrow of the monarchy in April, 1931. More than 30 churches and convents have been attacked.

In Seville, nuns have disguised themselves in ordinary dress and removed sacred relics and other religious object to places of concealment.

Strong forces of police and civil guards patroled the Madrid suburb of Vallecas, where rioters earlier in the day looted a number of business establishments.

Guards were stationed at churches and convents in the capital, while nuns remaining within convent walls barred the entrances and dressed in street clothes.

Trainload Leaves.

It was understood that a trainload of nuns left for points in northern Spain, where they will be given refuge in private homes. A number of nuns were reported to have crossed the borders to Gibraltar, France, and Portugal.

Madrid university suspended classes indefinitly as a result of extremist attacks.

Asked if reports that a number of persons had been killed in disorders at Granada were correct Premier Manuel Azana replied, "That must have been in Ethiopia."

Meanwhile the government maintained strict censorship, not permitting the Spanish press to mention disorders. The ministry of interior issued periodic bulletins reporting that "tranquility" continued unbroken throughout Spain.

Pour Into Gibraltar.

GIBRALTAR, March 11.—(AP)—The vanguard of a stream of refugee nuns from towns of Andalusia, Spain, arrived here this evening.

MINISTERS URGE COLORED CHURCH FOLK TO REGISTER

Members of the nearly 300 Negro churches of Chicago are being urged to register on March 17, or make certain that they are already registered, by a group of 23 colored ministers enlisted as a civic, nonpartisan committee.

The letter urging them to register reads as follows: "Knowing that the ballot is a most powerful weapon for defense and group achievements, we make this special appeal to our Negro citizens of Chicago.

"Every opportunity to vote is vital to you. This opportunity can be seized by you only through registering. In a democracy such as ours, issues are settled by the ballot. Great issues are to be decided this year. Your welfare is at stake. The welfare of the nation is in the balance. Your future as well as your present welfare seriously confronts you. Citizens everywhere are awakening to the vital issues of the hour. You can help in this decision by casting your ballot."

The letter emphasizes that the polling places will be open from 8 a. m. to 9 p. m. on March 17 for registration.

Warants Issued for 300 Drivers Lacking Licenses

Judge John Gutknecht of the Trafic court issued warants yesterday for 300 motorists who failed to appear on charges of not having their state and city licenses. On March 3 Judge Gutknecht sent letters to 400 motorists asking them to come to court and pay $1 fines for the violations. Only 100 have appeared. The judge said when the others are brought in on the warants they will have to pay $5 fines.

DRIVES THROUGH SIGNAL; GRAVELY INJURES AUTOIST

Junior at Northwestern Held by Police.

(Pictures on back page.)

David Garrick, 21 years old, 1812 Chicago avenue, Evanston, a junior at Northwestern university, was held by the Rogers Park police yesterday on a charge of driving his automobile through a trafic sign and seriously injuring another motorist.

The victim, Albert J. Strohm, 40 years old, 2124 Chase avenue, organist and choir director of St. Paul's Church by the Lake, was taken to Rogers Park hospital suffering from a skull fracture. Physicians said his condition was critical.

Ignores Touhy Street Sign.

The accident occurred at the intersection of Clark street and Touhy avenue. Witnesses told police that Garrick, driving south in Clark street, failed to stop for Touhy avenue, a stop street. Strohm was driving west in Touhy avenue. The impact turned his car around and he was thrown through the windshield.

Strohm has been organist for the church during the last 20 years. He is secretary of the Chicago Choir Masters association and has composed several hymns. Three years ago he was awarded the first prize in a city wide contest for his composition of new music for the hymn "Brightest and Best."

Only Shifted Gears.

Police said Garrick admitted he had not come to a full stop, but claimed he had shifted to second speed and was proceeding across the street when he struck Strohm's car. The young man was questioned as to why his car bore no license plates. He declared he had purchased the car—a second hand model—two days ago and had not had time to apply for the plates.

At the Rogers Park station, where he was held, Garrick was visited by a young woman who gave her name as Blanche Byrnes, a sophomore at Northwestern university. She told Policeman John Geary she was Garrick's wife, that she and Garrick eloped to Crown Point two weeks ago and were married under assumed names. Questioned later, however, she and Garrick denied they were married.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 184 persons had been killed in trafic accidents in Cook county since Jan. 1. In the same period this year 154 were killed and 2,721 injured within the Chicago city limits.

Adelore Danis, 53 years old, 12828 South Lincoln street, Blue Island, a hostler for the Indiana Harbor Belt railroad, died last night in St. Francis hospital of injuries incurred yesterday morning when he was struck by the automobile of Dr. Eugene A. Thayer, 7855 South Halsted street.

OFFERS CIGARET SMOKE WITHOUT STRIKING LIGHT

Electric Heat Applied to Tobacco Oils.

TORONTO, March 11.—(AP)—Fireless cigarets, cigars, and pipes, in which the tobacco smokes, but never burns, were announced today by W. J. McCormick. They smoke by electric heaters which take advantage of a peculiar combustion difference between the nicotine and the other substances forming tobacco.

The inventor, a physician who does not smoke, discovered the difference while making laboratory experiments on effects of nicotine on laboratory animals.

He noted that the nicotine and its aromatic products in tobacco are in the form of an oil which turns into smoke at a lower temperature than that of burning tobacco. He found that electric heaters, set so as never to ignite the tobacco, will convert the nicotine and aromatics into smoke.

Must Plug In.

The heaters are two types. For pipes they are built into the bowls. For cigars and cigarets they are holder shaped ovens into which the entire cigar or cigaret is thrust. The smoker has to have his pipe or holder plugged into a light or other electrical connection.

All the nicotine which the smoker likes, Dr. McCormick says, is obtained by the fireless method.

"The smoke," he says, "is not quite so dense as ordinary cigaret or cigar smoke, and does not seem to linger in the atmosphere in visible form.

"When the smoker temporarily discontinues smoking the tobacco does not continue to be consumed and give off smoke as does the cigaret on the ash tray—and there are no unused butts discarded.

Leaves Peculiar Ash.

"The surprising difference is the residue left by this method. The cigar, cigaret or pipe tobacco retains its same form after the fumes are liberated electrically, but of course is very fragile and brittle.

"In ordinary combustion of tobacco temperatures run up to 1,800 F. and many chemical reactions take place. Smokers have been inhaling the products of combustion and high temperature distillation, along with the aromatic and volatile elements of the tobacco, when in reality only the latter were desired."

ROB PHONE COLLECTOR OF $65.

HUNT SUSPECTS IN SHOOTING OF POLICEMAN HERO

Wabash avenue police were rounding up suspects yesterday in their search for the two colored holdup men who early in the day wounded Policeman John Dawe and then made their escape after a gun battle. Dawe and Policeman Michael O'Connor opened fire on the two gunmen whom they saw holding up Orrie Branch, 35 years old, colored, in an alley near 44th street and Wabash avenue. In the exchange of shots Dawe was struck in the groin and the hand. He was taken to the Chicago hospital, where it was said he would recover. Policeman Dawe was given a TRIBUNE hero award two years ago when he and two other policemen shot and killed three ex-convicts who had barricaded themselves in a room.

NOBODY CAN BELIEVE THIS THE FIRST TIME

But just Try this Way of Making Ordinary Wave Last for Weeks! Saves Time, Trouble, Money

If your hair is hard to arrange, this will save time.

And if you have your hair waved it will save you money.

If your hairshafts are flat a wave will last for weeks. For many days, with hair of any type. Your hair will arrange easier, stay all day as you arranged it, and look better all the time.

Danderine positively does this — without any help from you! A few drops on your brush or comb, and it's done. Danderine's active formula does the rest.

A dash of Danderine daily will keep your hair so clean it will fairly shine. There will be no greasy accumulation on the scalp. Dandruff scale will go quickly because Danderine will dissolve it. And this stimulation has a salutary effect on dull, faded hair — gives it life and lustre.

Try a 35c bottle of Danderine; or the largest size; money back if you are not delighted.

SPANGLER URGES ROOSEVELT DROP NEW TAX PLANS

Clean Up Relief and Levy Is Unneeded, He Says.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

A telegram urging President Roosevelt to abandon his program for new taxes on the ground that if politics were cut out of relief the proposed new taxes would be unnecessary was sent to the White House yesterday by Harrison E. Spangler of Iowa, director of western headquarters of the Republican national committee at the Palmer house.

In his appeal Mr. Spangler declares that the New Deal proposal for a new $1,600,000,000 tax bill is working havoc in business and holding recovery back. He says new taxes are unnecessary, and that if boondoggling is eliminated and useless projects under alphabetical agencies are abandoned, and 250,000 burocrats, put on the pay roll through Postmaster General Farley, are discharged no new tax load will be required.

"If you will take politics and waste out of relief you can save more than the amount of your new tax bill," the President is told.

Text of Spangler's Telegram.

"The demand which you are making on congress for a new tax bill of one billion six hundred million dollars is already having a disastrous effect on the business of the country," said Mr. Spangler in his telegram. "If it or any substitute for it is enacted recovery will be further retarded and the cost of living for the common people of the country will mount higher and higher. The ultimate burden of all taxes is on the shoulders of the common man of America.

"You well stated in an address at Pittsburgh during the 1932 campaign: 'Taxes are paid in the sweat of every man who labors because they are a burden on production. If excessive they are reflected in idle factories, tax sold farms, and hence in hordes of the hungry tramping the streets and seeking jobs in vain.'

Tax Demand Is Shock.

"In view of the fact that you have repeatedly assured the country during the last three years that no new taxes would be levied, your present demand for such a huge increase in tax burdens comes as a shock to the country.

"You ascribed the need for the money to loss of revenue from the pernicious sales taxes on the food and clothing of the poor, which taxes were sugar coated under the name of 'processing taxes.' You have further stated that these new taxes are necessary to pay our veterans their adjusted compensation.

"The country looks upon such statements as excuses and not reasons. The farm program can be financed and the bonus paid by economizing and the proper diversion of funds allocated to useless projects.

Cites 1932 Platform Pledge.

"The people well know that if you will retrace your steps along the long road of perilous and wasteful spending which has characterized your administration new burdens upon our people, except to pay the debt and the interest thereon which you have already piled up, will be unnecessary.

"If you will go back to your platform of 1932, which you solemnly pledged to carry out, you can save the taxpayers more money than the amount your proposed new taxes will take from them.

"Instead of demanding your new taxes, if you will refer to the platform which pledged you to cut the cost of government 25 per cent, by abolishing useless commissions and offices, it might be helpful. In this I further suggest that since the number of independent commissions disguised by the alphabet has increased from thirty-seven to eighty under your administration you rededicate yourself to that platform and proceed immediately to abolish the many offices which the country knows to be useless and superfluous.

Urges Discharge of 250,000.

"I further suggest that in keeping with the promises of yourself and the party which elected you that you cut costs by now discharging 250,000 of the new political appointees which you, through your Farley, have placed upon the pay rolls since your inauguration.

"Furthermore, Mr. President, it would be helpful if you would keep your promise to cut costs by eliminating the many thousands of useless, wasteful and extravagant boondoggling projects which are cluttering up the landscape out here on the prairies and throughout the country generally.

"More than the amount of your proposed new taxes can be saved if your administration will at once stop playing politics witn the poor and needy on relief. Before your political machine took charge of relief, it was efficiently and economically managed by local nonpartisan administrators at less than half of the huge amounts now being taken from the treasury for that purpose.

Hits Political Mercenaries.

"Impartial surveys prove that those on relief under that system were better fed and better clothed than they are now. The amount of money which vanishes between the time it leaves the treasury and the time the remnant reaches those on relief is appalling. In some cases only one dollar out of every three reaches the unfortunate. The balance is wasted or retained by political mercenaries.

"While I am a member of the Republican party, this message and these suggestions are not partisan. My party desires at all times to be helpful in any possible way to put the American people on the road to happiness and prosperity."

GOV. HORNER AND HIS 'SLATE' ADDRESS FOUR QUINCY GATHERINGS

Quincy, Ill., March 11.—[Special.]—Escorted here from Pittsfield late this afternoon by a caravan of 35 automobiles and met at the city limits by other cars filled with Horner supporters and a band, Gov. Henry Horner and his associates, John Cassidy for lieutenant governor, Mat Adams for auditor, and Joseph Spiker for state treasurer, were greeted by large crowds at four gatherings here tonight.

In response to an invitation the executive made a brief appearance at the annual convention of the Illinois Beverage Dealers association in session here, and afterward addressed an audience of 1,000 voters at the Empire theater.

The candidates also addressed large audiences today in the courthouses at Winchester and Pittsfield.

GIRL RECOVERING; BLAMES 7 STORY PLUNGE ON DRINK

Miss Patricia Drew, 23 years old, of Pittsburgh, was recovering last night from injuries suffered Tuesday afternoon when she plunged from the tenth floor of the Commonwealth hotel, 2757 Pine Grove avenue, to a wire mesh skylight covering on the third floor. She was removed from the North Chicago hospital to the psychopathic hospital.

"It was due to drink," she said. "I don't want to cause hurt or embarrassment to my relatives and friends."

Miss Drew declared she regretted mentioning the name of Paul Mellon, son of Andrew Mellon, Pittsburgh capitalist, in her first incoherent statement to police. Although the Mellon family disclaimed acquaintance with her, she insisted she once knew Paul Mellon. She said her father was Dr. Zenia Drew, a Pittsburgh physician, who died 14 years ago. Her mother is also dead.

BEL AIR, MD., CHURCH BURNS.

Bel Air, Md., March 11.—(AP)—The 54 year old Bel Air Presbyterian church and practically all of its furnishings were destroyed early today by fire. The stone edifice, of gothic architecture, was valued at approximately $75,000.

JUDGE FISHER'S SON IS OUSTED IN HORNER RIFT

Resignation Is Viewed as Governor's Reprisal.

BY PERCY WOOD.

The rift between Gov. Horner and his longtime friend, Judge Harry M. Fisher of the Circuit court, was revealed yesterday when Public Administrator Martin J. O'Brien, a Horner appointee, announced that he had accepted the resignation of Fisher's son, David, as attorney for the administrator's office. For the present Fisher will be succeeded by Otto Ullrich.

The governor named young Fisher to the post last summer, on the same day that O'Brien succeeded Halbert O. Crews, Republican holdover, as administrator. This was before there had been any overt manifestations that the Democratic organization did not intend to slate Mr. Horner for renomination.

Background of Split.

This story went back to the time before Dr. Herman N. Bundesen had been brought out as the Democratic candidate to run against the governor. A group of men, including Judge Fisher and Ald. Jacob M. Arvey of the 24th ward, called upon Mr. Horner and urged him, it was reported, not to stand for renomination but to indicate his willingness to accept appointment as a judge of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals. This the governor refused to do, according to the tale, whereupon Ald. Arvey is said to have told him that he was going to say with the organization.

Judge Fisher, however, declared that he would back the governor, Horner's friends say. This pleased Mr. Horner, who later asked Judge Fisher to make several speeches for him. Fisher, so the story goes, begged off on account of poor health.

Speaks in Bundesen's Behalf.

Subsequently Judge Fisher appeared before a Democratic organization meeting in the Morrison hotel to boost Bundesen and also was quoted as having said, referring to the governor: "We're just spanking one of the members of our family."

After this Judge Fisher made another speech, but not on a political subject, it was said, and when wind of both addresses got to the governor, he was both hurt and indignant.

For the last few weeks the judge has been in Florida. He had not returned yesterday when his son's resignation was made public.

ROB BEAUTY SHOP OWNER.

Irving Smith, 1645 North Newland avenue, owner of a chain of beauty shops, was robbed of a $600 pay roll yesterday near his home by three men who apparently followed him from the Pioneer Trust and Savings bank.

KAINDL RENOMINATION AS RECORDER ASSURED BY 4 WITHDRAWALS

One more Democratic organization candidate for county office, Recorder Edward J. Kaindl, was assured of renomination yesterday by the withdrawal of all the four candidates who had filed against him.

Although the statutory deadline for withdrawals was passed at 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, County Clerk Flynn followed the practice of accepting withdrawals so long as they could be acted upon before the ballots are printed.

The recordership withdrawals leave only two Democratic county contests in the April 14 primary. Those two are Coroner Frank J. Walsh and Paul Drymalski of the board of tax appeals.

Several withdrawals by county committee candidates also were accepted. One of them, that of Anthony F. Mordente, left Ald. W. V. Pacelli, without opposition for reëlection as Republican committeeman of the 20th ward.

SENTENCE TWO RELIEF CHEATERS TO BRIDEWELL

Two men convicted of defrauding the Illinois Emergency Relief commission of $459 in relief were sentenced to the Bridewell yesterday by Judge Gibson E. Gorman in the South State street court. Michael Chiolak, 50 years old, 1450 Fullerton avenue, got 60 days in jail for accepting $136 from the commission while his wife and son-in-law were employed. Pedro Curio, 51 years old, 1702 Taylor street, was sentenced to 90 days when Attorney G. B. Foley for the commission showed that Curio's wife was employed while the family was given $323 in relief.

"IT'S A SENSIBLE IDEA"

the TALON TROUSER FASTENER that creates a Continuous Closure

Men by the millions were quick to recognize that the Talon slide fastener for closing trousers is a sensible idea . . . fills an obvious need . . . and is absolutely right for its purpose!

Instead of awkwardness . . . the simplest convenience. Instead of possible disarray . . . absolute security. Instead of gaps and bulges—a continuous closing where a continuous closing is most important to good taste.

The preference for trousers tailored with Talon is growing so fast that already 474 manufacturers are licensed to use the Talon trouser fastener. And more and more clothiers are featuring this new modern refinement in an ever increasing variety of suits.

You will gladly forget there ever was a button closing . . . once you try trousers closed with Talon. It's the only sensible, thoroughly practical trouser closure . . . Ask your clothier!

TALON
FASTENER INVISIBLE

The Talon trouser fastener is made especially for trousers. The slider locks so that it cannot slip down. Talon is precision-made . . . always dependable . . . always works easily. Can't catch in underclothing because of protective underflap. Makes disarray impossible . . . refines drape and finish. Rustless . . . unharmed by dry cleaning and pressing. Gives perfect service far beyond the life of a suit.

WITH BUTTONS
Here's how trousers look with the button closing. Presentable, perhaps, the hour they're new and freshly pressed —then gaps . . . wrinkles . . . creases . . . signs of shabbiness . . . growing steadily worse. Others see it, even though you're unconscious of it.
WITH TALON
What a difference Talon makes—thin, smooth, continuous —like a seam. Trim in any position. No wonder the foremost custom tailors sponsor it . . . the greatest manufacturers of men's clothing have used it in increasing quantities for three and one-half years.

Today . . well-tailored trousers are closed with the TALON slide fastener

BROOKS INVADES 20TH DIST.; GETS STRONG SUPPORT

G. O. P. Leaders Flock to Hear Him; Pledge Aid.

BY LLOYD WENDT.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Jacksonville, Ill., March 11.—[Special.]—Wayland Brooks of Chicago carried his campaign for the Republican nomination for governor into the Twentieth congressional district today and Republican leaders throughout the district flocked to headquarters to assure him of the certain support of this entire area.

These claims were not merely enthusiastic predictions, but actual totals and lists of party officials who have definitly and publicly pledged their support to Brooks for governor.

Pike county, for example, promised the support of 80 per cent of all the precinct committeemen, Case county reported all 16 committeemen in the county working for Brooks, and Morgan county said more than 80 per cent of its committeemen have promised him active, aggressive support.

Scott Alone Is Hesitant.

Of the ten counties in the district, only Scott admitted that any other Republican candidate for gubernatorial nomination possessed any important strength. Brooks' leaders were confident that Scott county also would come into the fold.

This territory regards Mr. Brooks as a native son by virtue of the fact that his family lived for a number of years in Payson, 12 miles from Quincy. Mr. Brooks stopped there briefly this morning to greet old acquaintances and to receive promises of unanimous support from the village of 400 persons.

"Look to Him for Victory."

Reaugh Jennings, editor of the Jacksonville Journal and secretary of the Morgan county Republican committee, summarized the opinion of most Republican leaders here.

"We look to Brooks to lead Illinois Republicans back to victory in the fall and we're backing him because we think he is the only man who can do it," Jennings declared.

"This is why some of the Republican newspapers in this area are indorsing a primary candidate for the first time in years, and it is the reason more than 80 per cent of our committeemen have publicly pledged support to Brooks. He is giving new life to the Republicans of the Twentieth district."

In speeches today at Jacksonville and Pittsfield, Mr. Brooks again dwelt on the farm problem and urged a conservation program which would stock streams and woodlands with fish and game.

Horner Talks At Pittsfield.

Pittsfield had an exciting political day as the Brooks supporters rallied in the Legion hall and Gov. Horner spoke to Democrats in the nearby courthouse.

Mr. Brooks again pledged himself to the Lowden farm plan. He said he will propose the state agricultural institutions as the proper agencies to conserve soil fertility and spend farm aid money. He urged the building of farm to market roads and the development of farm coöperatives to facilitate distribution and consumption of farm products.

"We need to sell farm products, not curtail them," he said.

MRS. BAUR OPENS CONGRESS FIGHT IN OLD TIME WAY

Beer and Hot Dogs Mix with Principles.

BY MARCIA WINN.

Mrs. Bertha Baur, candidate for the Republican nomination for congress from the Ninth district, officially opened her campaign last night in an unofficial way—by eating "hot dogs" and swapping jokes at a precinct massmeeting.

Mrs. Baur said she had planned a set speech for the occasion, but she didn't make it. Instead when she got to Leo's hall at Willow and Burling streets, where some hundred citizens crowded around tables to drink beer and devour wieners, she sat right down with them and did the same thing.

"Say," remarked an elderly Italian, "you see these hot dogs and this beer? Well, they're not what I'm voting for. I'm going to vote for principles. Have you got any?"

"I certainly have!" responded Mrs. Baur, "and I'll tell you about them right now."

And she stood up and began talking, her set speech still in her brief case on the floor.

"What this reminds me of tonight," she said, "is those old days in Chicago fifteen or twenty years ago, when every one was happy——"

"Ja!" came the fervent chorus.

"What are we all striving for, anyway?" Mrs. Baur asked. "To educate our children, to send them to school, to give them opportunity. Our people came to this country for freedom, and for opportunity.

Then she began talking in German.

"Do you know what you have here?" she asked. "You have Gemütlichkeit [friendliness]."

FRANK WON'T RESIGN: BOOST LAW DEAN AS U. OF WIS. PRESIDENT

Madison, Wis., March 11.—[Special.]—Despite revival of the rumors that Gov. Philip La Follette has immediate ambitions to become president of the University of Wisconsin, it was asserted today that ambition did not cause the reported threat by the board of regents to oust President Glenn Frank by July 1. The alternative offered was said to be Frank's resignation by that time.

Gov. La Follette, now speaking in the east, was said by a person close to him to be "determined to run for governor again this fall."

Among those mentioned for that place is Dean Lloyd K. Garrison of the university law school, who has returned from a furlough during which he was chairman of the national labor board. He is 38 years old.

President Frank asserted today, "I have not resigned." It was rumored that, realizing the futility of resisting the strong sentiment against him among the regents, he is considering resignation. No further developments are expected, however, until the meeting of the regents, April 21-22.

LANDON LEADS IN OHIO POLL; BORAH SECOND

Columbus, O., March 11.—(AP)—Ohio's Republican state committee, which took a state-wide poll to determine sentiment toward potential presidential candidates, today reported its final tabulation showed Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas far in the lead.

Chairman Ed D. Schorr said that out of 9,507 votes cast Landon received 5,392; Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, 1,952; Col. Frank Knox, 1,223; Herbert Hoover, 396; Senator Vandenberg, 279; Senator Dickinson, 61; all others, 204.

STATE TO BOOM ROAD BUILDING IN CAMPAIGN YEAR

Pay Rolls to Be Swelled by Easy Money.

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., March 11.—[Special.]—The Illinois highway department, whether by political good fortune or by Democratic design, has a boom construction program scheduled for this campaign year. Payrolls on state road jobs will be approximately double the total of last year.

Road funds for work this year, mainly federal "easy money," include $37,670,000 available since July 1 of last year. Approximately 4 million dollars of this "easy money" has been available since July 1, 1934. The total construction expenditure by the state highway department in 1935 was $22,590,727.

Approximately 25,000 men will receive direct employment with the funds now on hand. In addition, after July 1 the highway department will have an estimated 9 million dollars for road building from current gasoline tax and license fee revenue, plus another federal aid allotment. In normal years this regular federal aid has been $5,160,000.

Seek to Employ 34,300.

Ernst Lieberman, state highway engineer, said plans are bing made to spend this year most of the money that will become available on July 1, probably at least 14 million dollars, in addition to the $37,670,000 now on hand. This would boost employment to 34,300 men.

With the available $37,670,000, the highway department this year plans to build 138.54 miles of high type pavement, 51.57 miles of bituminous surfaced gravel or stone, 137.76 miles of gravel or crushed stone surfacing. 39 large bridges, 86 railroad grade separations, and three highway grade separations. This money also will finance 522.78 miles of grading, 81 miles of landscaping, and the installation of automatic flash light protection signals at 274 railroad grade crossings and the erection of warning signs at 414 other crossings.

Cost 20 Per Cent Higher.

Because of federal requirements for the use of a maximum of hand labor to obtain a maximum of unemployment relief from the "easy money" expenditures, the cost of the jobs is running about 20 per cent higher than under normal operations.

The money now available for 1936 construction consists of 4 million dollars in 1934 Public Works administration and national recovery administration grants, $10,424,673 of regular 1935 federal aid plus matching state funds, $19,835,536 in 1935 works progress administration grants, and $364,606 in straight state funds.

ROOSEVELT SLATE OF DELEGATES WINS IN NEW HAMPSHIRE

Manchester, N. H., March 11.—(AP)—A Democratic slate solidly pledged to President Roosevelt, and Republican delegates, unpledged but generally favorable to Col. Frank Knox, were elected yesterday in the nation's first presidential primary, nearly complete returns indicated today.

With only a few voting units with less than 20 votes missing, there was no chance of a change in either the Democratic or Republican result.

Gov. H. Styles Bridges [Rep.] drew the largest vote in the primary. As delegate at large, he polled 31,849 votes. Other leaders, all Republicans, running at large, were:

Former U. S. Senator George H. Moses, 28,800; former Gov. Huntley N. Spalding, 26,277; U. S. Representative Charles W. Tobey, 25,454, and Attorney General Thomas P. Cheney, 21,375.

DICKINSON CALLS NEW DEAL WORST BAR TO RECOVERY

Boston, Mass., March 11. — (AP) — United States Senator L. J. Dickinson [Rep., Ia.] declared tonight that the New Deal has been recovery's worst enemy.

The Iowa senator addressed the Women's Republican Club of Massachusetts. His address was broadcast.

"The New Deal," he said, "alternately pleads, exhorts, commands, and intimidates. It has, in itself, been the greatest enemy of recovery."

Dickinson charged the Roosevelt administration with "shamelessly exploiting" the poor and declared January's drop in employment as shown by American Federation of Labor statistics provided "incontestable proof of the New Deal's failure."

"In the whole history of American humanitarian effort there is no more disgraceful page than this political abuse of charity and the defenseless poor," the senator said. Declaring the each day brings reports of "fresh scandals," Dickinson asked:

"What is more logical than that greedy political machines, anxious for votes, should seek to extend their control to the relief rolls?"

GLENN OUTLINES PLATFORM OF 14 PLANKS IN DRIVE

Champaign, Ill., March 11.—[Special.]—Outlining a fourteen point platform, nearly every angle of which was aimed at the policies of the Roosevelt administration, Otis F. Glenn, Murphysboro, former United States senator and a candidate for that office, spoke here this afternoon. He favors reduction in federal taxes and aid for the unemployed and aged.

He favored sound money and a stable fiscal policy, unemployment insurance, old age pensions, tarif protection for industry, labor, and agriculture.

Four points in his program pertained to agriculture. He is in favor of "the continuance, without impairment, of the authority and the power of the Supreme court."

"Alien communistic agitators should be deported," the Republican aspirant declared. Speaking of state relief, Glenn said he favored placing its administration in charge of the communities where the needy reside.

AUTO STRIKES WOMAN.

Mrs. Priscilla Biebo, 42 years old, 8142 Luella avenue, was injured yesterday when she was struck by an automobile as she was crossing Everett avenue near 55th street.

MRS. ROOSEVELT AT CLEVELAND ON SPEECH TOUR; INSPECTS WPA

Cleveland, O., March 11.—(AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt appeared for a lecture here tonight unruffled by vague threats of a boycott against the address.

There had been reports that a Democratic party faction discussed a possible boycott in a move to influence party leaders to support W. B. Gongwer, county Democratic chairman, for national convention delegate.

Mrs. Roosevelt said: "I don't know anything about the political dispute except what I have read in the papers. I am simply on a lecture tour.

Mrs. Katherine Wallen, a member of the committee sponsoring the lecture, said the attendance was between 1,500 and 1,700. It was given in Public Music hall which has a seating capacity of about 3,000.

"The Way to Peace" was the subject of Mrs. Roosevelt's lecture.

Mrs. Roosevelt inspected women's WPA projects today. She will go to Dayton, O., tomorrow for another lecture. Then she will go to New York, ending her speaking tour.

COURT FORBIDS WIRE SEIZURES BY BLACK GROUP

seize all the company's wires. Shouse said no pretext was offered for the tens of thousands of telegrams of other law firms seized by the committee. He asserted the league's only interest in "this whole sorry business is to make as effective a protest as possible because of the attack upon constitutional rights of all American citizens, low and high, laborers and capitalists."

Senator Black, informed of his defeat in the court, intimated that he would not drop the fight, although he declined to state his plans specifically.

"I will present the matter to the committee. I am sure the senate will not submit to an unconstitutional restriction upon its own constitutional functions. That's all I have to say."

Reminded of his threat to move for legislation to deprive the courts of the power to issue such injunctions he remarked that "I am still of that opinion."

Judge Interrupts Rebuttal.

Chief Justice Wheat interrupted the rebuttal argument of Frank J. Hogan, counsel for Silas Strawn of Chicago, one of the petitioners for the injunction, to render his decision.

"Mr. Hogan," he said, "I do not believe that I want to hear any more.

"I have listened to the case very fully. It has been fairly argued on both sides. It does not make any difference whether it is Mr. Silas Strawn or who it is.

"The claim was made that this subpena, which has been served upon the telegraph company, amounts to an unreasonable search and seizure, and is, therefore, violative of the legitimate powers of the senate committee. It is purely a question of law. I would be the last one in the world to claim any right to interfere with the powers of the senate, or with the exercise of its legitimate discretion. Where it has discretion I have nothing else to say about it, nor has any other judge. Where it has power, and that power is validly exercised, I have nothing to say about that.

"The claim is made here by the plaintifs who, it seems to me, have a legitimate interest, that they will be seriously affected by obedience to this subpena upon the Western Union Telegraph company. I think that they have a legitimate cause of action. I think that the court has jurisdiction over the action, and, in effect, it is an action to protect them in their rights under the fourth amendment to the constitution.

Bound to Grant Injunction.

"Feeling, as I do, that this subpena goes way beyond any legitimate exercise of the right of the subpena duces tecum, I think that I am bound to grant the injunction as prayed for. That is the view that I take of it, that this subpena goes way beyond the legitimate use of the subpena duces tecum and that the plaintifs here have a legitimate interest in the controversy and they have the right to be protected by the court when they claim protection under the fourth amendment to the constitution."

Senator Black was not in court to witness the fight over his right to read the 5 million telegrams. He was represented by his law partner, Crampton Harris. Mr. Harris argued that the subpena served on the telegraph company was not broader than the senate in exercise of its fact finding power pursuant to its legislative power had the right to issue. He said that an injunction would tie the hands of congress.

Harris then launched into a denunciation of the activities of lobbying groups and challenged Strawn's appearance in court as an entry with unclean hands. He said that Strawn had violated the sacred and time honored function of lawyers to advise clients on legal problems to enter into fields of political activity in behalf of clients. He contended, further, that Strawn had no right to the seized telegrams because they were the property of the telegraph company and assured the court that the committee would discard any seized telegrams which were not pertinent to its inquiry.

Justice Wheat charged the attorney to confine himself to the issue as the court saw it—whether or not the seizure violated the fourth and fifth amendments to the constitution. Harris replied that the amendments were applicable only to criminal cases and said that courts were swinging about to the position that the amendments were not applicable to civil matters.

Hogan Cites Decisions.

In rising to reply, Hogan asserted he did not do so to refute political speeches and any attempt to besmirch the character of a lawyer who came into court in the belief the courts would uphold the constitution.

Hogan recounted recent Supreme court decisions on the AAA, TVA, Railroad Retirement act, and other cases as among the many cases in which the judiciary has interfered with the unsound discretion of congress and acts which violate the law. He charged that the Black committee had violated the fourth amendment.

"If the senate committee was not interested in personal papers," he said, "why did it send for them? If it were only interested in telegrams relating to lobbying, why did it not say so? Its subpena could have stipulated the seizure of any wires relating to defeat or passage of legislation.

"Instead, the committee says: 'We don't know what there are in these telegrams, and you must be assured we'll only keep what we want.' Why, the subpena is the greatest fishing expedition in the history of congress. They put down a hook into the sea—no, a net—and grabbed a catch, and they say we can depend upon them to throw away the fish they don't want."

In his opening argument Hogan quoted exhaustively from Supreme court decisions holding that "neither branch of the legislative department possesses or can be invested with a general power of making inquiry into the private affairs of the citizen" and denouncing "fishing expeditions into private papers on the possibility that they may disclose evidence of crime."

He contended not only that the subpena was invalid but the senate resolution to investigate lobbies exceeded in many details the constitutional power of the senate.

Sees Threat Against Press.

"Broadly construed," he said, "it would give the congress the right to investigate the activities, according to its own language, of the sources and mediums of communication and information, thereby including the activities of the entire press of the American republic. As it could not possibly constitutionally legislate to restrict the freedom of the press, our foremost mediums of information, it necessarily follows that this mélée of words must be held to be either meaningless or the resolution in which they are found must be held to be invalid.

"I have spoken with the utmost restraint, albeit earnestly, for your honor is not to be moved by an expression of that intense indignation which all Americans must feel when they learn that their private telegrams have been or are about to be seized by men acting in the name of the government of the United States for the purpose of being pried into irrespective of their contents, the privileged character thereof, the privacy of the matter contained therein, the irreparable damage that might be done by their disclosure.

"If your honor please, in the last analysis the questions presented by this case are, at once, extremely simple and vitally important. They are:

"Is ours any longer a free country?

"Are the most sacred guarantees of the rights of the people, written in the constitution, any longer effective?

"If those guarantees still exist, are the courts of the United States impotent to enforce them?"

INJUNCTION PLEASES CHICAGO LEADER IN FIGHT ON SEIZURES

Dr. Hugh S. Magill, president of the American Federation of Investors, expressed elation yesterday over the injunction granted against turning telegrams over to the Black committee. This association was the first group last summer to refuse to yield private and confidential correspondence to the senatorial committee.

"I am very much pleased with the ruling," Dr. Magill declared. "It vindicates the point we took last summer in refusing to turn over private and confidential letters by general subpena, and which was upheld by THE TRIBUNE. The committee's action was a violation of the constitutional right of every American citizen to be secure in their 'persons, houses, papers, and effects, from unreasonable search and seizure.'"

You Don't Need a BEAUTIFUL FACE

Beautiful features are not necessary. Real beauty comes from the inside, a healthy body, a lovely complexion and lots of pep. That is what men admire.

Body poisons that are not eliminated properly are the cause of most unattractive, sallow, pimply complexions. If your blood is poisoned by wastes from constipated bowels, your skin often breaks out or looks dull and muddy.

Adlerika quickly and pleasantly removes these wastes from both bowels. Adlerika brings out foul matter that may have poisoned you for months, ruining your complexion and upsetting your system.

Miss E. S., Converse, Tex., says: "I have used Adlerika for just two weeks and I am amazed at how it has cleared up my complexion."

Mrs. W. T. M., Louisville, Ky.: "My eyes were dull and my complexion poor. After trying Adlerika almost every one commented on my complexion. It has lost its sallowness and my eyes have a new sparkle."

Let Adlerika help YOU to clear up your complexion and make it smooth, clear and admirably lovely. Try Adlerika for just one week and see what an amazing difference it makes in how you look and feel. Sold by all druggists and drug departments.

QUIZ ON HAGOOD REMOVAL MADE SURE IN HOUSE

Washington, D. C., March 11.—[Special.]—An investigation into the removal from his post of Maj. Gen. Johnson Hagood was assured today when a resolution was introduced in the house calling upon President Roosevelt to restore the general as commander of the Eighth Corps area.

The speaker yesterday killed a resolution calling for an investigation into the incident by sending it to the rules committee, where it would be pigeonholed. But today's resolution was, under house rules, necessarily referred to the committee on military affairs, the chairman of which, John J. McSwain [Dem., S. C.], has promised open hearings on the case.

Maj. Gen. Hagood was punished for having remarked before a congressional committee last December that works progress spending was "pouring money down a rat hole."

McSwain said he would summon his committee in the near future to consider the resolution. He will call Gen. Malin Craig, chief of staf, and others and question them about Hagood's removal, he said. He said he planned to have these hearings open to the public unless some member of the committee insists that they be secret.

Maj. Gen. Hagood probably will be a witness at the hearings.

MAYOR KELLY IS MAIN SPEAKER AT DINNER OF LEGION COMMANDERS

Mayor Kelly was principal speaker at a dinner of the Past Commanders' club of the American Legion at the Morrison hotel last night at which the views of various political candidates and leaders were heard. Nearly 200 members of the club, which has a membership of 1,000, attended.

Mayor Kelly asserted that he did not wish to enter into a lengthy discussion of Democratic politics, but urged the reëlection of President Roosevelt.

"Nearly 42 billion dollars was spent by the United States during the last war to preserve our country and a lasting peace throughout the world, but this seems to have been a waste, for conditions in Europe today are much akin to those existent in 1914," he said. "President Roosevelt has been criticized for spending 9 billion dollars for relief and the betterment of the country."

Mayor Kelly predicted that before the November election the country would see a greater prosperity than it has ever seen before.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., March 11.—A letter forbidding political activity, sent out by archbishops and bishops of the Roman Catholic church in the province of Quebec to priests and members of religious orders, was made public today.

The letter forbids participation in political meetings, alliance with any political party, renting halls for political meetings, encouraging newspapers favoring certain political doctrines in preference to others, or mention from the pulpit the name of any particular paper. Priests must not preach on election matters and are advised they must be careful to avoid reference to elections and election campaigns in private conversations and in receiving confessions.

Certain priests took part in last October's provincial election, causing considerable controversy. Violations will be punished by "loss of their offices and benefits accruing from such offices," the letter said.

TAKE 'TIME OUT' IN HOUSE TO CALL EACH OTHER FOOL

Rep. Zioncheck Resents Title of 'Jackass.'

Washington, D. C., March 11.—[Special.]—The representatives of the people, by unanimous consent, set aside an hour of house debate today for a candid exchange of personalities. Such simple and homely phrases as "fool" and "damn jackass" enlivened the refreshing discussion.

An invitation by one statesman to another to repair to the hallway and settle a point in manly fashion was extended during the tumult. Speaker Joseph W. Byrns voiced a blistering criticism of the entire body for its schoolboy behavior, but this had no perceptible effect upon the noisy congressmen.

Representative Marion Zionchek [Dem., Wash.], the Peck's bad boy of the session since it started, touched off the demonstration. Representative Clare E. Hoffman [Rep., Mich.] had asked that he be permitted to insert in the Congressional Record "about an inch" of additional remarks to a speech he had made.

Silenced for Moment Only.

"What could you insert in an inch?" demanded Zionchek, who recently was convicted of drunkenness and disorderliness for toying with a switchboard last New Year's morning.

"It won't be a plug in a switchboard," retorted Hoffman amidst a roar of laughter. Zionchek sat down, red faced, but not for long.

Representative Walter M. Pierce, Oregon Democrat, arose to cast some aspersions upon his colleague, William A. Ekwall [Rep., Ore.]. Ekwall sought to reply.

"You're just going to make a fool of yourself," declared Zioncheck to Ekwall.

"Nobody has made a bigger damn jackass of himself than the gentleman from Washington at this session," returned Ekwall, heatedly.

Defends a Fellow Democrat.

Irked at this characterization of a fellow Democrat, Representative John J. O'Connor of New York moved that Ekwall's words be stricken from the record. The bellicose Tom Blanton, Texas Democrat, came to Ekwall's defense with an assertion that the remark was justified and that Zioncheck's conduct was "outrageous."

"I think we all talk too much," commented Representative Maury Maverick [Dem., Tex.], thoughtfully. This unfair observation was greeted with jeers.

The speaker then interrupted with a stinging indictment of the members for their disorderly behavior. He called upon them to obey the rules and to reflect credit upon "the great body of which you have the honor to be members."

Invites Foe Into Hallway.

The irrepressible Zioncheck said he wanted to apologize and started his apology by remarking: "I did say that the gentleman was making a fool of himself—" and the uproar was renewed.

"If the gentleman will come out in the hallway with me, I'll take care of him," yelled Ekwall.

"What is this—a kindergarten?" asked Maverick.

"We're all up for reëlection," remarked Ekwall, "and some of us won't come back."

Observers in the gallery agreed that Ekwall thus revealed the true reason for members' uncertain tempers.

Zioncheck rambled into the well of the house and gave voice to a statement which, many agreed, might become a famous nonsequitur.

"Why can't we have dignity?" he inquired. "I'm a Radical and damn proud of it."

Peace was restored as the members resumed consideration of one of the most important bills presented at every session of congress—the appropriation of $10,000 salaries for themselves, a total of $4,405,000; $175,000 for traveling expenses; $2,200,000 for their clerical hire, and sundry other vital items.

HOOVER GIVEN CHEERS ON HIS ARRIVAL AT NEW YORK STATION

New York, March 11.—[Special.]—Cheers greeted former President Herbert Hoover on his arrival this morning at Grand Central terminal.

Asked if he had any comment on the announcement that Gov. Merriam of California had declared for Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas for the Republican presidential nomination, Mr. Hoover replied: "No comment. If I answered that you would ask me another."

One woman, attracted by the cheering, pushed her way through the crowd and asked: "Who is that man?"

"That's Mr. Hoover," she was informed.

"O," she said, turning away, "I never did like detectives."

G.O.P. SENATORS CITE DEMOCRATS' 'ECONOMY' PLEAS

Compare 1932 Stand with 975 Million Bill.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 11.—[Special.]—Back in 1932, under President Hoover's administration, Democratic senators, notably Kenneth McKellar of Tennessee, were screaming about "a bankrupt treasury" and clamoring for economy. Today they were forced to eat their words, called up from the record, when Republicans demanded to know how they justified a 975 million dollar treasury-postoffice appropriation bill.

Senator Charles L. McNary of Oregon, the Republican leader, recalled that under President Hoover, McKellar introduced amendments calling for flat reductions of 10 per cent in every appropriation measure that came up for consideration He wanted to know by what philosophy the appropriations committee justified such increases in the house treasury-postoffice bill as $2,600,000 for the office of first assistant postmaster general, $1,185,000 for the office of the fourth assistant postmaster general, $1,255,850 for the bureau of internal revenue, $173,933 for the coast guard, and $348,080 for the public health service.

Couzens Cites Record.

"I offered those amendments at that time because they were justified by the facts," McKellar replied. "I have always opposed extravagance. The increases we are seeking in the postoffice department were made necessary by the adoption of the 40 hour week."

Senator James Couzens [Rep., Mich.] brought out the record for May 6, 1932, and read these remarks by Senator McKellar:

"It seems that the administration has been proceeding on the plan that it is all poppycock about our having an empty treasury; that it was merely a vague assertion that we had one, and that all we had to do to bring about prosperity was to continue to get money out of a bankrupt treasury and distribute it among the people.

"In this connection I wish to say that the President criticizes both houses of congress and demands that taxation be placed upon the people for the purpose of balancing the budget. Who brought about this deficit? Who brought about this bankruptcy in our treasury?

Blames Hoover for "Bankruptcy."

"Of course it was Mr. Hoover and his administration. I want to say for one that with our treasury in its present condition I am a thousand times more interested in cutting down expenditures than in seeking new sources of taxation."

McKellar replied that the senate, with a Republican majority, adopted his 10 per cent reduction amendments in 1932.

"The Republicans were more willing to coöperate with the Democrats than the Democrats now are willing to coöperate with the Republicans," Senator Couzens said.

Copeland Opposes Plan.

Even Senator Royal S. Copeland [Dem., N. Y.], the senate's only doctor, objected to a $1,500,000 appropriation for the public health service, including the $348,000 added by the senate, on the ground that there was nothing in the bill to show how much would be spent under the social security act of 1935, calling for investigations of sanitation and diseases.

McKellar justified this appropriation by a motion picture—"The Life of Dr. Louis Pasteur"—which he saw last night.

"I wish the senators would go down and see that picture," he said. "It's a wonderful picture. It shows exactly what we are doing and it thoroughly justifies this appropriation. Dr. Pasteur was one of the greatest scientists who ever lived."

Numerous Items Added.

Although the senate added numerous increases to appropriation items contained in the house bill, there was a net decrease of $14,711,277, brought about by the elimination of the $26,500,000 appropriation for the payment of ship subsidies through the postoffice department.

This action was taken, however, in anticipation of new ship subsidy legislation, and it was accompanied by an increase of $4,500,000 in the postoffice appropriation for payment for foreign mail transportation on the poundage basis.

The total appropriation for the two departments was approximately 35 million dollars higher than the appropriation for the 1936 fiscal year.

FEDERAL TAX CASE WARANT SERVED AT CUTTEN'S BEDSIDE

Arthur W. Cutten, wealthy grain trader, indicted Tuesday in federal court on charges of evading income tax payments for 1929, was served yesterday with the warant for his arrest by deputy marshals who went to his bedside in his suite at the Drake hotel. Cutten has been seriously ill of heart disease since Christmas.

The warant, based on the indictment charging that Cutten evaded payment of $414,525 taxes, was read at the bedside by Joseph Tobin, chief deputy United States marshal. Propped up in bed, Cutten signed a $35,000 surety bond guaranteeing his appearance for trial.

William E. Gatewood, 46 years old, 1623 New England avenue, former internal revenue agent, indicted with Cutten, surrendered yesterday in federal court. Gatewood was released after he had posted a $5,000 surety bond.

Judge Woodward yesterday set May 4 for the trial of Howard W. Elmore, former president of the sanitary district, charged with violation of the income tax law. The court set April 15 for the disposal of preliminary motions.

PLAN TO EXEMPT BANK RESERVES FROM NEW TAX

Insurance Earnings Will Escape Levy Also.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 11.—[Special.]—The house subcommittee considering the Roosevelt tax program was reported tonight to have reached an agreement exempting banks and insurance companies from the average 33 1-3 per cent tax upon undistributed net earnings proposed by the President.

The subcommittee also was said to have decided to provide for corporations a "cushion" against the tax to allow them to build up reasonable reserves. The members considered a tax schedule submitted by treasury experts providing for a range of a 10 per cent tax on the first 5 per cent of earnings up to 55 per cent on all undistributed net income over 35 per cent of net income.

News Leaks Despite Gag.

These developments were learned despite a strict gag upon the conferees imposed by Chairman Robert L. Doughton [Dem., N. C.], of the ways and means committee. The subcommittee chairman, Samuel B. Hill [Dem., Wash.], who has been making public the various steps taken, announced that "the lid is on" when he emerged from a meeting late this afternoon.

Reaction of the country at large to revelations that the Roosevelt tax will hit nearly three million income taxpayers was said to have prompted the secrecy order.

The decision to exempt banks and insurance companies came after the subcommittee learned that an amount not to exceed 20 millions would be lost in revenue thereby. The members were surprised to learn that the estimated statutory net income of banks in 1936 is only 36 millions and of insurance companies 66 millions.

Banking Function "Lost."

"That is amazing information," commented Representative Roy O. Woodruff [Rep., Mich.], member of the subcommittee. "We were told that the statutory net income of banks in 1933 was only 18 millions. It is a sign that banks are not lending money to private industry but that the chief function of the federal reserve system today is financing the federal government. The original purpose of the act was to finance American business, but that purpose has been lost."

When the subcommittee members learned that the total net statutory income of banks and insurance companies was only an estimated 101 million dollars in 1936, they speedily decided to exempt the two groups from the corporation surplus tax, it was reported.

ROOSEVELT SEES EARLY START ON SEAWAY PROJECT

Message to Parley Is Read by Pittman.

Detroit, Mich., March 11.—(AP)—President Roosevelt predicted the "early undertaking" of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence deep channel project in a message read tonight to the Detroit seaway conference by Senator Key Pittman [Dem., Nev.].

Pointing out that neither the United States nor Canada has ratified the 1932 treaty which would permit work to go forward on the vast project, the President declared that "something further than mere resubmission of a treaty is called for."

"Seeking New Approach."

"We are seeking a new approach to the problems involved," Mr. Roosevelt wrote, expressing confidence that, in view of the policy of coöperation between the two countries agreement on the terms for completing the 2,000 mile channel for ocean going vessels "should present no insuperable difficulties."

Senator Pittman, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, predicted senate ratification of a St. Lawrence waterway treaty, which failed by 13 votes in 1934, will be accomplished at the next session of congress.

The treaty was not brought up for action at the present session, he said, "first, because we did not have the votes, and second, because congress is determined to adjourn as soon as vital domestic legislation is disposed of."

Blames "Fears" for Delay.

Delay has sprung, President Roosevelt said, "from fears of economic harm to special localities or to special interests, which I always have believed are grossly exaggerated, and especially from opposition based upon the fact that the power available in these boundary waters is publicly owned and will be generated and distributed, under existing laws, by publice agencies in both Canada and the United States."

He expressed a "strong conviction that recent events have helped to clear the way for action upon the broadest lines of public benefits."

Sees No Harm to Railways.

Asserting that "railroads will not be injured," Senator Pittman said, "80 per cent of the trafic that moves through the deep seaway will reach its destination along our coastline. This freight will be moved westward from the Atlantic and eastward from the Pacific to the interior . . . with rail trafic."

During the sesson, the two day conference heard various speakers express their approval of the seaway project.

GREAT BRITAIN MISSES OUSTER OF CAPITALISM BY A MERE 21 VOTES

LONDON, March 11.—(AP)—By the slender margin of 21 votes, the house of commons tonight defeated a motion calling for legislation to replace the capitalistic system by public ownership of instruments of production and distribution.

The motion was introduced by Wilfred Paling, Laborite member from the Wentworth district of York. It was voted down, 121 to 100. Only one-third of the house was present.

Paling, speaking on behalf of his motion, told the members that "millions of pigs are being wantonly destroyed in the United States" and that "acres of cotton producing land are being plowed up" under the American capitalistic system.

HEAVY BLOCKADE OF ICE RETARDS LAKES SHIPPING

Shipping on the Great Lakes will be retarded for several more weeks due to the worst ice blockade in years, according to the first spring report on lake conditions made yesterday by the weather bureau. Only the lower half of Lake Michigan is comparatively open.

Last year the coast guard's ice breaker Escanaba opened a channel through the Mackinac straits. Coast guard headquarters said yesterday the ice in the straits is 20 to 28 inches thick, and will be too much for the Escanaba until at least April 20.

Resumption of navigation on the Illinois waterway by the federal barge lines is scheduled to start next week, an official said yesterday. The steamer Montgomery, which has been reconditioned for use on the waterway, is to leave St. Louis with several barges on Saturday, arriving in Chicago next Wednesday. The first trip out of Chicago is scheduled for the next day, Thursday, March 19.

Orphan Confesses Robbing 100 Schools; Loot $5,000

George Pokitka, alias George Burns, 19 years old, 551 West Madison street, an orphan, confessed yesterday to Acting Police Captain Herbert Burns he had robbed more than 100 schools in the last few months and had taken school equipment valued at $5,000. Pokitka was arrested Tuesday night as he was attempting to break into the Thorp school, 6024 Warwick avenue. Held with Pokitka is Harry Kinnel, 28 years old, 551 West Madison street, charged with helping dispose of the stolen property.

Roosevelt Gets Leis Picked Three Days Ago in Hawaii

Washington, D. C., March 11.—[Special.]—A leis made of flowers picked in Hawaii only three days ago was presented to President Roosevelt here today as a token of the new speed given to travel by the opening of regular commercial air service across the Pacific ocean. The flowers left Hawaii aboard the Pan-American Clipper at 5 p. m. Sunday and were rushed by other planes from San Francisco to Washington.

STEAL FUR COAT AND JEWELRY.

Miss Edith Walker, 1406 Summerdale avenue, reported to the Summerdale police yesterday that burglars had entered her apartment while she was away and had taken her sealskin coat valued at $250 and jewelry valued at $2,225.

For Quick Cough Relief, Mix This Remedy at Home

No Cooking! No Work! Real Saving!

You'll never know how quickly a bad winter cough can be relieved, until you try this famous recipe. It is used in more homes than any other cough remedy, because it gives more prompt, positive results. It's no trouble at all to mix and costs but a trifle.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. Syrup is easily made with 2 cups of sugar and one cup of water, stirred a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. This gives you four times as much cough medicine for your money, and it's a much better remedy. It never spoils and tastes fine.

Instantly you feel its penetrating effect. It loosens the phlegm, helps clear the air passages, and soothes the irritated membranes. This three-fold action explains why it brings such quick relief in distressing coughs.

Pinex is a concentrated compound of Norway Pine, famous for its soothing effect on throat membranes. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

PINEX for Coughs

(ADVERTISMENT)

FLUSH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy.

If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes may need flushing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste, poisonous matter may develop, causing serious trouble. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS, which have been used successfully by millions of people for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help to flush out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes. Get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist.

GUFFEY COAL ACT UNDER ATTACK IN SUPREME COURT

Same Arguments Used as in NRA Case.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 11.—[Special.]—The Guffey coal regimentation act was weighed in the constitutional balance of the Supreme court this afternoon under inauspicious circumstances. Frederick H. Wood, eloquent New York lawyer, assailed the act with the same arguments he employed so successfully last year against the NRA.

"The primary question involved here," said Attorney Wood, "is whether business may be regimented in those productive industries wherein congress finds regimentation would be in the public interest. If the argument advanced in support of the statute be accepted, planned economy and complete paternalism in respect of all our economic activities await only an act or a series of acts of congress."

Appears for Carter Company.

Mr. Wood was speaking for James Walter Carter, head of the Carter Coal Company of Maryland. He was followed by former Federal Judge Charles I. Dawson of Louisville, Ky., representing 19 petitioners who produce 90 per cent of the coal in Kentucky. The government will present its defense tomorrow.

The nine justices of the highest court listened attentively as Mr. Wood proceeded for more than two hours. Mr. Justice Sutherland asked the only question—whether there were any special circumstances which would bring the power to regulate wages, hours, prices, etc., under the power of congress to regulate interstate commerce.

Mr. Wood replied that he did not believe any set of circumstances would give congress the powers it assumed over the coal industry in the Guffey act, and then denied that the act could be supported on the ground of removing restraints upon the flow of commerce.

No Evidence of Monopoly.

"There is no evidence of any monopoly or of any artificial restraint upon the free movement of coal," he declared. "The title of this statute, its recitals, its legislative history, its substantive provisions and its factual background clearly establish that its purpose is not to free interstate commerce in bituminous coal from artificial restraints or burdens but, on the contrary, to impose federal burdens and restrictions upon such interstate commerce, for the purpose of improving the economic well-being of persons engaged in the industry, or some of them, by the regulation of wages, the restriction of competition and the allocation of production through the establishment of coördinated prices."

The argument presented by the government's brief that wage cutting has been the principal factor in price cutting, resulting in a demoralization of the industry, Mr. Wood said, was the same argument presented by Donald R. Richberg in the Schechter NRA case. Mr. Richberg, he said, presented "a vivid recital of the downward spiral of wages and prices composed of successive wage cuts until industry had become prostrate."

Law Cannot Divert.

"This argument the court rejected," he added, "since it is no part of the authority or duty of the federal government to prevent the diversion of business from one producer to another or from one state to another under the free play of competition, or to determine where or in what amount any man or any state shall sell his or its production, either absolutely or in relation to others."

Mr. Wood also assailed the collective bargaining provisions of the act, the invalidation of which in this case undoubtedly would spell the doom of the Wagner labor relations act.

"The collective bargaining," he declared, "is even more remotely removed from interstate commerce than wages themselves, which are the product of collective bargaining."

U. S. OPENS NEW DRIVE AGAINST GANGSTERS; SEEKS AID OF POLICE

Washington, D. C., March 11.—(AP)—In a new drive on "public enemies" the federal bureau of investigation today asked local police to "hold" all persons they arrest with mutilated finger tips.

This action was taken in an intensified effort to hunt down Alvin Karpis, branded as "public enemy No. 1," and other gangsters who are known to have tried to rub out telltale finger prints by cutting or burning their fingers.

Last fall, it was disclosed, William E. Mead, wanted for questioning in connection with the kidnaping of Edward G. Bremer, St. Paul, Minn., business man, was arrested in Massachusetts on a minor automobile charge and freed before his mutilated prints were checked.

STATE APPEALS CONTRACT AWARD TO T-N-T MEMBER

Attorney General Otto Kerner filed an appeal in the Illinois Supreme court at Springfield yesterday from a ruling of the Circuit court of Sangamon county, which ordered that contracts for paving improvements in Kedzie avenue, 87th street, and Irving Park boulevard here, be awarded to John M. Bransfield, head of a Chicago excavating company. Bransfield was one of the fifteen defendants in the T-N-T conspiracy case, all of whom were acquitted in the Cook county Criminal court last year.

His firm was the low bidder on the contracts and was awarded them by the Cook county board. The state highway department withheld the work from Bransfield after he was indicted. Following his acquittal he obtained a writ of mandamus in the Sangamon county Circuit court compelling the highway department to allow his company to do the work.

The paving has been completed. The purpose of the appeal, Attorney General Kerner said, is to determine whether in future cases the highway department has the discretionary power to throw out low bids on road projects.

IT'S A STRONG FRIENDSHIP THAT CAN TAKE SKUNK

Brielle, N. J., March 11.—(AP)—Consider the tale of Frank Goble of Bay Head and James Britton of Point Pleasant, who used to be great pals. Goble had a new car, of which he was quite proud, but Britton was a friend and he loaned it to him the other night.

Britton brought the car back and with it a strange and insistent odor. Goble opened the rumble seat. Out jumped an indignant skunk.

Goble haled his erstwhile friend into court. Britton had donned new clothes for the arraignment, but the court ordered all windows opened. The charge was disorderly conduct.

Britton told the court that in a moment of whimsy he had caught the skunk and imprisoned it in the rumble seat. "I guess I was thoughtless," he said.

Contract Let for 3 More Schools in WPA's Program

The board of education yesterday awarded contracts for the construction of three elementary schools, the last of a program calling for the erection of 13 schools from funds, totaling $2,000,000, advanced by the Public Works administration. The location of the schools and their costs are: Hiawatha and Kilpatrick avenues, $121,000; 54th street and Oak Park avenue, $134,000, and Oak Park and Foster avenues, $121,000. An addition to the six story supply department building at 821 South Damen avenue to be constructed at a cost of $135,000 also was authorized by the board.

RADICALS WANT WPA AID FIRED, WORK PROMISES

Demands Are Refused by Harry Hopkins.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 11.—[Special.]—WPA Administrator Harry Hopkins today reaped a harvest of complaints from communists, radicals, and agitators whom he allowed on the works progress pay roll by an expressed order.

A delegation of representatives of the Workers' Alliance of America, a radical union of WPA workers nurtured by WPA, visited his office to present their demands. The delegation was joined by Representative Vito Marcantonio of New York, whose radical leanings recently won him a black eye at a New York meeting.

The first demand of the delegation was for the discharge of Victor F. Ridder, New York WPA director. They charged that 50 per cent of all the WPA trouble in New York City was due to incompetence of its staf and particularly of Ridder. Hopkins answered flatly that he would not discharge his subordinate, who was said to be unsympathetic to the radical union.

Present Their Demands.

The delegation then consumed two hours in putting forth their demands and complaints. The first demand was that there be no cut in the 3,500,000 persons on works relief.

Hopkins, who has ordered the discharge of 700,000 of the unemployed, said that he would not modify his ruling. He said he could make no guarantee to keep any number of persons on the works relief program after July 1 because congress has still to make a relief appropriation for the 1936-'37 fiscal year beginning that date.

The delegations also demand full union pay and union hours for persons on relief and pay for sick leave. They also demanded that all employed, whether or not on relief rolls, be given WPA work. Hopkins again stood behind his guns.

Plan April Convention.

As the delegation left the WPA office its chairman, David Lasser, said the union will call a convention in Washington for April 7 to April 10 to press for its demands. He claimed a membership for the organization of 600,000 WPA workers and said the convention will have 1,000 delegates from 40 states.

Asked who would supply funds for the delegates' traveling and maintenance expenses he replied that means would be found. Asked if reports that the communist party would pay the expenses were true, he said the money would have to come from somewhere.

CHICAGO-EUROPE PASSENGER BOAT SERVICE GROWS

A freight steamer with accommodations for six to twelve passengers will leave Chicago fortnightly this summer for European ports, according to announcement of the schedule of the Fjell line by its Chicago agents, the Great Lakes Trans-Atlantic Company, Inc. The fortnightly sailings will also be westbound to Chicago and other Great Lakes ports from London, Antwerp, Rotterdam, and Hamburg. In previous years the sailings have not been so frequent and fewer passengers were accommodated, officials said. Three new steamers to be put into service and shipping increases will make the new service possible, it was said. The voyage each way requires a month.

DISMISSES JURY IN BRIBE CASE OF U. S. APPRAISER

New York, March 11.—[Special.]—After more than ten hours of disagreement the jury in the case of Arthur G. Momeyer, former examiner at the United States Appraiser's Stores, accused of having shared bribes totaling $300,000 in a conspiracy to defraud the government of duties of $1,000,000, was dismissed tonight by Federal Judge Mortimer W. Byers.

The jury received the case following a two hour charge delivered by Judge Byers, who had been hearing evidence intermittently since Feb. 24.

The principal witness against Homeyer was Isidore Goldberg, millinery importer who did business as I. Goldberg, Inc.

Goldberg, after pleading guilty to a charge of smuggling hats into the United States, testified that he had paid bribes to Homeyer and to Frank J. Mulleh, another examiner, to undervalue merchandise he was receiving.

Thomas A. Manning and Harry E. Morton, assistant United States attorneys, estimated that the government had been cheated of $1,000,000 as a result of the conspiracy between 1927 and 1935.

Mulleh also pleaded guilty to the indictment prior to Homeyer's trial. The government contended that had he and the other examiner given honest estimates, Goldberg would have been required to pay duty ranging from 60 to 100 per cent of the value of his imports.

Goldberg, according to customs agents, shipped hats from Italy and France in large bails, but paid duty on them as if they had arrived in small bails.

Homeyer was indicted on nine counts charging smuggling and falsification of values of imported merchandise with intent to defraud the government. If convicted he could have been sentenced to a maximum prison term of 18 years and fined $50,000. He denied all of the charges in the indictment and said he was the victim of a "frameup."

Goldberg and Mulleh are still to be sentenced.

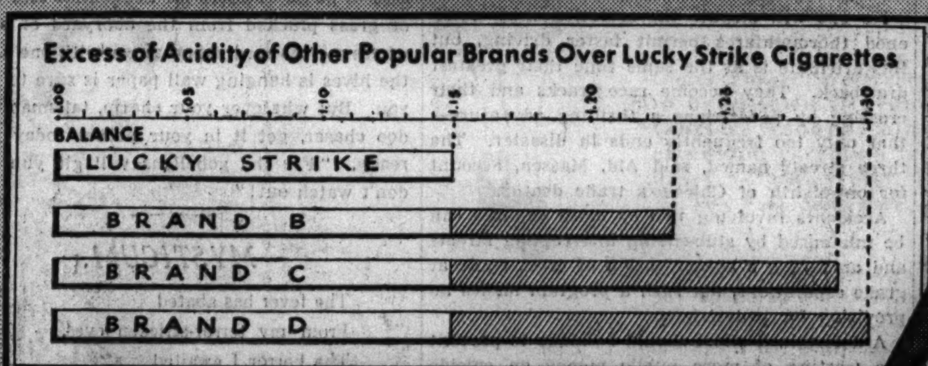
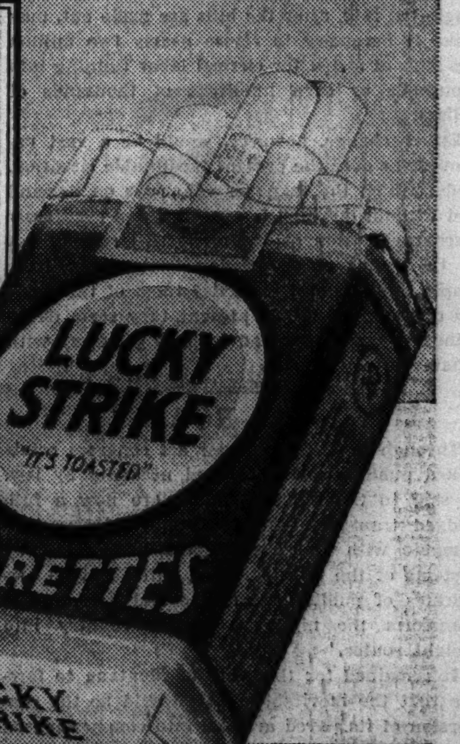
OF RICH, RIPE-BODIED TOBACCO—"IT'S TOASTED"

Luckies are less acid





PROPER AGING

Tobacco in its natural state is harsh and strong. Though "cured" by the grower before sale, it is unsuited for use without further aging. During this aging period (which ranges in the case of Lucky Strike from 1½ to 3 years) important changes occur. These "Nature" changes result in the partial "smoothing out" of the original harsh qualities of the leaf. Our process of manufacture carries these improvements many steps further—as every Lucky Strike Cigarette exemplifies: A Light Smoke of rich, ripe-bodied tobacco.

LUCKIES ARE LESS ACID!

Recent chemical tests show* that other popular brands have an excess of acidity over Lucky Strike of from 53% to 100%.

ILLEGAL TAXES.

County Judge Jarecki, in his recent letter to THE TRIBUNE, pointed out two legislative courses to prevent recurrence of the present tax collection muddle growing out of the levying of palpably illegal taxes by Chicago local governments.

Each of these courses has its disadvantages. Either, however, would be a vast improvement over the present situation. As matters now stand, some taxpayers find it profitable to withhold part of their payments and, by attacking the illegal rates in the County court after the deadline for payments has passed, succeed in having their portion of the illegal taxes wiped out.

In the past small taxpayers have had neither the means nor the information necessary to join in such attacks. They have paid the illegal taxes. This, of course, encourages the tax spenders to levy illegally. They have always been able to depend upon the failure of small taxpayers to protest the imposition.

This year Judge Jarecki has adopted a procedure which, while it is perhaps extra-legal and may require validation by the legislature, has the merit of providing justice to all taxpayers by making it possible for every one to enjoy the reductions arising from invalidation of tax rates. The machinery, however, is clumsy and is at best a temporary expedient.

Judge Jarecki points to two permanent remedies. The first is amendment of the tax laws to provide that the county judge shall pass on the validity of all levies before the rates are calculated and the tax bills made out. This would automatically protect all taxpayers against illegal levies. The danger in the procedure lies in the possibility that after a few years, if not immediately, a government proposing a doubtful levy would contrive to set up a straw man to protest against it, and, by knocking over the straw man, impose an unjust tax on the general body of taxpayers, who would be deprived by a pro-forma hearing of any substantial protection.

The second statutory remedy suggested by the judge is a provision that attacks on disputed tax rates be deferred until after the payment of the tax bills, as at present, but that the judicial invalidation of a rate on the petition of one taxpayer shall be enjoyed by all taxpayers in the county.

Here the objection lies in the extra work put on the tax collecting offices. The change of a single tax rate, after the bills are made out, may make it necessary to revise nearly two million tax bills, at a cost for clerical labor running into thousands or even hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Either change, however, would be a vast improvement over the present inequitable situation, under which the taxpayer who pays on demand and without question is penalized and eventually discouraged from paying. The real remedy lies in the hands of the taxing bodies, who have ample legal counsel to advise them of the legality of their levies. At present they seem determined to ignore such advice and get away with whatever they can.

WHOSE ROADS?

Through the motor carrier act congress established public convenience and necessity by law. It said to the industry, "You are now a full-fledged transportation institution, privileged to compete with and even supersede the railway systems of the country. You will be given certificates of public convenience and necessity to transform the highways of the country into freight routes."

It remained for the state of Montana to foresee that the inevitable result would be the conversion of its paved arteries into commercialized strips to be lined with freight depots, industries, and other facilities of trade to the detriment of their intercommunity use for pleasure. They would eventually become railway rights of way without the rails. In a proceeding that will be known as "Montana vs. United States of America and the Interstate Commerce Commission" it has asked the federal court in Montana to enjoin the enforcement of the federal motor carrier act on the ground that it is unconstitutional.

The bill of complaint asserts that the state, at great expense to its citizens, has constructed a system of highways and has instituted adequate supervision over them to insure safety and their ordinary use for pleasure; that congress, through the motor carrier act, "under pretense of regulating interstate commerce," has undertaken to usurp jurisdiction of the roads irrespective of the effect that transportation authorized may have on the safety of the public on the highways. Montana authorities have probably been able to visualize the usual course of federal regulation. Each year burocracy finds it necessary to add to its powers to the detriment of local autonomy, until, as railway history shows, it can dictate conditions of carriage between points in a single city and through city streets. There should be forty-seven interventions in this proceeding to support the contentions of the plaintif. The interveners should be the other forty-seven states.

OUR UNION AND THE BRITISH.

People who do not like the American constitution, being impatient of its restrictions, say that the British do not need its limitations. Many notable Britishers say they cannot understand why we put up with it or how we govern under it. The doctrin that a free people cannot do anything they want to through the agency of their elected representatives appears preposterous to persons who want to do in a hurry anything they want to do at any time. When parliament wants to pass a law it passes a law, and that system we are told is a sensible one for sensible people.

The British empire was an empire. It is the habit now to call it the commonwealth of British nations. The dominions are self-governing and it is acknowledged that they remain in association with each other at their own will and pleasure. The bonds are very loose and tend to become looser. The empire is a figment. As it developed or evolved it had to fall apart. Parliament does not pass laws for the various units. Each unit has a self-sufficient parliamentary body for itself. The jurisdiction of the British privy council is becoming vestigial.

Alberta can go in for social credit, Australia for all sorts of socialistic undertakings, and New Zealand can follow suit. Newfoundland made a bad job of it and had to ask to be taken back as a ward. But each self-governing dominion does as it pleases and might even stay out of a war in which Great Britain became involved. Each submits to a symbol of royalty in the person of a governor general, but he is for the most part a reflection and not a substance. The various units can withdraw, go on their own and do as they please, the law lords notwithstanding. There did not seem to be any other sensible way of handling the situation as autonomous desires manifested themselves in the various parts of the old empire.

Any one may wonder if this separation of the constituent parts was not the inevitable consequence of not having an organic law of union which protected each state in association with the others and each individual in each state from the legislation of a parliament in which all were represented. Is it not quite probable that because the British did not know how to organize a general parliament for empire affairs the various states had to drift apart? The fact that they were not joined in a territorial unity would not necessarily explain the separation. Their common affairs could have been dealt with by one common body if there had been any assurance that the general legislative body would be restricted by delegated and enumerated powers, with an umpire such as our Supreme court to see that there was no violation of the restraints.

There can be, naturally, a good deal of doubt on this subject. The British empire may have been doomed by the very fact that a constitution forming an indestructible union of sovereign states was not hit upon as the English extended their government from their own island to all parts of the world. It might, for instance, have saved them their American colonies. Again it might not have, and indeed if it had it might have been at the price of having the union parliament in Washington. Lack of a constitution for a union of states may some day rather clearly explain the recessional of the British to the confines of their own island. There they will not feel the need of a supreme law restricting their parliamentary body. They couldn't have a common legislature for all their dominions without it. So they have lost a close union. The empire dissolves into the commonwealth. The commonwealth into what?

SUICIDE DRIVES.

Ald. John A. Massen [48th] called the turn when, speaking before the West Side Real Estate board, he characterized the contemplated opening and widening of Congress street as a proposal to increase Chicago's motor massacre for the sake of inflating realty values in a limited area. The fatality records of the widened sections of Ashland and Western avenues and La Salle street provide an eloquent refutation to the claim that such "superhighways" present the correct answer to Chicago's trafic snarl.

No one will dispute the assertion that broadened thoroughfares permit faster driving, but this attribute is at the same time their greatest drawback. They become race tracks and their crossing by pedestrians a thrilling adventure—that only too frequently ends in disaster. The three streets named, said Ald. Massen, account for one-eighth of Chicago's trafic deaths.

Accidents involving two or more vehicles can be minimized by stub-ending intercepting streets and arranging a concentration of cross trafic at grade separations, but such a program makes no provision for pedestrians.

A determined effort should be made to prevent the wasting of more public money on suicide drives and to divert such funds to the construction of elevated highways, which offer both a clean lane to through trafic and safety to local movement, whether on foot or in an automobile. Real estate values will not suffer from a well formulated and executed plan, but that is a secondary matter. Just at present Chicago is occupied with preserving the lives of its citizens.

A BUSY MAN.

[Danville (Ill.) Commercial News.]

Walter J. Cummings, treasurer of the Democratic national committee, has done very well by himself, according to Senator Couzens.

The Michigan senator, who, incidentally, never has been accused of party bias when he launches an attack, says Mr. Cummings draws $75,000 a year as chairman of the Continental Illinois bank of Chicago. The RFC has lent $50,000,000 to this bank.

Cummings got this job before he became Democratic treasurer. But Senator Couzens says Mr. Cummings also draws $15,000 a year as RFC representative on the board of a steam railroad to which funds have been advanced.

Then Mr. Couzens added that Mr. Cummings holds an office in the Chicago City railroad, the American Car and Foundry company, and possibly another equipment company.

A busy man!

LIFE THESE DAYS IN NEW YORK.

By the Line's Own Special Correspondent.

New York, March 11.—Van Peekskille Muchcash signaled from his magnificent penthouse on top of the exclusive Snootsneer Towers Apartment building yesterday that he was suffering severely owing to the strike, as his stock of gin is completely exhausted and he has only two bottles of Scotch between himself and starvation. Two airplanes are being made ready to fly over the Snootsneer Towers and drop supplies for the relief of Mr. Muchcash early today.

A woman residing on the forty-ninth floor of an apartment building telephoned the police demanding they locate her husband, who left yesterday to go down on the street level and get sardines, cigarets, and a tube of tooth paste. The police told the excited woman to sit tight, as her husband hadn't had time to complete his journey, but was probably at that very moment toiling wearily up the stairs somewhere between the fortieth and forty-fifth floors.

Searchers set out yesterday afternoon to locate M. Skipton Hiroller, reported lost somewhere in the 65 story apartment building where he resides. The searchers sent two well trained St. Bernard dogs with their keeper, a Swiss from the Alpine region. In two hours the dogs and their keeper returned completely exhausted and said they had only been able to ascend as high as the thirty-ninth story. "The Alps," said the Swiss, when he was revived enough to talk, "are very high and steep, of course, but I would rather climb the Matterhorn with my feet in a potato sack and my hands tied behind me than try to make the ascent of a New York apartment house again as long as the strike is on."

The M. Swankley Gotcashes are wiring all the aid bureaus and explaining their most unhappy dilemma. It seems that Mrs. Gotcash was entertaining her bridge club when the strike in their apartment building was called. She explained the matter to her guests, some forty or more very stout ladies, and bid them good-by, but as the Gotcashes live on the 74th floor the bridge club declined to leave and have eaten up everything in the apartment and are still calling for food. Mrs. Gotcash asks that airplanes drop caviar, minced ham, goose liver, jelly, and other kinds of sandwiches and indigestible things that lady bridge players exist on as soon as possible into a clothes basket she is fastening outside her front window.

MAN.

It's not enough to break a man, ill fortune;
And not enough that friends are lost or die,
While burns one unread star, a ray uncharted
Within the cosmic empire of the sky.

Half drowned with life, caught by the boiling torrent—
Half dead in darkness from the rocks and sleet,
Man is the thing that bleeding and unchastened
Runs to the next faint dawn on eager feet.

Man is the one that, being beaten, knows not,
Whose last breath drawn in pain speaks faith and reason
Sublimely at the bidding of his soul—

Who counts it not inordinately odd
That, by him given, breath returns to God.

LILA TERRY.

DON'T WAIT until the hoodoo has you in his clutches. Tomorrow is Friday the 13th. Tonight at the dread hour of midnight out pop the witches, the hobgoblins, and the imps of perdition. Get your hind leg of a graveyard rabbit all ready and wear it in your hip pocket. Or carry it in your reticule if you are one of those who do not have hip pockets. Three drops of the blood of a toad is said to be an antidote for hobgoblins and a blade of grass plucked from the dooryard of a house where a cross-eyed paperhanger with one arm and the hives is hanging wall paper is sure to protect you. But whatever your charm, talisman or hoodoo chaser, get it in your pocket today and be ready. "Fer the gobellens will git yuh ef yuh don't watch out!"

MYSTICUM.

The fever has abated
From my terror-stricken eyes,
The horror I awaited
Now in awful silence lies;
And gone are harpies, winged and rare,
That lately thronged the misty air—
A peace, the peace beyond compare
Has quieted my cries.

The city I erected
With my shaking hands of pain,
The vision I perfected
When I thought the labor vain—
All these are shattered to the core,
Dry ruins I shall heed no more
While all about will downward pour
The soft, benumbing rain.

And you who sit elated
Over victories so won,
See wondrous things created
In small things but half begun,
Suspend a kingdom from a word
Whose meaning is one half absurd,
The other half rests undisturbed

FOOT HYGIENE.

MOST of us are familiar with the greenish-white, fuzzy molds which are sometimes found growing on bread that has been kept for some days in a moist, warm place. Molds are tiny, threadlike plants which produce spores [seeds] but which cannot manufacture their own food; that is, they contain no chlorophyl [green coloring matter] and hence must derive their nourishment from other sources.

Molds can grow on the human skin, particularly where it is moist and warm, and one of the most common manifestations is known as athlete's foot or ringworm, which we know is not a worm at all but a plant fungus. In the popular mind the disease is supposed to be contracted in or about swimming pools and to affect the feet, particularly the areas between the toes. Perspiration keeps the skin moist and the plant finds plenty of food in the soft layers of cells which are shed from time to time.

Why are feet particularly susceptible? Most of us imprison our pedal extremities in hose and snug lether covering for approximately fifteen hours each day. Instead of changing our footwear once or twice daily, some of us will use the same pair of shoes for months without cleansing or disinfection. Furthermore, they rarely receive sufficient airing. We wash underwear and socks and clean suits, dresses, etc., but never recondition our shoes. If one has two pairs of shoes equally comfortable and serviceable, and if each could be worn on alternate days, we would rather promptly reduce the percentage of foot infections.

If there is the slightest evidence of infection all types of shoes not in use should be kept in an airy, light place and given an occasional sunbath. If an infection is known to exist, formaldehyde may be employed for the purpose of disinfection.

It is easy to understand how infection occurs. Feet perspire more readily than other parts of the body, and the amount of ventilation which they receive during the hours of activity is minimal. Under heat and moisture, therefore, the outer layers of skin between the toes degenerate and provide an ideal culture bed for fungi. The reason athlete's foot became so troublesome during the world war was because the soldiers were compelled to wear heavy boots for long periods of time without adequate opportunities for bathing or changing.

Ringworm does not confine its activities to the feet. Any part of the body may become affected where conditions are suitable. Favorite sites are the skin folds of the groin, under the breast, beneath the arms, etc. The scalp and hairy portions of the body may also become involved. Molds grow best in semi-darkness or where there is but little light. They are destroyed by sunshine. One authority believes that if we would cover the hands with close fitting woolen or lether gloves and wear them as long as we do shoes the whole nation would be troubled with athlete's hands.

Normal, healthy skin will not become infected. An investigator attempted to inoculate patients with one of the common molds but was unable to do so unless he first produced a softening [maceration] of the skin and maintained that condition for quite some time. It is also well known that if circulation is impaired nutrition to the skin is decreased and infection with fungi is more readily acquired.

Despite what we have hitherto considered scrupulous cleanliness, if we would avoid mold infections, the feet and all skin folds of the body should be bathed frequently and then dried thoroughly. In this way conditions which will not permit fungi to grow are maintained. We cannot kill off all molds around a swimming pool, as one infected individual may liberate millions of spores at a single visit. We can, however, expose the feet to air and sunlight. During most seasons of the year we can wear medium to lightweight footgear and during the winter time good foot hygiene should be a matter of special concern.

We have a leaflet on the prevention and management of athlete's foot, which can be obtained by sending a stamped and addressed envelope with request.

ADMINISTRATOR'S BOND.

Tucson, Ariz., March 3.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—The administrator of an estate has a bonding company which is listed in the court report as a surety bonding company. 1. What is the purpose or duties of such a bonding company? This estate is four years old and [2] the administrator has refused at all times to give an accounting of the estate and, from information we have, has not acted legally in handling the estate. Can he be removed from the post of administrator, and under what conditions?

P. W.

1. The surety company in signing the administrator's bond agrees to make good if the administrator absconds. We suggest that you read the bond for a more detailed statement of the obligation.

2. He is under no obligation to account to the beneficiaries. If you mean that he has not accounted to the court, we suggest that you take the matter up with Assistant Judge Kelley in the county building, Chicago.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

SALE OF ASSETS.

Chicago, March 7.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—My father recently passed away in a foreign country. He left some valuable property, consisting of a mortgage on a building and land. I have the mortgage in my possession, although my name is not mentioned in it. It states that on expiration the money is to be paid to my father or his assignee. My brother is administrator of the estate and we desire to sell this mortgage to a person here. What steps are necessary to sell this mortgage? 1. Can I sell the mortgage or is my brother the only authorized person? 2. Please explain how this is done and to whom should the mortgage be taken to receive the authority? 3. Can my brother sign over papers making me administrator and thus giving me authority to dispose of the mortgage? 4. In selling to another party do I need an attorney or can I simply state for a consideration I transfer this property to, etc.? 5. How can my brother transfer the administrator's papers to me without legal service?

J. J. G.

1. It does not seem probable that you can find a purchaser here for a mortgage on foreign property. You would have to sell where the property is located and we suggest that you get an attorney there to advise you as to what a purchaser would be likely to demand. We doubt if you will be able to sell the mortgage to advantage. If not, your only dealings will be with the mortgage debtor and if he is willing to pay without probate, then this would settle the question.

2. In order to ascertain the chances of sale, take the matter up with a broker where the land lies.

3. A Probate court would be the only agency that could appoint you as administrator.

4. Much depends on whether the papers are so worded as to be payable to bearer, or whether they require an indorsement.

5. We do not understand what you mean by transferring the administrator's papers. Your letter indicates that you do not understand the subject matter well enough to secure advice by letter, hence we suggest that you have a personal interview with an attorney. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

FROM ACROSS THE SEA

BY HUGH CURRAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

DUBLIN.—The deep attachment of the Irishman to the land is one of the outstanding characteristics of the race. Whether the farm is half a dozen acres or a hundred, the family which has been reared there regard it with a veneration that is almost idolatrous. Members of the family who are obliged to go abroad to make a career for themselves invariably keep in touch with the old spot, and there is always a hankering feeling that some day they would return and end their days there. Mostly this hope proves illusory, but nevertheless it has helped to cheer the heart of many an emigrant in distant parts of the earth. It has been enshrined in many outbursts in prose and poetry since Lady Dufferin wrote "The Irish Emigrant's Lament" many years ago.

It was this intense sentimental love of the land which was behind the land war, started half a century ago by Davitt, Dillon, and others, when the demand was for the three F's—namely: fair rent, fixity of tenure, and free sale. And it was the same which brought about what was then regarded as the final settlement in the early years of the present century when land laws were passed enabling every holder to become the proprietor of his land. That was admittedly the supreme triumph of all the agitation to root the peasant in the soil. And it was the work of a British government, a fact which is fully acknowledged by every one. When an Irish government took over control of the country it was natural to expect that it would endeavor to speed up the work and to make things easier for the emancipated peasantry. Landlords have ceased to exist, and there is no such thing as rent. In theory only this is true; but in practice it is somewhat different. It is only for those tenants who have paid off the amount of their purchase that landlord and rent have disappeared. For the others the government has taken the place of the landlord, and instead of rent it exacts what is called annuity.

It has been found that in certain ways even an Irish government can be as severe in its exactions as the worst landlord of the olden days. In addition to requiring prompt payments of annuities the government has shown a disposition to interfere in the management of the farmer's business such as no landlord ever did. Under a land act passed by President de Valera's government in 1933 very drastic powers were taken to insist that the land should be cultivated in such a way as to secure the best results and to provide the maximum of employment in the neighborhood.

The object of the government in making these stipulations was to force the farmers to conform to a policy of tilling the land to a greater extent and raising fewer cattle for export, so that the country would become more and more independent of the British market.

It has been a difficult task to make some farmers who had been accustomed to raising only cattle adopt the more arduous tillage farming, and some actually refuse to do it. These latter are now smarting under the application of De Valera's legislature. The law provides that any farmer who fails to till a certain proportion of his land and thus provide employment for the laborers is liable to have his land taken away from him and given whatever compensation the land commission may assess. This is usually much below the value which the farmer himself puts on it. The land is then parceled out amongst the smaller farmers and working people who are always ready to embark in farming on their own account.

So many farmers have been dispossessed lately at the instance of the land commission that there has now been started a campaign against government interference. The slogan has been raised that the fixity of tenure for which their forefathers had made so many sacrifices is being taken away, and one deputy in the dail eireann declared that the action of the government was paving the way for another and bloody land war. While nobody anticipates any serious development of this kind, it has to be admitted that the instances of virtual confiscation recently mentioned in the dail are sufficient to indicate that there is cause enough for serious discontent, and that the government will be well advised to go slow in a policy which, if persevered in, would be certain to make for widespread trouble.

Notwithstanding efforts of the De Valera government to introduce a measure of industrialization, the land and the farmer who works it must continue for a long time to be the vital elements in this country. Recognizing his importance, the farmer who is instinctively conservative will refuse to be jockied into any new system of farming. If he can make more and easier money by raising cattle rather than by tilling extensively there is no doubt as to which method he will adopt. And he will not pause to consider whether it squares with the exigencies of Mr. de Valera's policy or not.

FREIGHT TRUCKS IN THE HOME STREET.

Rock Island, Ill., March 5.—I have just read your editorial, "Freight Trucks in the Home Street," and surely am surprised that you would in one sentence accuse the representatives at Springfield of never reading the bills that are presented and then, by what you have left out of the editorial, prove that you only hastily read the bill in question and picked on one minor little thing. Either that, or else on purpose you refrained from mentioning any one of the good points of the bill.

Did you know that under the law every common carrier freight line must have a certificate of convenience and necessity? And did you know that it is practically impossible for the average truck line to obtain one? Did you know that several lines have spent $5,000 and $10,000 and even $15,000 trying to obtain a certificate without success? And that one large transportation service says that it cost $130,000 to obtain a certificate and that now that it has one it will see that all other truck lines will be driven out of business until they get a certificate? Which only means ruin to all of them.

The house bills 110 and 111 to which you refer will only make it possible for those lines that have invested heavily and which employ thousands of men to stay in business. It only gives them the same grandfather's rights that the federal law has given them. THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE has its own boat equipment and operates in competition with the rail lines over a "highway" it does not own or maintain just the same as truck lines do, only the truck lines pay into the state in taxes and in licenses one-half of all the money collected for building and maintaining the highways it uses. Would you like to have some one tell you that you could not use the waterways until after you had spent a year or so applying for and waiting for a certificate?

If you had read the bill thoroughly you would have seen that the right is reserved to all cities and villages to regulate truck trafic and prescribe those streets upon which they may travel and those on which trucks cannot travel [except for short distance from nearest intersection for purpose of making delivery on that street]. N. B. GOSLINE.

THE PRICE OF PROGRESS.

Chicago, March 5.—Sunday's TRIBUNE contains an article headed "Test of New Gary Steel Mill Termed Success."

"A new rolling mill which enables a crew of six men to handle the work on a process which formerly required 200 men."

This means 194 men thrown out of work. A great success for the owners of the steel mill—but how about the 194 laborers? F. PARKER.

YOUR TEETH OR YOUR LIFE.

Chicago, March 6.—I want you to know how very much the dental profession in Chicago, and particularly the 2,500 members of the Chicago Dental society, appreciate your vigorous presentation of an important public health feature in your issue of Sunday, Feb. 23. The article, "Your Teeth or Your Life," is one of the most intelligent, factually correct, and understandable articles on a health subject that I have ever seen in the public press.

We are all familiar with the campaign you have carried on against quacks and charlatans in the healing professions. Now we thank you for another important contribution to the public health of this community.

LIQUOR AND THE DEATH RATE.

Sterling, Ill., March 8.—On April 2, 1933, you published my letter in which I called attention to the fact that during prohibition the death rate of the United States had been reduced from 14.3 per 1,000 population to 10.6 per 1,000 population.

In April of 1933 beer with an alcoholic content of 3.2 was legalized and I predicted that the death rate would rise simultaneously with the return of beer.

I have just learned that the death rate for 1934, the first full year of legalized liquor, is .3 per 1,000 population higher than for 1933. Estimating the population of the United States at 130,000,000, this means 39,000 lives lost as a result of repeal. EDWARD J. EISELE.

TWO MOTHERS AND SIX BABIES.

Keokuk, Ia., March 7.—There may be many readers who have followed with admiration and good wishes the news reports from two famous mothers, the Canadian Mrs. Dionne and our own former Barbara Hutton, but have many readers ever thought of the distinguishing differences between these world known people? The American born lady has one baby attended by five doctors whereas the Canadian lady has five babies attended by one doctor.

FUNERAL PROCESSIONS.

Chicago, Feb. 26.—Just a word about funeral processions. I have respect for them and believe that they deserve some consideration on the streets of the city, but I do wish that the city council would notify all parties concerned that entering into or crossing a thoroughfare that has the right of way by authority of the green light of a trafic signal is certainly hazardous. ALEXANDER J. RUZA.

SUGGESTION.

Chicago, Feb. 20.—A few days ago you had a cartoon on the front page showing the factories closed during Roosevelt's régime. May I suggest that Orr draw one representing the banks that were closed during the Hoover-Republican depression? There are several disgracing every community, not to mention those converted into beer parlors, drug stores or undertaking parlors. ED. NELSON.

GAMBLING.

Chicago, March 5.—What has Mayor Kelly got against the First ward that he is having the police raid all the gambling places in the loop when the north, west and south sides are wide open? Is he trying to make a Sunday school town out of Chicago? Well, it can't be done.

PEACE REIGNS (AT MOMENT) FOR TOM MANVILLES

All Serene After Another Grand Battle.

New York, March 11.—[Special.]—Reconciled for the steenth time, Tommy Manville and his fourth wife, the beautiful Marcelle Edwards, came in to New York today apparently none the worse for a lively rumpus last night which resulted from Manville's attempt to have Marcelle arrested. For two hours the struggle transformed to asbestos heir's Mamaroneck mansion into a glass strewn battleground.

Exhausted after the fracas, Manville clutched Marcelle to his breast and declared that he would wait until daybreak before having her thrown off his Bon Repos estate. But overnight he changed his mind, and the pair drove away from the house this morning smiling amiably at each other.

Miss Dorothy Goering, Manville's secretary, said she expected them back at Bon Repos tonight.

Back from Reno to Papa.

Mrs. Manville recently returned east from Reno, abandoning her residence there after Manville sent a series of telegrams urging her to "come home to papa." Another of their frequent spats seemed patched up and divorce proceedings shelved.

The reconciliation, however, was more in the nature of an armistice than a permanent truce. Yesterday Mrs. Manville went out to Bon Repos and whatever repose Manville had been enjoying prior to her arrival promptly vanished when she reached the scene.

By 7 p. m. the Manvilles were getting warmed up for another riotous row, and the mansion of Bon Repos rang with the tumult of battle in which neither side spared the other. By 7:10 p. m., the time it took reporters to reach the estate, the asbestos heir and the former "Follies" beauty were going it hammer and tongs.

He Calls in Gendarmes.

Manville sprang to a telephone during a minor lull and called the Mamaroneck police, demanding that they send a policeman out to the estate and arrest his wife. The police knew Manville as an old patron. They'd had calls like that before. They sent Patrolman George Blennis out to investigate.

A large quantity of glass had been destroyed without damaging either Manville or his wife by the time Blennis arrived at the flood lighted, closely guarded house. Reporters and photographers were interested spectators.

Blennis reported that Manville, in forcible language, demanded that the policeman eject Mrs. Manville, no mean feat in itself, and then arrest her, but was not able offhand to say what he wanted her arrested for. Blennis pointed out that unless Manville preferred some specific charge he was powerless to take action.

So the argument was continued for two hours, Blennis watching to see what happened, and if Manville could decide what he wanted to charge his wife with.

A Spot for a Solomon.

She, for her part, alternately assailed her husband with expressions of intense dislike and passionate affection. If Blennis had not known the Manvilles he would have been utterly bewildered.

Finally, around 9 p. m., the couple were too tired to fight any more. Newspaper men left, reluctantly, and Blennis, seeing that his services were no longer required, withdrew to report the night's adventure to Sergt. Tobias Abiahansen.

EX-POLICE CHIEF IS IDENTIFIED AS A HOLDUP SLAYER

Robert R. Jones, 4605 Prairie avenue, colored, former police chief of Robbins, was identified yesterday at the state's attorney's office as the robber who shot and killed Philip Whaley Jr., 21 years old, 7113 Vernon avenue, in a holdup last May 26.

Whaley was riding in an automobile driven by Kenneth L. Coffin, 21 years old, 7549 Constance avenue, when a colored man stepped on the running board of the car as it stopped for a trafic light at Michigan avenue and 43d street. The robber posed as a policeman, displaying a star, and ordered Coffin to drive to the Wabash avenue police station for a pretended trafic violation.

In front of 4624 South Wabash avenue the robber told Whaley it was a holdup. When Whaley resisted he was shot. The robber fled after taking $6.50 and Whaley's wrist watch.

Although Jones denied the charge yesterday, Assistant State's Attorney Charles S. Dougherty said he had been identified by Coffin.

DIES OF HEART DISEASE.

Plan Salvation Army Service

Commissioner William A. McIntyre, territorial commander of the Salvation Army, studying Sunday Evening club program for Salvation Army night, which will be next Sunday. With him are Capt. Bessie Ewbank and Cadet Lillian Massey. The territorial band and 150 cadets will take part in the service.

Event Next Sunday

Salvation Army night will be observed by the Sunday Evening club, Orchestra hall, next Sunday night, according to an announcement by Commissioner William A. McIntyre of the central states area. The territorial band will lead the singing of 100 army lads and lassies from all army training schools of Chicago, and the consecrated soldiery of the army numbering about 3,000 will be present. Dr. John Timothy Stone, president of Presbyterian Theological seminary, will be the principal speaker.

SALOONKEEPER IS FINED $50 FOR SLUGGING EDITOR

Attempt to Change Plea Is Denied.

Dominic [Bud] Nardi, Chicago Heights saloonkeeper and former pugilist, was fined $50 and costs yesterday for assaulting Kevin McCann, suburban newspaper editor, on the night of Feb. 28. The fine was imposed by Justice of the Peace Conrad Linder of Chicago Heights after a three hour hearing.

Nardi slugged the editor in front of the Chicago Heights police station after McCann published an article in his paper, the South Suburban News, charging that the saloonkeeper was active in a gambling ring. Nardi, testifying in his own defense yesterday, admitted he knocked the editor to the ground and, when McCann attempted to rise, hit him twice more. Nardi claimed McCann tried "to make a pass" at him.

Move to Change Denied.

At a preliminary hearing on March 4 Nardi pleaded guilty to the assault charge. He tried to change his plea to not guilty yesterday on the ground that he did not have a lawyer at the first hearing. Justice Linder overruled the motion of Nardi's attorney, Robert Meier, to change the plea.

McCann then took the stand and was questioned by Assistant State's Attorney Francis T. McCurrie, who was appointed a special prosecutor in the case.

"I was waiting for a bus at 16th and Halsted streets [Chicago Heights] about 5 o'clock in the evening, on Feb. 28," the editor testified. "I heard my name called and a man I did not know tapped me on the shoulder. He asked me if I knew him and I said I didn't.

"He then told me he was Bud Nardi and I gave him my name. I extended my hand and we shook hands. The next thing I knew he hit me on the mouth and I fell. As I tried to get up he struck me twice more."

Witness Describes Attack.

Paul Shanks, who operates a loan office near the scene of the assault, said he was standing at the window and saw Nardi knock McCann down and then hit him twice more. Nardi then drove away in his automobile with two other men, Shanks testified.

Nardi took the stand and declared he had heard McCann was looking for him.

"I wanted to find out what he wanted," the saloonkeeper said, "so I came up to him and asked him why he was printing all those lies about me. He reached back, as if to make a pass, and swore at me. So I beat him to the draw and hit him three times."

Four witnesses, including Nardi's brother, Joe, corroborated his story.

Prosecutor McCurrie then summed up the case and demanded the maximum fine of $100 and costs for Nardi. Justice Linder cut this to $50 and costs. Attorney Meier indicated he may appeal to the Cook County Criminal court and Nardi was allowed his freedom on the $500 bond posted when he was arrested. McCurrie said he would welcome an appeal and believed a jury would impose the maximum fine.

3 U. S. JUDGES HOLD CLEANING RULE ACT VOID

Newark, N. J., March 11.—(AP)—Three federal judges ruled today that the state act to regulate the cleaning and dyeing industry was unconstitutional.

Counsel for the board created by the act announced that the decision would be appealed to the United States Supreme court.

In an opinion by District Judge William Clark, and concurred in by Circuit Court Judge J. Warren Davis and District Judge Philip Forman, the legislation was held a violation of the "due process" clause of the federal constitution.

The decision resulted from the challenge of four chain store establishments which attacked the code's constitutionality in test suits heard by the three judges.

The act, effective since Dec. 20, granted complete regulatory powers to the board.

Mayor La Guardia Acts to End 11 Day Tieup.

BULLETIN.

New York, March 12 (Thursday).—(Special.)—Settlement of the strike of elevator operators appeared to be near early this morning as a conference of representatives of the Realty Advisory board and strike leaders brought about by Mayor F. H. La Guardia continued at city hall.

New York, March 11.—[Special.]—An end of the eleven day strike of building service employés was seen today when Walter Gordon Merritt, counsel to the realty advisory board of labor relations, representing the majority of buildings affected by the walkout, informed Mayor F. H. La Guardia that the board was willing to confer and agree on an arbitrator to settle the controversy.

The mayor promptly called a conference between representatives of the union and the realty interests.

It was considered possible that Henry Bruere, president of the Bowery Savings bank, may be the neutral arbitrator agreed upon.

Before entering the conference Mr. Merritt and William D. Rawlins, executive secretary of the realty board, made it clear that the board was not prepared to make any concession to the union, beyond its offer to extend the Curran award and arbitrate the question of wages.

Ready to Recognize Union.

Merritt, in a radio address, urged members of the realty advisory board to return to the Curran award if the union accepted the proposal. His offer carried with it provisions for recognition of Local 32-B of the Building Service Employés' union, the local immediately concerned in the strike; employment of only members of the union in good standing to fill jobs vacated by other members in good standing; arbitration of minimum standards of wages and hours, as well as of methods to secure observance of standards.

The proposal implied recognition, in part, of the principle of the preferential shop, although it did not go as far in this direction as did Mayor La Guardia's peace proposal of last Saturday, and definitly eluded the closed shop, which the union itself has abandoned.

Mayor Refuses to Ride with "Scab."

Pickets marching in the rain outside the Herald-Tribune building laid down their signs and went back to work long enough to give Mayor La Guardia a union labor ride to the Crime forum meeting on the ninth floor today.

"I am the mayor," he told them, and shook hands. "I want to go to the ninth floor, but I won't ride with a scab."

The pickets volunteered to make a special dispensation and took the mayor up.

Shortly before the conference went into session tonight, a score of detectives made a surprise raid on the offices of the American Confidential Bureau, Inc., which supplies guards and strikebreakers to building owners, and arrested 31 men.

ALLEGED OWNER OF HANDBOOK IS HELD IN SHOOTING

Raymond Zawacki, 29 years old, 1026 West 32d street, was shot and critically wounded yesterday in an alleged handbook on the second floor at 3139 South Morgan street. Edward Eckert, 4218 South Albany avenue, reputed owner of the place, who said he is a barber, was arrested by Lieut. John J. Farrell of the Deering street police. Eckert said Zawacki and two men with whom he entered began fighting and throwing the furniture around. He thought it was a robbery, Eckert said, and he fired one shot.

CRAIGIE FINISHES FIRST SECTION OF NEW DICTIONARY

Sir William Craigie, professor emeritus of English at the University of Chicago, announced yesterday that he has completed the first section of his historical dictionary of the American language and the manuscript is now in the printer's hands. The first section will be published within two months. Twenty-four more sections will appear at intervals.

The dictionary will trace the history of every word which is American in origin or has distinctive American usages. Professor Craigie has been engaged in research on the work for ten years at the university.

Professor Craigie will leave today to visit southern universities and will sail for England on April 4. He intends to remain there for research on the historical dictionary of Middle Scottish, now about one-fourth completed, which he is editing.

BRIGHT COLORED WASHING LURES BEES FROM HOME

Mrs. Amanda Fritsche, 107 North 14th avenue, Melrose Park, complained to the suburban police yesterday that the laundry hanging in her yard was being invaded by bees from a hive in the home of Joseph Gombrowicz next door at 105 North 14th avenue. Policemen Wilfred May and August Knockemus went to Gombrowitcz's home and told him he would have to keep the insects from becoming a nuisance. "I'll do the best I can," Gombrowicz promised. "The bees won't hurt any one. It's the bright color of the washing next door that makes them leave their hives."

GUNMAN GETS $15 IN HURRY.

A customer who said he wanted to buy a tie in a hurry drew a revolver and robbed Robert Brickman, owner of a haberdashery at 3330 South Halsted street, of $15 yesterday.

STATE TO ACCEPT OLD AGE PENSION PLEAS MARCH 16

Illinois to Pay Its Half, Despite U. S. Delay.

Joseph L. Moss, head of the Cook county bureau of public welfare, announced yesterday that applications for pensions under the Illinois old age assistance laws will be accepted, in person or by mail, at the bureau relief offices in the city and county beginning March 16.

It is expected that 25,000 persons, about 20,000 of whom are now on relief, will apply for the pensions.

The state program provides for dispensing $30 a month to persons 65 years old and otherwise eligible for assistance. Half of this sum is to be supplied from state appropriations and half from federal funds through congressional appropriation.

The federal funds to match the state's appropriation are not yet assured, but James H. Andrews, superintendent of old age assistance in the state department of public welfare at Springfield, yesterday notified Clayton F. Smith, president of the Cook county board, that the state will provide $15 a month per person even though the federal allotment is delayed.

The applications received at the relief offices will be forwarded to the administrative office of the old age assistance service at 1304 Indiana avenue, where they will be investigated.

Miss Anne J. Bigus, a supervisor in the bureau of public welfare, was appointed head of the assistance service. The applications must be made in duplicate and notarized. The notarizing will be done without cost at the relief stations. The setup for distribution of the pensions was approved yesterday by the county board.

GARDINER OFFERS TO TAKE MILLION AS ESTATE SHARE

New York, March 11.—[Special.]—Robert David Lion Gardiner, law student, has offered to settle for a million dollars his claim against the 42 million dollar estate of his spinster great aunt, Mary Gardiner Thompson.

Amid charges that his great aunt was kept a virtual prisoner at her home and revelations that historic Gardiner's Island has been offered for sale as a result of her death, the offer was made today in the chambers of Surrogate James A. Delehanty. It is understood that the proposal was refused.

Miss Thompson, who left most of her wealth to six charitable institutions, lived a recluse's life, Gardiner said. He was bequeathed approximately $200,000. Delehanty will consider Gardiner's claim before deciding whether the case shall be tried.

News of the Radio Stations

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

Lionel Barrymore is to become a bacon and butter salesman. He has just been engaged for his first weekly radio series by the Chicago packer who has been sponsoring Sigmund Romberg's music for two seasons. Barrymore will make his first appearance as master of ceremonies on the program over NBC at 9:30 next Monday evening in the period which Grace Moore has just vacated. Romberg's music and guest singers and entertainers will be used also.

Music, it seems, is not enough. Increasingly more sponsors are turning to the big names of Hollywood. The strategy in this particular case is this: The sponsor, who has been airing his show at 10 on Tuesdays, wanted an earlier hour. So when Miss Moore decided to head for Europe he grabbed her time. But the CBS Radio theater, featuring big actors regularly, is heard at the same hour. So this titan of the stage was picked with the view that he could wean listeners away from the Radio theater presentations.

The competition for Hollywood names on radio shows is expected to reach a white heat by midsummer. Romberg was the first of the big eastern shows to move west. George Olsen and Ethel Shutta, who also use guests, will follow him in April. Frank Fay will go out in June and Rudy Vallee also will head west in summer.

Al Jolson heads another variety hour out there which Wallace Beery will soon take over. Then there's Bing Crosby's Thursday night show. All these are aired over NBC and all are produced by one advertising agency, the same that handles Maj. Bowes. Remembering the old adage that names make news this agency holds to the view that names win listeners.

With all these shows taking up their stand in Hollywood agencies are expecting that film stars will up their salary demands. All of those on the above mentioned shows are paid goodly sums. Over at CBS Hollywood Hotel continues the arrangement under which a columnist "invites" the glamorous of cinema land to be her guests [gratis, it is said] and not many refuse. Mary Pickford also puts on an all-star show over CBS, but in her case the guest entertainers are said to be paid for by the agency handling the routining of the show.

MRS. F. M. ELLIOT LEAVES $96,000 IN CHARITY GIFTS

The provisions of a trust established in 1921 by the late Mrs. Anna Shuman Elliot providing for the distribution of $96,000 in charitable bequests after her death, were announced yesterday by officials of the State Bank and Trust company of Evanston.

Mrs. Elliot, widow of Frank M. Elliot, Chicago realty dealer and former trustee of Northwestern university, died at the age of 79 on March 4 in her apartment at the Orrington hotel, Evanston. Mrs. Elliot was the daughter of Andrew Shuman, editor of the old Chicago Evening Journal, who died more than 40 years ago.

To Northwestern university she left $20,000 to be used as an endowment for the maintenance of Lutkin hall or an auditorium in the Music building, which is to be erected by the university. An additional bequest of $5,000 is left to the university to be used for the purchase of books for the "Frank M. Elliot Collection" in Deering library.

The trust leaves $50,000 to the Evanston Community hospital to which Mrs. Elliot donated liberally during her lifetime, according to the bank officials. There are several smaller bequests.

CHARLES HOLLISS, TRIBUNE WORKER 11 YEARS, DEAD

Mr. Holliss had been employed in the classified advertising department of THE TRIBUNE for eleven years. Prior to that he worked thirty-two years for the packing firm of Morris & Co., later absorbed by Armour & Co.

Surviving Mr. Holliss are his widow, Mrs. Annie Coleman Holliss; two children, Mrs. Bonner and Roy C. Holliss, and two sisters, Misses Agnes and Grace Holliss. Funeral services will be held Saturday in St. Mary's, Ont., near Mr. Holliss' birthplace at Goderich, Ont.

HOTEL INCIDENT OPENS NEW DRIVE IN MINNEAPOLIS

Grand Jury Calls Victim of "Jack Rolling."

Minneapolis, Minn., March 11.—[Special.]—The Hennepin county grand jury was reported ready today to rip the lid from protected vice in Minneapolis.

The subject of inquiry ever since the murder last Dec. 9 of Editor Walter W. Liggett, who had charged that vice, liquor violators, and racketeers in general were operating in Minneapolis under political protection, impetus for the blowoff was reported to have come from the $330 robbery of a rural blacksmith in an alleged house of ill fame.

Insistent charges by the blacksmith, Ingvar A. Nordby of Sundburg, Minn., involved the Bell hotel, raided a score of times in the last five years. The question flung in official faces is why has the place been permitted to stay open in the face of many complaints about its reputation as a disorderly house.

Two Women Brought In.

On Nordby's complaint, two women were brought into Municipal court yesterday. He testified that he had met the one girl, known to him as "Ginger," in the second floor hotel; had gone to sleep in a room after drinking a glass of "beer," and had awakened to find his wallet and the $330 gone. Charges against the women were dismissed by Judge Fred B. Wright Jr. after two police detectives had testified.

As the grand jury prepared to call the blacksmith today, it was also planning a thorough inquiry into police activity in connection with other resorts.

Actions to padlock more than 22 night spots and alleged vice resorts were being drawn by the county attorney's office.

Mayor Orders Inquiry.

Mayor Thomas E. Latimer sounded the call for official action in the Nordby case by ordering the police department to make an investigation "all the way down the line" of the Bell hotel's reputation. The mayor was vigorously outspoken about the scandal brewed by the blacksmith's story.

"This sort of publicity," he said, "is worse for Minneapolis than anything THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE has printed. You can laugh that off. But you can't laugh this off. It's bad for Minneapolis."

"I'm ordering the police department to make a thorough investigation, not only of the Bell hotel, but of all similar institutions of this kind. I want the police department to check all the licenses under which the Bell hotel is operating."

FORMER MAINE HEAD OF RELIEF INDICTED; 14 OTHERS ACCUSED

Augusta, Me., March 11.—(AP)—Fifteen men, including John A. McDonough, former Maine ERA administrator, were arraigned in Superior court today on indictments charging bribery, conspiracy, and cheating by false pretenses.

The offenses were alleged to have occurred in the period prior to McDonough's resignation last August.

McDonough was charged in two indictments with conspiracy and in another with cheating by false pretenses.

George W. Martin of Augusta, former Maine ERA supply officer, was charged with conspiracy and bribery.

William J. Salter of Lewiston, former assistant administrator and now an auditor for the state racing commission, was charged twice with conspiracy.

ED WYNN'S SON DENIES MOTHER ATTACKED HIM

New York, March 11.—[Special.]—Frank Keenan Wynn, a tall, slender youth of 19, took the witness stand today and denied in a tone of indignation a charge that his mother had attacked him or his father, Ed Wynn, the comedian.

His demeanor on the stand was in marked contrast to that of his father, who rose from the witness chair yesterday and with fists clenched warned S. M. Wittner, counsel for relatives who are suing the comedian, not to repeat his assertion that on one occasion he was afraid that Mrs. Wynn might harm their son.

The plaintifs in this action are Samuel Greenberg, the actor's uncle, and Mrs. Ruth Greenberg, his aunt. They seek $115,000 as damages and for services which they allege they rendered at Wynn's request and in Mrs. Wynn's behalf in 1929 and 1930. The comedian denies that he ever promised to pay the Greenberg's a substantial sum if they would care for Mrs. Wynn and restrain her from bothering him and endangering his theatrical career.

He denies also that she ever was violent toward him or anybody else.

YOUTH SLAYS BROTHER AND SHOOTS SISTER

Girl, 11, Is Near Death; Killer Captured.

Dubuque, Ia., March 11.—[Special.]—Rodney Pace, 15 year old high school student, today confessed fatally shooting his brother Ogden, 18, and wounding his sister Thyrza, 11, at their farm home near Independence last night.

The brother, an all-state high school football star, died today of a bullet wound in the abdomen. Physicians said the girl is near death from a bullet wound in her head.

Police captured the boy in the Illinois Central railroad yards here. He is one of five children who live with their mother, Mrs. M. K. Pace, on a chicken farm. Mrs. Pace is separated from her husband, who lives with their oldest son, William Jr., in Chicago.

Police Captain John Derrebery said Rodney told him that he and Ogden were changing their clothes in an upstairs bedroom last night and that their sister was in an adjoining room.

"He refused to explain why he went into the girl's room," the officer said, "but he admitted that when she screamed he shot her with a .22 caliber rifle. When Ogden ran into the room, Rodney shot him, too. Then he put on overalls and sweater and fled."

Buchanan county authorities returned Rodney to Independence this afternoon.

Boy Admits Slaying Father.

Reading, Pa., March 11.—[Special.]—The trial of Louis Toontas, 14 year old high school student, charged with slaying his father, ended abruptly today when the boy pleaded guilty to voluntary manslaughter.

Survivor of Cutting Plane Crash Sues for $300,000

Los Angeles, Cal., March 11.—(AP)—A $301,538 damage suit was filed today against Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc., by C. Richard Wallace, film cameraman, injured in the 1935 plane crash which killed United States Senator Bronson Cutting of New Mexico and four others. Wallace charged the plane was negligently operated.

SUBPENA ACCOUNTS OF 36 IN NEW YORK BRIBE INVESTIGATION

New York, March 11.—[Special.]—Bank, brokerage, and trust company accounts of 36 persons were subpenaed today by Special Prosecutor Hiram Todd in his grand jury investigation of charges of bribery in connection with the Samuel Druckman murder case.

Among those whose accounts were subpenaed are Irwin Steingut, assembly minority leader; District Attorney Geoghan and nine of his assistants; Carmine Anzalone, Brooklyn Republican leader and chief clerk of the assembly, and several police officers.

Three persons recently were convicted of slaying Druckman, trucking employé, when the case was revived after the April, 1935, grand jury had considered the case and failed to indict.

JUDGE TO ORDER RETURN OF $14,000 IN RECEIVER CASE

The county treasurer's office unduly prolonged the tax receivership of the Park Castles apartment building, 5416-58 Greenleaf avenue, according to testimony presented before Judge Edmund K. Jarecki in County court yesterday. Judge Jarecki indicated that he would orded the return of $14,000 eccumulated receipts to the owners of the building.

Had the $14,000 been applied on delinquent taxes the receivership would have been discharged not later than August, 1934, according to evidence presented to the court by Attorney Maurice G. Shanberg.

The building was discharged from receivership in April, 1935, when the taxes were paid. No explanation was made of the treasurer's failure to apply the monies received on taxes.

SENTENCE THREE TO JAIL FOR 1935 ELECTION FRAUD

Three former election officials who served in the Tenth precinct of Chicago Heights in the city election there of April 16, 1935, were sentenced yesterday by County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki to serve a year each in the county jail. The three were convicted of vote frauds last week. They are Steve Burns, 75 years old, a Republican judge; Frank Kirgis, 32 years old, and James E. Sheehan, 29 years old, Democratic judges. Judge Jarecki held that the three men failed to explain satisfactorily a discrepancy of 86 votes in the totals of two candidates for city commissioner and which was disclosed in a recount of the votes cast.

WARANT ISSUED FOR EX-BANKER IN FUND SHORTAGE

Judge Walter P. Steffen of the Superior court issued a bench warant yesterday for the arrest of William L. Martin, former president of the closed Kenwood State bank, when Martin failed to appear to explain alleged shortages in the accounts of two buildings for which he acted as receiver. Attorney Cameron Latter, representing Martin, said that his client is in Fort Dodge, Ia., and could not be reached. At the Martin home, 6659 North Washtenaw avenue, it was said he is in Houston, Tex., "on business."

Martin was receiver for a 13 apartment building at 4854 Christiana avenue and a two story building at 3825 Montrose avenue. Judge Steffen, who has been conducting an investigation into all receiverships in the Superior court, found a total shortage of approximately $500 in the accounts of the two buildings, he said. A month ago the judge ordered Attorney Latter to bring Martin into court, warning the lawyer the warant would be issued if Martin did not appear.

Martin formerly was a partner in the real estate firm of Cahill, Martin & Bender. Daniel W. Cahill, another member of the firm, was recently sentenced to serve 1 to 10 years in Joliet penitentiary in connection with a shortage of $2,320 in accounts of buildings for which he was receiver.

SEIZED AFTER AUTO CHASE.

Plymouth, Ind., March 11.—[Special.]—Julius Wilson, 44, colored, was arrested today after his auto had crashed through two fences while he was being pursued by state police. The police, checking his auto license, found 200 gallons alcohol in Wilson's car.

RUSH TO PAY INCOME TAXES; RECEIPTS TOP LAST YEAR'S FIGURE

Hundreds of taxpayers crowded the offices of Carter H. Harrison, collector of internal revenue here, yesterday to file their income tax returns and make their first quarterly payment before the deadline next Monday. Mr. Harrison reported that income tax payments received up to yesterday totaled $2,531,309, as compared to $1,527,301 for the corresponding period last year.

The number of returns filed since the first of the month totaled 74,200, or an increase of 18,200 over the number filed in the same period last year, Mr. Harrison said.

Mr. Harrison announced that on Monday his office would remain open until 7 o'clock in the evening to receive returns and payments. As in other years THE TRIBUNE is giving free service to income tax payers and returns prepared with aid of deputy collectors can be made out in the two Tribune Public Service offices, one in the Tribune Tower and the other at 1 South Dearborn street.

5,000 Homeless as Flood Sweeps Lithuanian City

KAUNAS, Lithuania, March 11.—(AP)—More than 5,000 persons were homeless today as Kaunas experienced one of the worst floods in its history. The Nieman river, blocked by ice in its lower reaches, rose 20 feet above normal.

DAICHES' WIDOW GRANTED $1,000 EXECUTRIX FEE

Mrs. Belle T. Daiches, widow of Eli Daiches, slain advertising executive, was allowed $1,000 as executrix' fees from her husband's estate by Probate Judge John F. O'Connell yesterday. The judge also approved a $1,700 claim filed against the estate by Basil Williams, former official of the Thomas M. Bowers advertising agency, 343 South Dearborn street. Daiches, who was head of the agency, was killed by gunfire March 3, 1934, as he rode in his auto at 55th street and the outer drive. Daiches' estate is valued at $54,000, of which $18,000 has been expended for claims and fees.

"Inland is a Good Place to Borrow"

By Frank Ridgway

A Little Lumbering.

March 11, 1936.

LUMBERJACKS—Illinois variety—are snaking logs out of the woods at the Tribune Wheaton experimental farm. Preparations are being made to try out the sawmill outfit that has just been bought and installed at the farm. The rig will be used in sawing up dead trees. The lumber will be used in building fences and new buildings.

During the last two weeks more than fifty logs have been cut and are ready to be dragged up to the mill at the center of the farm. Only dead trees are cut. The branches are made into firewood.

Workers are going through the woods cleaning up tree laps, dead branches, and old stumps. They are burning the fine brush as they go. All of the bigger limbs, stumps, and other pieces suitable for firewood are being chopped into convenient lengths and piled into ricks to dry out.

Later the buzzsaw attached to the frame of a tractor will go through the woods from pile to pile sawing the wood into the proper lengths for cook stoves and fireplaces.

Farmers in the neighborhood of the Yorkville farm still are harvesting some of the 1935 soy beans left uncut when winter came on. Hundreds of acres of soy beans grown for seed were left in the fields last fall. Recently farmers have been attempting to harvest those beans which have remained standing and have come through the winter in fair condition.

Since the ground has started to thaw farmers are finding it difficult to operate their heavy combines in the soft bean fields. Some of them have been operating their combines at night after the surface of the ground freezes hard enough to hold up the machinery. Strong headlights are used on the tractors. Other growers are operating their combines early in the mornings before the ground has had time to thaw.

No beans were cut for seed on the Yorkville farm, where the crop was harvested for hay and is being fed to the steers.

Workers at the Yorkville place are out this week picking the corn caught in the field when the heavy snows fell early in the winter.

Bacon that is being cured old Virginia style on the Wheaton farm was taken out of the barrels after going through the curing process for four weeks. The bacon has been hung in the smokehouse where it will be smoked with the hams. All of the hams have been left in the curing barrels for another two weeks. It requires a total of about six weeks to cure the hams, allowing plenty of time for the curing mixture to penetrate to the bone.

Ten calves produced at the Yorkville farm last year by crossing pure bred black Aberdeen-Angus cows with a snow white pure bred Shorthorn bull are now developing blue-gray coats characteristic of such crosses. One of the ten calves is somewhat off color, having a tendency to appear spotted. It has fairly large sized white spots on its brisket and on one hip. All the others are of a uniform bluish gray color commonly found among the famous blue gray cattle in Scotland where this cross is valued highly among breeders.

The calves on the Yorkville farm are being used in the blue-gray beef cattle experiment started last year. The ten cows have been mated to a pure bred Aberdeen-Angus bull and will be used as a foundation herd in the development of a hundred breeding cows.

The calves are now being fed oats and shelled corn. They are allowed to run with their mothers at night. During favorable weather they graze in a bluegrass pasture during the day.

Some men know—others are discovering why Four Roses is smoother—and always will be

DO YOU KNOW how many kinds of whiskey there are?... Only three: straight whiskey that's unblended; whiskey blended with neutral spirits; and blends of straight whiskies that contain nothing but straight whiskies.

Which kind is best? In our opinion, the last. All our 70 years of experience in making fine whiskey say it is. Moreover, Four Roses, we feel, proves that it is.

For Four Roses is not only a blend of the finest all straight, all American whiskies—every drop made in the United States—but it is, we are confident, the best whiskey in America today, regardless of age, type, or price.

We believe that one taste of Four Roses will prove this to you. And common sense confirms what your palate reveals.

For each and every straight whiskey has its own distinctive character—a certain plus in aroma, smoothness, or flavor. And to combine these merits, you must combine the whiskies.

So, to achieve Four Roses, we blend top-grade American straight whiskies—blend them with the knack handed down through four generations of the same family—blend them in such a way that the special virtues of the separate whiskies are brought out and united. The result is a liquor of matchless smoothness—Four Roses.

But don't just take our word for all this. When you try Four Roses, sip it slowly, the way great whiskey should be sipped. You'll discover what so many men know, and what others are learning—that the noblest whiskey is a blend of all straight, all American whiskies—and its name is Four Roses!

Actor Powell Builds Lives of His Characters

Provides a Past for Every Role He Plays.

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., March 11.—[Special.]—When William Powell plays a movie part he tries to build up the whole life story of the character.

"Characterization is a tricky business at best," he explained on the set of "The Ex-Mrs. Bradford" at R. K. O. studio. "You think you have the man you are representing figured out perfectly. And then he is apt to let you down at a critical moment with an inconsistency. It puts your whole performance definitly off stride.

"As a result, years ago I began to analyze my characters with extreme care. In gaining an intimate understanding of their temperaments I found it helpful to reconstruct their biographies to the point where the screen picks them up.

"I still follow that system of providing my screen characters with pasts. But sometimes it isn't necessary; for instance, I've played the detective, Philo Vance, so often that I know all his secrets. Philo became such a familiar other self that stepping into his identity again was just like changing into another suit of clothes."

Powell added that he had played a number of Philo Vance's "cousins or colleagues."

"This chap, Dr. Bradford, I am doing now is a sort of distant relative. He inherited the bloodhound instincts of the clan and the intuition that makes him Johnny on the spot whenever a murder is committed. But he is a distinctive sort himself and I found real pleasure in reconstructing his past. As I see him, Dr. Bradford is a pretty regular sort and has a sense of humor."

As Powell tells it, his recreating the lives of his characters in his own fancy has many elements of common sense. "Of course," he admits, "there's always a lot of Bill Powell in all my characterizations. But I try to suppress Powell as much as possible. In this film I have even gone into the past of the ex-Mrs. Bradford, whom Jean Arthur plays. But I'll not be caught running around Hollywood with a scalpel looking for one of Dr. Bradford's patients."

Ann Sothern, like Jean Harlow, has quit being a platinum blonde, leaving only Alice Faye among the well knowns in the latter class.

The armor worn by actors in "Mary of Scotland" proved a complication. Not only did it clang and scrape, utterly nullifying dialog, but the metal vibrated while the actors were speaking, producing a disturbing overtone. The clanging was fought by use of oil and pads at some of the vital spots, the scraping by working out infinitesimal pauses in the continuity of action so that the dialog always took place during a momentary space where the metal was at rest. The vibration had to be conquered by having some one touch the armor with the same timing as the pauses.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

There's a new powder shade out for the woman with skin as fair as hers. It has a rosy undertone that makes the skin look vibrant and healthy. The brunette, too, can have powder in a deeper shade with the same suggestion of a faint blush. Both are flattering and fashionable.

For your new spring face—and of course you're planning to have a somewhat different and nicer one, aren't you?—there are two marvelous new powder shades to consider. The powder is light and feathery, made that way by a new and tricky process, and the fragrance has charm. The shades have charm plus.

Both have one thing in common, though both are as different as night and day, in an ever so faint rosy undertone. It may sound peculiar but try it on your old face some day and see what a difference it makes.

One, the rachel with a softly blushing undertone, is made to order for the fair skinned woman who doesn't want to look pasty faced. It's creamy and clear, but in some magic fashion it has a warmish cast, too, which makes the skin look vital. And at the same time the powder doesn't have the curse of pink that makes so many absolutely out of the question for a lot of fair skinned women.

The very blondes who have had to choose either a too white powder or a too pink one, with never a happy blend of the best points of either, should dive for this unusual rachel.

The other new shade is for the brunette and the fair skinned woman with some brunette characteristics. It's a darker powder, of course, really a member of the huge "tan" family, but it, too, has been blessed with a rosy undertone that makes it give to the skin a healthy, vibrant finish. Coldness has been removed from two widely used and widely becoming powder shades by some skilful blending.

We have a strong hunch that these will be fashionable shades. The powder is a good one, but not in the very expensive class.

Drinking Milk Builds Beauty in Skin, Hair

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Suppose an inquiring reporter stopped you on the street and asked: "What are the five vital points to beauty?" What would be your answer?

The correct answer, according to one authority, is a clear complexion, sparkling eyes, sound white teeth, glossy hair, and a lithe, graceful figure.

And the answer is good enough for personal checking up purposes. Where do you stand on the five-point plan? Rate high? Rate low or medium?

Behind the questionnaire which inspired the above is a drive for more and more milk consumption. For decades, we are told, milk has been regarded as beauty's greatest aid. Going back farther, historic beauties are presented as owing much of their skin softness and freshness to milk baths. A great modern improvement on the redoubtable milk bathing aid to beauty is milk in the diet. There is no disputing that milk consumption does provide one of the most important mineral aids to a fresn, smooth skin, namely, calcium. What calcium does for teeth you know. No amount of cleaning, as you know, can combat the ravages of an insufficient supply of calcium.

The last things the layman would think of tying together would be milk and hair beauty. But we know that it takes more than a good cut and a good wave to turn out a head that stops 'em breathless with admiration. There must be gloss, vitality, life to the hair itself. Tests, we are told, have been made in the laboratory as to the effect of milk upon the coats of animals. With milk eliminated from the diet, coats became dull and lifeless. When it was restored the luster and sheen returned.

Keeping the physical condition and spirits up to par is a prime factor in an attractive appearance. If you don't feel well you don't look well. Plenty of exercise and the right sort of diet come in here with all the advantages. Adequate nourishment naturally is imperative. The daily quart of milk offers it, together with a well balanced diet. If you're heavy, you no longer need to resort to starvation measures. Eat vegetables, fruit, and drink your quart of milk a day, and you'll have surprising energy and pep while the extras are sluicing off, pound by pound.

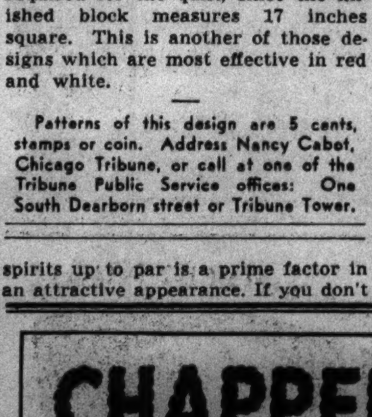
"Four Square" Is Among Oldest of Quilt Patterns



Four Square.

BY NANCY CABOT.

"Four Square" is one of the oldest quilt patterns and has been rescued only recently from oblivion. The quilt belongs to the 75 year old granddaughter of a woman in Kansas, whose son drew and cut all the patches. Only 25 pieced blocks are required for the quilt, since the finished block measures 17 inches square. This is another of those designs which are most effective in red and white.

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices: One South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

Copy of Blake's Rare 'Book of Thel' Sells for $2,000

New York, March 11.—(AP)—An apparently unrecorded copy of the rare "Book of Thel," written, illustrated, and printed by William Blake in 1789, with the illustrations tinted in water colors by the artist, brought $2,000 tonight at an auction of the library of the late Marsden J. Perry of Providence, R. I. James F. Drake of New York was the purchaser.

Grace Moore Enters Ranks of Film Rebels

Refuses to Appear for More Retakes.

Detroit, Mich., March 11.—(AP)—Grace Moore, blonde singing star of the opera, stage, and screen, revealed today that she is having words with Hollywood.

"Hollywood hasn't learned to treat me like a human being yet," said Miss Moore, here for a concert tonight. "During my last picture I was forced to sing all day and milk a cow in the bargain. I don't mind milking a cow or two in the course of a day, but also to sing all day is something else again.

"Now they want me to return to Hollywood to make retakes and French and Spanish recordings of music in the pictures. I refuse to do this," she said. "They don't seem to realize that a person can't work at high speed constantly and still keep performances at a high level."

She said she planned to return to New York and would sail for Europe for a series of engagements in a few weeks.

"Please understand that I am not walking out of pictures definitly," she said, explaining she has another picture to make for Columbia studios before going to M-G-M for one.

Hollywood, Cal., March 11.—(AP)—If Grace Moore is "walking out" on her movie contract Columbia studio executives haven't heard about it, they said today.

"We had a communication from her two days ago," it was stated, "saying she would return within one week to make added scenes and French and Spanish recordings on the picture she has just finished."

The film, "The King Steps Out," is nearly ready for release, they said.

A member of the office of Miss Moore's agent said he had not been informed during the production of the picture of any trouble between the star and the studio.

The executives said the star herself had voiced her satisfaction before she left Hollywood, and had immediately signed a contract for a new picture to go into production in May.

Colin Clive Is Taken to Sanitarium for Operation

New York, March 11.—(AP)—Colin Clive, French born actor, who has been playing in the current stage play, "Libel" was taken to a sanitarium late today for an intestinal operation. He came to America for the New York production of "Journey's End" and stayed to play in the motion picture of the same name and several other motion picture productions, including "Clive of India" last year.

This Marriage Plan Approved by Bette Davis

Hollywood, Cal., March 11.—(AP)—Bette Davis, who won this year's academy statuette for a best performance in the movies, is a great deal more interested in the success of her marriage than in the success of her career.

"Never have breakfast with your husband."

And she attributes the good fortune that has attended her marriage to Harmon O. Nelson, orchestra leader, to the rule.

"It's well known that a hungry persons is likely to be irritable," she said. "Certainly in the morning, after twelve or fourteen hours without food, most people are hungry. So, obviously, the chances are greater then for a husband and wife to be irritable."

What's more, she continued, a point of esthetics enters into the case too:

"Few women are presentable the first thing in the morning. And a man has plenty of work to do on his face and person, too, before he begins to look human."

Since her husband's views coincide with hers, two morning papers are delivered at their home and two breakfasts are served, she said.

The only time they varied from this routine, she recalled, was a year or more ago when they lived in an auto camp near San Francisco. Nelson had an engagement in the city. His wife joined him, and rather than stay at a hotel they went to the camp.

"Naturally we couldn't have the same privacy from each other living like that—in one room. The experience bolstered my belief."

De Sigall, Famous Artist, Will Paint Indians for Gifts

Los Angeles, Cal., March 11.—(AP)—Dr. Josef de Sigall, the Austrian portrait artist whose usual price is $20,000, is going to paint Indian pictures to give away.

The man who has painted such crowned heads as ex-Kaiser Wilhelm and Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria has deserted a studio glittering with decorations, for a vacation in New Mexico after 40 years of continual work.

"I have what you call a house trailer," he said. "It sleeps five, but I go alone—with my chauffeur who is also the cook."

The pictures, he said, he will not sell.

"Society painting, what is that? I give my pictures of the Indians to the museums and universities. Then, maybe I feel as though I have contributed something to posterity."

Mrs. James Roosevelt Is Late, So Fashion Show Is Repeated

Washington, D. C., March 11.—(AP)—A fashion show was given twice today so that the President's mother, Mrs. James Roosevelt Sr., who arrived during the intermission, could see it all.

The proceeds went to the national library for the blind, which has headquarters on the second floor of the White House garage. The organization sends out under government frank Braille books to 1,900 readers.

Former Vice President Charles Curtis was one of the founders of the library in 1911, and his last act before his recent death was to sign letters to 65 persons asking them to become interested in it.

Comedian Plays Roaring Scene; Reveals Kin's Death

Hollywood, Cal., March 11.—(AP)—Robert Greig, portly comedian, played a long scene with Jean Harlow today that was so funny members of the technical crew stuffed handkerchiefs into their mouths to keep from laughing aloud. When it was over, tears began streaming down the comedian's eyes. He pulled a cablegram from his pocket telling of the death in London of his brother, Lawrence Greig, an actor.

—if Spry isn't the best shortening you ever used

HAVE you the reputation of being a good cook? Then we want your critical judgment. We want you to try Spry, for you're just the one to appreciate all the marvelous qualities of this new, purer ALL-vegetable shortening.

You'll know Spry is better at a glance—it's so white, so satin-smooth, so creamy. Spry always stays fresh and sweet. You can keep it right on the pantry shelf, soft and easy-creaming, instead of in the refrigerator. Spry is tested and approved by Good Housekeeping Bureau.

Try Spry for baking and frying

You'll love the way Spry blends with other ingredients. That's the secret of light, delicate baking. Cakes made with Spry have a fine, even, velvety texture. Biscuits were never so fluffy and airy-light. Pie crust was never so tender and flaky. And what shortening ever gave such exquisite perfection of flavor?

Now fried foods, too, are more delicious than ever before. In clear, smokeless Spry, they are done to a golden brown turn and come out crisp, tender, greaseless—as wholesome and digestible as if baked or boiled.

HERE'S OUR OFFER

Get a can of Spry from your grocer. Use all of it if you want. Give Spry every test in pies, cakes, biscuits, fried foods. If you don't find Spry absolutely the best shortening you've ever used, simply send your name and address to Lever Brothers Company, Cambridge, Mass., with the strip of tin that the key takes off when you open the can. You will promptly receive back, without question, twice what you paid for Spry. This offer is limited to one can to a family.

Service Club Sets Date for Annual Revue

Production Will Be Given on October 24.

BY JUDITH CASS.

DEBUTANTES of the coming season may draw a red circle around Oct. 24 on their calendars, for that is the date members of the Service club have selected for their annual revue.

None of the young girls who look forward to taking part in the show as one of the most exciting events of their first year out will be disappointed in the coming season, for the Service club board already has decided that the show will be along the usual lines, calling for the talents and beauty of as many of the debutantes as can be recruited for the somewhat ardious weeks of rehersal before the revue.

More specific plans for the show will be left to take form in the autumn, so that they may be as fresh and timely as possible. These decisions were made at a meeting of the board at Mrs. Ernest Byfield's apartment. Miss Frances Jeffery is being intrusted with the task of handling the publicity.

Mrs. Frank S. Sims Starts Journey Today.

Mrs. Frank S. Sims, who was elected president of the board in January, is leaving today with her father, Frank McNair, for New York, where they will sail for California by way of the Panama canal. On their way back to Chicago they will stop over in Phoenix for a week. Mrs. Sims plans to get back in time for the semi-annual meeting of the Service club in May, when further plans for the revue will be discussed.

Mrs. John J. Mitchell, another member of the board, will be on the same boat going to Panama. With Mr. Mitchell and their two children she left several days ago to spend a few days in New York before sailing. Although she is remaining at her home in Montecito for the summer, Mrs. Mitchell may return for the Service club meeting in May.

Miss Jeffery, who is spending the next few weeks in Jamaica and Bermuda with her aunt, Miss Frances E. Whedon, also will return in time for the meeting, and so will another board member, Mrs. George F. Getz Jr. Mrs. Getz came up from Florida last week just long enough to inspect her new apartment at 1500 Lake Shore drive, and then returned to Miami Beach for another month. She is at the Flamingo, and her father-in-law, the senior Mr. Getz, makes his houseboat his headquarters.

Arrange Bridge Party for Kenmore Memorial.

Mrs. Arthur Meeker, regent for Illinois of Kenmore, and her committee are planning a benefit bridge party for Wednesday afternoon, April 29, the proceeds to go to the fund that keeps Kenmore as a memorial. Kenmore is the lovely old house in Fredericksburg, Va., that was the home of Betty Washington Lewis, a sister of George Washington. It is beautifully furnished in its period and the plaster ceilings are of especial interest to lovers of such things. They were made under Washington's direction by Hessian prisoners of war and are among the finest in this country.

Mrs. Richard T. Crane Jr. is opening her home at 1550 Lake Shore drive for the card party. She is a member of the Illinois Kenmore committee, and so is her sister, Mrs. Joseph M. Patterson. Mrs. Morris L. Johnston, Miss Helen R. Gilbert, Charles J. Faulkner and William B. McCluer also are on this committee. The two men are both Virginians and, although they will take no active part in arranging the bridge party, they coöperate with Mrs. Meeker and the other women of the committee in doing the work in this state necessary to preserving Kenmore, which, next to Mount Vernon, is the house most intimately associated with Washington.

Dr. McCrackin Will Lecture at Cradle.

Members of the Evanston auxiliary of The Cradle, who constantly are arranging interesting before luncheon programs at The Cradle, are especially pleased with the lecturer they will have this morning, for they know he is a special friend of The Cradle. He is Dr. Robert H. McCrackin, and when he and his wife sail from New York on May 19 to return to their home in West Africa they will have a Cradle baby with them.

Dog Fight Spoils Theater Tryouts

"Now, you be a good dog," Miss Frances Weary was warning Sandy, her Dandie Dinmont, when this picture was taken, for she wants him to have the rôle of Mr. Dooley Jr., in the play of that name to be given by the Chicago Junior League Children's theater for five Saturdays, starting April 11.

Sandy, however, is not interested in becoming an actor and all he wanted to do yesterday was to fight with the half a dozen other dogs that were at the tryout for the part.

In fact, there was so much fighting and barking in the league's workshop in North Dearborn street that none of the dogs was chosen yesterday as Mr. Dooley Jr., and there will have to be another tryout.

Mrs. Cyrus R. Smith, Mrs. John H. Noyes, Mrs. Robert M. Hoffman, Mrs. Robert M. Curtis, and Miss Margaret Wilder were among others who took their dogs to the tryout yesterday.

Czerwonky Is Well Liked in Violin Recital

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Richard Czerwonky, a Chicago violinist and teacher of wide background and experience, played a recital in Kimball hall last night under the auspices of Omega chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota.

The Vieuxtemps concerto that opened the program was conceived and presented in the expansive style of the era for which it was composed. There can be no quarrel with the historical accuracy of its interpretation, although the occasional sacrifice of suavity and beauty of tone, which violin playing in the grand manner entails, gives these old time works a strang sound to modern ears.

Mr. Czerwonky entered into the epic spirit of the Bach chaconne with conviction and power. Its exalted measures found him wanting neither in technical address nor spiritual grasp. He succeeded in making unaccompanied violin playing satisfying and enthralling, which is as fearful a test as any soloist need ever undergo.

Two little fragments from Czerwonky's own pen were so well liked by the audience that its fulsome applause compelled him to repeat one of them. It was followed by an impressionistic "Mirage" and that in turn by a varied and imaginative "Carnival of Life."

Mr. Czerwonky will be remembered as the first conductor of the Woman's Symphony orchestra. He has been an important force in the city's musical life for a great many years.

Public Health Talk.

Dr. Erna von Abendroth, German authority on public health nursing, will speak before the public healtn section of the First district of the Illinois State Nurses' association at 8 o'clock this evening at district headquarters, 8 South Michigan avenue. Her subject will be "The Development of Welfare and Health Work in Germany."

WEDDINGS

Miss Viva Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hartford Young of Evanston, was married last night to Edward Milton Torcom, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Torcom, also of Evanston. The service was read at 8:30 o'clock in the First Methodist Episcopal church in Evanston by the Rev. Paul Austin Wolfe. The bride attended Northwestern university. The bridegroom is a graduate of Culver Military academy and of Northwestern.

Miss Florence Binswanger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Binswanger, became the bride of Louis E. Westheimer, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Westheimer of St. Louis, last night at the residence of her parents, 3100 Sheridan road. Only the immediate families heard Rabbi Louis Mann of the Sinai congregation read the service, but more relatives and a few friends attended the reception that followed.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Marion Binswanger, and Samuel Westheimer served as his brother's best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Westheimer have left for a trip to Biloxi, and after April 1 they will be at home in St. Louis.

Pittsburgh, Pa., March 11.—(AP)—Fay Templeton, one of America's most fêted and glamorous stage stars of half a century ago, has gone to live at the Actors' Fund home at Englewood, N. J.

Overtaken by poverty at the age of 70, she asserts she hasn't given up hope, even if the depression and her financial daring have taken her money and life her youth.

She answered questions tersely today from the home by telephone:

"O, I'm feeling all right."

"Do you intend to go back to the theater?"

"Yes, I hope so."

The voice didn't carry that carefree ring it had when she was the toast of Broadway in the nineties, or the beautiful wife of the wealthy William J. Patterson, late Pittsburgh attorney.

Miss Templeton's financial decline dates from the death of her husband five years ago. Every financial move she made seemed doomed to lose for her.

In 1932 she returned to Broadway as Little Buttercup in "Pinafore" for a brief time. She tried radio engagements and once won a leading rôle in "Roberta," but the voice that had thrilled two generations couldn't stand the strain.

Institute Holds Fine Show of Water Colors

International Exhibition Receives Praise.

BY ELEANOR JEWETT.

The 15th International Water Color exhibition opens today in the east wing galleries of the Art institute. It is an invigorating show with so many good qualities that the most appreciative adjectives in the dictionary are scarcely strong enough to convey an adequate impression.

The exhibit is sparkling, colorful, diversified, amusing, interesting, and virile. Both modern and nonmodern painting is represented, but the modern painting shown is as sound as the nonmodern. They run in harness like a well-matched team.

There are 519 paintings in the exhibition and of these 125 are foreign. The balance leaves one extremely proud of the contemporary American artist. It is flattering to find the major part of a brilliant show due to the genius of one's own countrymen.

Two men have been permitted one-man shows. The Mexican, Miguel Covarrubias, who is famous for his clever illustrations in contemporary magazines, has a most entertaining room. His series of "Impossible Interviews" is fascinating. Secretary Perkins interviews Shirley Temple; Mrs. Sanger, birth-control advocate, interviews Mrs. Dione, richly embowered among the quints; Edmund Freud interviews Jean Harlow. The fantastic juxtapositions are joyously ridiculous.

George Grosz is the other man to be given a gallery. His work is well known. He uses subtle color and a rather Rabelaisian humor. If Covarubias wields the stiletto, Grosz employs the broad sword. The illustrations to nine tales by O. Henry are among the items not to be overlooked.

The richness of the exhibition proper is difficult to calculate. A host of interesting and fine pictures meets you in each gallery. Among those which attract instant attention are "Hillside Farm," by Walt Lauderback; "Plowing in the Park," by A. Lassell Ripley; "Stove," by Ethel Spears; "Race Horses at the Barrier," by Randall Davey; "Henley," by Raoul Dufy; "Outside of Santa Fe," by Herbert Meyer; "Nearing the Post," by Sherman H. Rawson; "Drawing Room," by Elizabeth Hoopes; "We Are Seven," by George Buehr; "Columbine," by Frances Foy; "Charmed by the Monkey," by Laura Van Pappelendam; "Return from Bohemia," by Grant Wood; "The Grave Decision," by Aaron Bohrod; "Little Beggar," by Poulbot; "Amateur Hour," by Janet Haugseth, and "Deep Woods," by John Whorf.

The Watson F. Blair prize of $600 was awarded to "Celery Garden, Lexington," by A. Russell Ripley; the Watson F. Blair prize of $400 went to "The White Goat," by Gattorno, and the William H. Tuthill prize of $100 was given to Rainey Bennett for "Color Phantasy."

The exhibition will continue to May 11.

Court Delays Decision on Cagney Contract Suit

Hollywood, Cal., March 11.—[Special.]—Inferring its conviction that Warner Bros. violated the contract of Jimmy Cagney, film player, the Superior court today took under advisement Cagney's suit to cancel his contract. Cagney contends the studio failed to keep its agreement by having him make fourteen pictures in three years despite an understanding previously reached that Cagney was to make only four movies a year.

Small Fry—Necktie Party—Vernal Notes—13th—Tieless.

TWO small boys were roller skating on 63d street toward Harvard avenue when one of them suddenly stopped, picked up a stone, balanced it menacingly, and demanded of his comrade: "Well, have you made up your mind yet? Are you going to join the navy with me or are you going to West Point?"

GUESTS were invited to Mrs. John W. Root's to a necktie party yesterday afternoon. It turned out to be not a hanging but a necktie selling. Eric Dressler of "Boy Meets Girl" went away with a snappy green and black lightweight wool tie and members of the Little Daisy Poker club decided on blue ties with white daisies sprinkled over the silk. Perhaps you don't know about the Little Daisy Poker club. It has been meeting on Saturdays for fifteen years. It formerly was called the Thanatopsis Inside Straight and Pleasure club, but for some reason had become the Little Daisy club. For years it met in Bill Welsh's studio, around a specially designed pearwood table. The members play classic poker or what one of them called "regular 1870 Mississippi river poker." Among the members are Al Shaw, Howard Ellis, John Cromelin, and John Holabird.

VARIATIONS on a spring theme: The first white pique hat to make its appearance, at luncheon at a woman's club. . . . A fellow shoveling coal into the Steele-Wedeles building on Dearborn street stripped to the waist. . . . The boys at the Moos school down on their knees in the mud playing marbles. . . . Fashionable ladies rushing off to fittings on tailored suits. . . . Suburban housewives buying garden seeds. . . . A rush on dahlia bulbs. . . . A truck driver hanging a wreath of artificial spring flowers on the radiator cap of his truck. . . . Young matrons meeting for chocolate sodas instead of cocktails. . . . Housewives regarding the furniture and curtains with jaundiced eyes, noting the ravages of the winter.

FRIDAY, as you probably know, is the 13th. Our own horoscope says it will be a good day, which means, we hope, that quantities of column material will turn up and that we will hear we can get passage to Bermuda on the date we want to sail, at the moment an impossibility. The Anti-Superstition club meets Friday in room 1313 at the Blackstone hotel, at 13 minutes after 6 o'clock. They will bring along their rabbits' feet and lucky pieces, if they have any, for proper disposal. Dinner will be announced by the breaking of a mirror. There are thirteen vice presidents of the Anti-Superstition club, as well as a black cat custodian, a keeper of salt, and an amulet breaker.

IF you attended the Jack Hylton broadcast at the Civic theater last Saturday evening you might have noticed that Pat O'Malley was minus a white tie. He had hoped to conceal this defect in his attire by pulling up the microphone so that it was the height of his tie, but a few people noticed it. Here's how it happened: Boss Jack Hylton, who can switch from street clothes to white tie and tails in four minutes [that's faster than Hoover can do it], rehersed late on Saturday and made the switch at the studio. A white tie was missing. He dispatched two messengers, one to the Drake, where he is stopping, and another to the nearest haberdashery open, but neither had returned when it was time for him to go on the air. So he grabbed O'Malley's.

Rabbi Keeps Shylock from School Stage

Hackensack, N. J., March 11.—(AP)—A move to strike William Shakespeare's classic drama, "The Merchant of Venice," from the curriculum of Hackensack High school developed today under the leadership of Rabbi Irving Silman.

An English class dramatization of the play was discontinued pending a board of education ruling after Rabbi Silman protested Shylock was "the foulest slander ever penned by the hand of genius."

Two Jewish pupils, cast in the rôles of Shylock and Jessica, his daughter, had been excused from participation in the classroom production at their request.

Rabbi Silman said he would continue his fight to stop the production permanently and to have the play stricken from the study list.

He contends the play has been responsible for "incalculable trouble for our race because the evil character of this one man [Shylock] has grown in the public mind until it is accepted as part of the character of all Jews."

Edward T. Marlett, principal, who ordered the dramatization temporarily halted, would not comment. John Wilcox, supervising principal of schools, said he would take no action unless directed by the board of education.

Martinelli Asks $20,000 Because of Name on Ad

New York, March 11.—(AP)—Giovanni Martinelli, describing himself as "a prominent operatic tenor, widely known as such throughout the United States of America and the entire world," today sued Wil-Low Cafeterias, Inc., for $20,000, charging "a slur and a blemish upon the public character and reputation of the plaintif."

The opera tenor alleged the cafeteria corporation, in an advertisment last Jan. 16, claimed he recommended a certain food.

The advertisment, Martinelli's suit contends, represented him "to be a person who would seek notoriety by such means."

Noted Stylist Makes Shoes for Individual

Presents Revolutionary Idea in Design.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

Certain that American women need and want individual footwear, a world famous shoe designer has brought to Chicago shoes that are revolutionary. This interesting gentleman has decided ideas of what should cover the human foot, vastly different creations than we have been cheering for during the last few years.

If you are one of the thousands who have believed that American women hold the world's record for well groomed feet and ankles, a few moments with this designer will cause you to doubt. He believes that an exaggerated long and narrow foot is not the mark of beauty we think it is. Also he insists that we do not wear shoes or slippers that give us the right balance, that is, on the heel, and ball of the foot. So his collection with the short lasts, the heels, and the general streamline is startling.

His newest creations are now on display in Chicago, shoes of the future, with positively fantastic ideas about heels and new combines of materials, all of them to be used or worked on as a basic idea for practical models in lether and fabrics. Undoubtedly it is one of the most exciting collections of inspired footwear you can see. These shoes are worthy of any Cinderella complex you have; from the gorgeous iabrics to the perfect contrasting linings. Red and gold, vermilion and silver have been used repeatedly but the results are fit for a queen. A spiral heel looks precariously dizzy. Another heel is so placed that the slipper looks heelless from the front elevation. Still another is of metal—the framework or skeleton of the slipper. This framework is rhythm incarnate and hints of superior decorative possibilities when worked in lether or fabric.

Having made fabulously lovely slippers for the few remaining queens, to say nothing of duchesses and famous beauties of Europe, this descendant of a father and grandfather designer of unusual slippers, is in America designing exclusively for a well known woman's shop. Any one who craves individual footwear designed expressly for her own particular 4Bs or 6 triples, can indulge this whim, at a price.

Special Squad

By Courtney Ryley Cooper

SYNOPSIS.

Inspector Sandy Ross of the department of justice and Special Agent Buck Wasey travel by motor from Reno to Vinton City in search of information on Sociable Joe Willis, suspected of assisting in armored car robberies. A collision of two cars on a mountain road brings Jane Bronson into Sandy's life. But when she learns his identity she vanishes. A letter from Sociable Joe had brought Jane to Vinton City to plead with her brother, Lee, known there as Ray Hammer, to give up his gang connections. When she tells him about the special agents he agrees to leave with her immediately. They drive away in a cream colored car and Lee deliberately runs down Sociable Joe. Sociable Joe admits serving time for killing his wife, but denies knowing Jane Bronson or Ray Hammer. Meanwhile in San Francisco the Lurch-McKeever mob await the arrival of Lee Bronson, needed for his ability in female impersonating. The cream colored car, known to have been stolen after an armored car robbery in New York, is located at a tourist camp near Gunnison, Colo., where Sandy and Buck prepare to fly.

INSTALMENT XVI.

A DANGEROUS FLIGHT.

Now the machines began to thrum with the eighty-five mile an hour speed which any automobile manufacturer must guarantee when a car is sold to the F. B. I. Within a space of minutes, they were whirling through Reno and on to the airport. There, the airplane, both pilots in the turret, awaited with chocked wheels and idling propellors.

The automobiles were left for remaining agents to park as the federal men leaped forth, each concentrated upon trim, but excessively heavy black leather cases which they, one by one, deposited carefully in the mail compartment. Personal effects were only so much clothing; these long, black cases were the protection of their lives; hundred shot machine guns, with every fourth bullet a red tracer; tear gas bombs, and the big barreled weapons by which to shoot them, heavy Monitor rifles the high velocity bullets of which no steel vest can withstand, flares for night fighting, automatic shotguns. Doors were closed and locked. Men took their places and reached for the safety straps.

"Give her the gun—all of it!" Sandy Ross shouted through the open door of the turret. Blocks were removed; with brakes already tested, the big, silver gray machine roared into the wind for its take off. After that came thunderous monotony.

Mountains jutted up at them as the plane, skimming swiftly in a high ceiling, shot onward toward Salt Lake. The expanses of Pyramid lake showed for a few moments, gleamed beneath them, then gave way to great wastes of alkali before the earth burst upward into new serrations of mountainous terrain. An hour became two, while the plane rose to ride high above fringes of clouds and finally lost the earth altogether beneath a tumbled mass of steamy white. The co-pilot eased out of his seat and into the cabin.

"Looks like we might have some weather out of Salt Lake," he announced to Sandy. "Raining at the lake now."

"How is it beyond?"

"Don't know," he answered. "The only government reports we can get of course, are as far south as Denver. Down Gunnison way, we've got to take what we get and like it."

He returned to his task. Sandy Ross heard him talking on the wireless telephone; soon the altitude began to lessen. For a time the inspector watched the phenomenon of rain which gave but little evidence of its presence; clear enough at the wing ends, but so dissapated by the propellors that only creeping lines of misty moisture showed along the motor casings, and tiny streaks against the windows. Soon however, the ship began to bank slowly, cutting through the clouds now to reveal a drenched airfield, and the glowering uplift of the Wasatch range beyond Salt Lake City.

Once the landing had been made the federal men waited in their seats, listening to the drum of water upon metal while the fuel wagon made its hasty run to the ship, filled the tanks anew and hurried away. Electric starters whined complainingly, engines coughed, then settled into steady thrumming. Again blocks were pulled away; in a streaming swish of dirty water, the plane crossed the field, lifted itself loggily against the heavy atmosphere and was again away, swinging in wide circles as it strove for altitude against the crossing of the range.

Men were tense now—once over the Wasatch, all factors of commercial safety must vanish. There would be no radio beams to offer direction, no beacons; flying must revert ten years to an uncharted course above vicious peaks, and direction must come by maps and reckoning. The ship drove on.

"Pretty tough going," Sandy had cupped his hands and shouted across the aile to Wasey, lurching against his safety belt as the ship bucked the treacherous air currents. The Texan rounded his eyes.

"Wish I was on a hoss!" he shouted in reply. Then there was silence again. The throbbing ship felt its way over misty mountain tops southward, toward Grand Junction, before turning east again in its search for the headwaters of the Taylor and the descent into the Gunnison valley. The trip was ages long; at last the rain ceased, and eyes became brighter with the breaking of clouds. It was only momentary, however. To the right, to the left and beyond lay heavy buttresses of blue black which weighted the sky—suddenly Sandy Ross unfastened his seat belt and staggered into the turret.

"What do you think of it?" he shouted, leaning close to the pilot's shoulder. The answer was that inscrutable grin with which airmen have come to welcome the unknown.

"Can't tell," came crisply. "This is cloudburst weather. Got to play tag with those storms."

More ages passed, through rain and out of it again into the gleam of Colorado sunshine, made all the brighter by the lowering black of surrounding skies. The afternoon grew deeper. Likewise, the clouds massed heavier; once in a streak of high ceiling, Sandy counted a dozen clouds pouring their heavy loads of moisture upon patches of mountains.

"Like shaking dice," he shouted to Buck Wasey. The Texan nodded.

"Loaded ones," he answered.

A half hour passed. Black skies became gray skies. The plane was banking above what seemed to be a toy town. The pilots were talking to each other, craning their necks, pointing. At last, ground skimmed beneath the plane, there was a series of terrific bumps and bounces and the ship stopped. Sandy Ross did not hesitate to learn whether they had alighted upon a makeshift landing field or upon a stretch of mountain meadow. He was out of his seat, and at the door, waiting for it to be opened. With the flash of daylight, he leaped to the ground, grabbing his hat against the rush of wind from the propellors, still rotating. He faced a raw boned man whose many wrinkles were shadowed by a five gallon hat.

"Sheriff?" he asked.

"Yep." They shook hands without asking names. "There's my car if you want to load your men into it. Got another one coming—there it is now, just rounding in. Where to first?"

Sandy Ross liked this kind of an officer.

"Tell me what's happened. Where are they?"

"They?" the sherif asked.

"Isn't there a girl and a man?"

"No, just a girl. There was a man but he's either hidden or he's left town."

Sandy Ross bit his lips. Looking about him, he noticed for the first time that the ground was dry—storms had as yet not touched this place. One glance at the sky, however, told him it would not be long.

"Sure about the man?" he queried.

"Certain. I'd seen this girl a couple of times before I got word that car was wanted. No man with her at any time. When I started to check up, I made inquiries—sort of a tourist place where she's staying, about twenty miles back in the hills. The man is supposed to have gone away. But you never can tell."

"How do you get there?"

"Easy enough—take the first road to the right after you leave here and keep on it until you cross the bridge over Bobcat gulch. That is——" he rolled a tongue in his cheek as he glanced at the sky—"if this cloudburst don't hit there first."

Sandy Ross also looked upward. A queer blue-blackness was settling upon the valley of the Gunnison. He gave orders to the pilot to hold the plane ready for further flight, then moved toward the sherif's automobile.

"Buck!" he commanded, "put our two cases in this car." Then, as the Texan obeyed, the inspector turned to the sherif, introducing the rest of his squad. "We've got to find where that man went. If you'll take these agents of mine and——"

"Guess I know about every place to ask," the sherif replied.

GASOLINE ALLEY—A PAIR OF POOR FISH

Girls Critical of Appearance in Boy Friends

BY DORIS BLAKE.

If the young men think that a high standard of personal appearance applies more largely to themselves than to young women, they just should sit in among a young feminine crowd and hear what we heard the other evening.

You're good, boys, darned good, if you pass the acid test! Your neckties, your teeth, your manners, your shaves are gone into with a ruthlessness that might startle certain of you men who nurse the idea that if you have money to spend that's all you need.

They weren't a bunch of soreheads either, these critics to whom we listened. Pretty popular girls, in fact, according to their date book entries. Pretty sound young women all round, bent on doing things, getting places, if not with you at their sides, then on their own.

Handsome you don't have to be apparently, although we gather that there is no line drawn against you should that be the picture you present. But good looking in the sense of good grooming, neatness, up-to-dateness of dress and fastidiousness in matters of personal hygiene.

If you are not making a hit with the girls, perhaps, then your cue is to tackle yourself from the ground up. Yes, shoes and the tidiness with which socks are adjusted came in for comment. Pressings or lack of them as portrayed in your calling suit doesn't escape the feminine eye. Ties, colors, and adjustment thereof seem to register sharply with the girls, for good or ill. Superficial judgment, perhaps, but we're merely passing along outspoken verdicts.

And manners! If you haven't any, young men, heaven help you!

Two Wedding Couples Sail for South Seas to Live as Natives

San Francisco, Cal., March 11.—(AP)—Seeking an "escape from mediocrity" two honeymooning couples from Michigan sailed for the South seas today to live in thatched huts and eat fish with the natives of a tropical isle.

"Our folks think we are just a wee bit cracked," said brown-haired, serious-eyed Marjorie Hogan, one of the brides.

The expedition is a sequel to the double wedding on Feb. 28 in Pontiac, Mich., of Murrill F. Walls, 28, Pontiac High school teacher, to Amber Penny, 21, and Archie Hogan, 23, Albion college athlete, to a schoolmate, Marjorie Faddis, 21.

It was Walls who rebelled against "mediocrity." He didn't like Pontiac high school teaching with the prospect of "working hard all your life and getting nothing for it except maybe being called an honest man." Life nowadays, he said, is fraught with "economic uncertainty, war threats, cultural retrogression."

missionary under the Presbyterian board, is connected with the Central hospital in Ebolowa in the French Cameroons, but he has been here recently working with the Children's Memorial hospital.

Dr. and Mrs. McCrackin are natives of Illinois, and he is a graduate of the University of Illinois. His subject this morning [the lecture will commence at 11 o'clock] will be his work in Africa.

Young Miss McCrackin is not the only Cradle baby who will be traveling to a far off home this spring, for the Harold Kneedlers are taking their tiny Deborah with them when they sail for Manila the middle of April, and the Rev. and Mrs. Rhea McCurdy Ewing will have a Cradle baby with them when they return soon to the American Presbyterian mission in Dehra Dum, India. Their baby is a girl, too.

Alliance to Hear Mrs. Harley MacNair.

Mrs. Harley MacNair [Florence Ayscough] will talk this afternoon on "Chinese Gardens" at the Alliance Française's weekly causerie. The talk will be illustrated with slides.

Miss Gertrude McCarthy will act as hostess, assisted by Mrs. Charles De Long, Mrs. Ralph Winston, Mrs. Walter E. Bracken, Mrs. Hal C. Bangs, Mrs. Werner Lawson, and Miss Sarah Hinde. Mme. René Weiller, Mrs. Thomas J. Hinde, and Mrs. Carter H. Harrison will pour.

Next Monday evening at the Oriental institute Mrs. MacNair will talk before members of the Renaissance society of the University of Chicago on "The Connection Between Chinese Painting, Poetry, and Calligraphy."

Mrs. Charles R. Lindsay Jr. will talk about "How to Identify Our Native Birds" this afternoon after luncheon at The Little Traveler in Geneva and will show her fine collection of Audubon bird charts. Next Thursday Harold Stark will give his entertaining illustrated talk, "The 19th Century Panorama," at The Little Traveler.

Mrs. Francis T. A. Junkin is entertaining informally at dinner tonight for her house guest, the Rev. Dr. Arthur Lee Kinsolving, and then taking her guests to the symphony concert. She is doing no formal entertaining for Dr. Kinsolving because it is Lent and he is here to speak this week at the noonday Lenten services sponsored by the Church club.

Dr. Kinsolving is rector of Trinity church, Boston, and a son of Dr. Arthur B. Kinsolving, rector of old St. Paul's in Baltimore.

Amherst Glee Club Backers to Meet.

Mrs. Hamilton Moses is giving a tea tomorrow at her residence, 70 Scott street, for the women of the committee in charge of a concert the Amherst Glee club will give on April 2 in the ballroom of the Drake hotel.

Mrs. Moses' son, Hamilton Jr., is a member of the committee. There will be dancing following the concert, the proceeds of which will go to the scholarship fund of the Amherst Club of Chicago.

The Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity will hold its fortieth annual ball in the Mayfair room of the Blackstone hotel on Saturday. Among the well known Dekes who are expected to attend are Stuyvesant Peabody, Harold H. Swift, Willoughby G. Walling, Robert A. Gardner, Warner G. Baird, Clarence W. Sills, Charles F. Glore, and T. Philip Swift.

Miss Virginia Melody, chairman of the committee planning the Junior league's spring secondhand clothes sale, will entertain the members of the committee at tea next Monday at her studio in East Ontario street. The sale will be held on April 2 at 1006 South Michigan avenue.

Hospital Board Arranges Lecture.

The woman's board of the Presbyterian hospital has arranged a Lenten talk for Tuesday morning, March 31, at 11 o'clock at the Fortnightly. The Rev. Herbert L. Willett will talk on "Periods of Meditation in World Religions." Mrs. Clyde E. Shorey is president of the board.

The Big Sisters have selected Easter Monday as the date for their annual card party to be held in the grand ballroom of the Palmer house. Mrs. James W. Egan, Mrs. Leo P. Finn, Mrs. William Hoffman, Mrs. Frank Lamb, Mrs. Edward Hines, Mrs. Glen Davis, and Mrs. W. Harry Remien are heading committees.

Mrs. Charles A. Butland and her 9 month old daughter are sailing Sunday from Shanghai to spend the spring and summer with Mrs. Butland's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael F. Gallagher of Deere Park drive, Highland Park. Mr. Butland will join his wife and baby late in the summer to take them back to their home in China.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Dawes of Evanston left Monday for a three weeks' trip to Bermuda. They sailed yesterday on the Queen of Bermuda.

Mrs. William O. Green and her daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. Kenneth Carpenter and Josephine Carpenter, are leaving today for New York to sail tomorrow for California via the Panama canal. Mrs. Green and "Jo" will arrive at home about April 1, but Mrs. Carpenter will remain in California three or four weeks longer.

Miss Elizabeth Ann Sheldon will not return home for her spring vacation from Vassar, for she is going to Winter Park, Fla., for a visit with her grandfather, John H. Stevens.

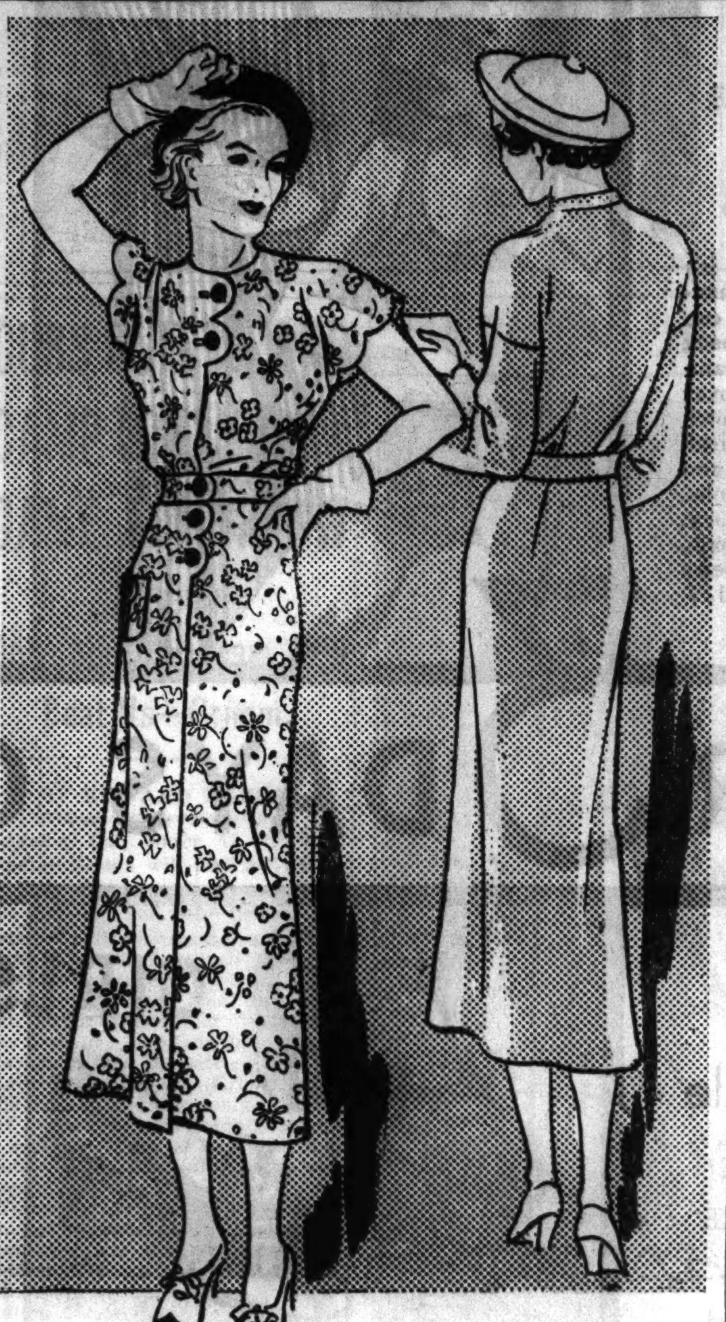
Tub Frock Adopts Scallops



WOMAN'S AND MISS' FROCK.

Summer demands that one's wardrobe have many dresses of the washable variety. This requirement might place too much pressure on the budget were it not for the fact that the smart cottons are so inexpensive, making a wide variety of tubbable frocks a certainty for every woman. Today's pattern creates an attractive one piece dress which is "tops" in any of the lovely cotton sheers. Tub silks also make up well in this model. Scallops lend novelty to this otherwise simple frock, and your favorite type of button accents the scallops, which are repeated in the design of the short sleeves.

This dainty frock, which is exceedingly simple to sew, is designed for sizes 14, 16, and 18 years, and 36, 38, and 40 inches bust measurement. Style No. 2647, in size 16, requires 3 yards of 39 inch material.

BY MARY MEADE.

Crisp, puffy "soufflé" potatoes—the kind you order with steak or chops at your favorite restaurant—aren't such a bugaboo as you always fearfully may have believed. There's a trick to achieving the puff in the crisp chips, yes, but it's as easy to master as it is delightful to know.

Begin with medium sized baking potatoes. Cut off both the ends in a straight slice, and then peel them lengthwise.

Slice the potatoes with one fell stroke, lengthwise. A broken surface won't soufflé. And don't soak the chips in water. [We usually make them about an eighth of an inch thick.] The starchy, natural film seems to have something to do with the crust that keeps in the steam.

Now for the trick: Soufflé potatoes are fried twice—once in deep fat at a moderate temperature, and the second time in hot fat. Wipe the chips dry, to begin with, then drop them into deep fat heated to a temperature of 300 degrees F. Keep them immersed in the fat [a blunt spoon is good for this, since a fork pricks the chips] until they begin to blister and puff, but not until they begin to brown. Then remove them to unglazed paper or paper toweling to drain and cool.

All this may be done decidedly in advance of dinner time, so there's no last minute fretting and fuming over the frying kettle.

Then, just before serving time, reheat the fat to 400 degrees F. Plunge the cooled, blistered chips into the hot fat to puff and brown. Only a couple of minutes is necessary for this last frying, just long enough to make the puffy chips crisp, noncollapsible, and golden brown. Drain them again on clean toweling or paper, sprinkle with salt, and serve immediately.

There's an alternate method of making the soufflé chips, but we've not had as consistently good results with it, so at present the above procedure is our pet. In the second method you plunge the raw chips into hot fat, 500 degrees F., for 15 seconds; cool and drain, and then finish the cooking at 375. It's a little more difficult, for one thing, which should be reason enough for preferring the other method.

While we're on the deep frying subject, here's a tip on regular French fried potatoes. Many women ignore them completely as causing too much last minute trouble, not knowing that they may be cooked in advance, all except for a quick plunge just before serving time. The potatoes are cut as usual, and fried in deep fat at the usual temperature [370 degrees F.] in the morning. Just as they're beginning to take on a golden tinge, they're removed from the hot fat, drained on paper or toweling, and set aside to cool. Then, just as the steak is about to leave the broiler at dinner time, they're again dropped into the deep fat kettle. The last frying is done with the fat heated to 400 degrees F., and takes just long enough for a final browning and crisping.

According to CULBERTSON

I TURN COMFORTER.

In my rôle of bridge commentator, to my sorrow I find more to criticize than to praise. It is a distinct pleasure, therefore, when, instead of castigating some player for his stupidity I am able conscientiously to comfort him by pointing out that his error really was not the fatal feature of the hand.

Mr. H. L. Slack of Whitewater, Wis., writes me in a spirit of deep humility, confessing that he "pulled an awful boner" in the defense of a doubled game contract. Well, I can't stultify myself by saying his play was correct, but perhaps he will be comforted by my pointing out that it probably had no bearing on the final result.

The bidding as reported by Mr. Slack was:

East	South	West	North
1 Di.	1 Sp.	1 N. T.	2 Ht.
3 Di.	Pass	4 Di.	4 Ht.
5 Di.	Pass	Pass	5 Ht.
Pass	Pass	Double [final bid]

Obviously, North was a superconservative. His two heart bid, opposite his partner's spade overcall, was at least a two trick underbid, and had East passed, as he should have, might well have resulted in a lost game. His proper bid, on a hand this strong, was a diamond cue-bid, or at least a jump to four hearts. Now to quote from Mr. Slack's letter:

"East, fearing North was blank in diamonds, led the spade 7, North ducked, and I, without counting, or maybe without thinking, put in my spade jack, North winning with the ace, then leading trumps. East won and led a club, and all was over.

"Had I ducked, as I should have, on the opening lead, inferring that North had only two spades, since one obviously was the ace, and North had not shown spade support, the contract would have been set. It also is true that if North has three spades, the contract is made, regardless of what I play.

"It really looks bad for me, so do not razz me too much if you use the hand."

Undoubtedly the play of the spade jack was bad. But, after the opening lead, it is doubtful that the contract would have been defeated. North should, of course, win the first trick with the spade ace [West having ducked] and knocked out the ace of trumps. Now the fate of the contract rests on East's next play. Unless he continues spades, removing declarer's only entry to the dummy, five hearts cannot be defeated. And the second spade lead is questionable from East's point of view. Declarer might easily have had the singleton ace, and in that case East's spade lead would be suicidal.

Any other return by East would result in an easy squeeze and throw-in play. North would ruff a diamond lead, or win a club lead with the ace. He then would lead out every trump, reducing all hands to four cards. His own would be the 9-6-4 of clubs and a spade. East's cards, since he held nothing in clubs or spades, would not matter. Dummy would keep four spades. And poor West would have to blank a club honor in order to hold the guard to the spade suit. Since he would be forced to discard a club honor, the situation would be easy to read. North would have only to throw West on lead with a club to compel a spade lead up to dummy's tenace for the last three tricks. Thus only a trump and a club would be lost.

However, it must be admitted that the declarer had an even easier time of it, as the play went.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question: Left hand opponent opens the bidding with one spade. Partner doubles, next hand passes, and I hold ♠ 9 8 5 4 3, ♥ 6 5 2, ♦ 10 9, ♣ 4 3 2. What should I bid?

Answer: Bid two clubs, the best device in a bad situation.

A special exhibit of early spring flowers will be opened Friday in the Lincoln park conservatory. For the first time in the history of the conservatory the main exhibition house has been transformed into a real garden with lawns and flower beds set out in an informal arrangement.

Baby Can't Be Called Either 'Good' or 'Bad'

He's a Bundle of Impulses Seeking Expression.

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

Is your baby good or bad?

He isn't either.

He is a bundle of urges and impulses. Within him is a life force that is so strong it has brought him through eons of danger, conflict, and hardship to his present supremacy in nature. This life force is a growing, developing power within him.

When it is curtailed or repressed or diverted improperly we say he is naughty or a "bod boy." When it is allowed to express itself as it needs to, we say he is a "good baby." Properly channeled—not necessarily allowed license, but liberty—this force works for his own good. Improperly channeled, it is blocked or dammed or twisted until its thwarting shows itself in behavior which we call bad.

We wouldn't call a stunted flower bad. We would know we hadn't understood how to plant it, what soil to give it, and how to take care of it. We wouldn't call a lovely, luxuriant plant good. We'd know that by accident, or with knowledge, we'd given the plant what it needed.

A mother writes me—"My 18 months old baby is adorable but he is so naughty. I have to say to him all the time 'Don't do this and don't do that.' And then he throws himself on the floor and just shrieks. My husband is for spanking him."

Well, I think that baby is doing just what he should do—he's protesting with all his lungs and strength against the quite unintentionally barbarous treatment he's receiving. The baby has the right idea. It's much better to shriek than to submit to such frustrations.

We need to forget labels when we are confronted with behavior that we feel is not good for our child. It isn't a matter of whether he is good or bad. It is a question rather of, "Does my child act like this because somewhere along the line I have failed to understand him?"

His most precious right is that we work with the laws of his being and not that we impose our conception of a proper child on him.

HAWKS PLAY MAROONS TONIGHT IN HOME FINAL

SOX NEAR PEAK; WILL TAPER OFF FOR CUB SERIES

New Outfield Trio Pleases Dykes.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pasadena, Cal., March 11.—The White Sox took another strenuous dose of sun drenched exercise today but heard some welcome news at the finish. Manager Jim Dykes informed them he would excuse them after a gentle program tomorrow, the idea being to provide a breathing spell before the inaugural of the three game Pacific coast portion of the preseason city series with the Cubs at Los Angeles Friday.

Boss Man Dykes had another reason for wanting to slow down the daily routine. The boys are well along in their conditioning, partly because of the choice weather and partly because of their industry, the latter being due to the number of vacant jobs. With the American league season still more than four weeks distant, ample time remains for applying polish wherever it is needed, thus bringing the squad to its peak gradually and not turning the members thereof stale before the race starts.

Dykes More Enthusiastic.

Dykes is becoming a bit more enthusiastic every day about his possible outfield combination. This particular problem had him down when the camp was opened. Mike Kreevich was the only fly chasing rookie he took seriously. Now he's beginning to talk about Bit McCulloch, the purchase from Dallas. The rise in McCulloch stock is not due entirely to the fact that the kid made four hits against Seattle pitchers in last Sunday's exhibition.

What put McCulloch in the mill run class of rookies when camp opened was the meager .297 batting average he compiled last season at Dallas. He was supposed to be ill at the time. The year before he had been a whale of a hitter. Such pitchers as Red Evans and Ira Hutchinson, two of the Sox freshmen, were in the league with McCulloch and they admit experience has convinced them he is a fairly tough boy at the plate. Dykes likes the way he handles a bat, but what he doesn't know is whether there is a weakness which big league pitchers seldom are long in discovering.

Kreevich Looks Impressive.

Dykes is certain that Kreevich, McCulloch, and George Stumpf have just about all the defensive items required of fly chasers. All three are good throwers, reliable on fly balls and can run. McCulloch is about as fast as they come. On hitting possibilities alone Kreevich seems to have qualified thus far. He not only hit well in last Sunday's game, but his daily practice exhibitions at the plate also have made him a standout.

The holdout attitude of Zeke Bonura has given a lot of minor league clubs an idea that, for a fancy price, they can fix up the Sox with a surefire first baseman. All kinds of offers have been coming in to Dykes, but he hasn't responded. He figures Mule Haas might be able to handle the front door duties and that Bonura will risk breaking a leg getting to work as soon as he becomes convinced the club is not going to toss him any added bait. Bonura has made the remark that "Comiskey must have made a million dollars last year." He wants his share of something that doesn't exist.

Concentrates on Pitchers.

Dykes concentrated on the pitchers again today, but, of course, didn't neglect Luke Appling, the regular shortstop, who was late reaching camp. Luke had to run some more, hoping to get the soreness out of his legs by Friday afternoon. The pitchers put in a lot of time on making the common first base play and followed by turn in the batting practice. No sore arms are reported as the result of their cutting loose the last few days.

ROSS HAMMERS OUT DECISION OVER WALLACE

VANCOUVER, B. C., March 11.—(AP)—Barney Ross of Chicago, world welterweight champion, pounded out a decision over Gordon Wallace, Vancouver's Canadian welter champion, in a ten round nontitle bout tonight.

For the first eight rounds they fought on fairly even terms, but in the last two Wallace tired badly and the superior punching power and stamina of the champion decided the fight. Ross scaled 142½ pounds and Wallace 148.

THE GUMPS—TAKING THE BULL BY THE HORNS

CUBS QUIT ISLAND CAMP TODAY; SOX GAME TOMORROW

Only Miracle Team Will Beat Us—Grimm.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Avalon, Cal., March 11.—Manager Charley Grimm will lead his troupe of Cubs off this island tomorrow. The skipper and his helpers are rampant with eagerness to get about their exhibition baseball matches, which will include jousts with all National league teams and the American league teams that finished in the first five positions last season.

As he packed his satchel after today's drill, Manager Grimm withheld an out and out pennant claim, but backed into a Dutch prophecy in which he said that any team that beats out the Cubs will have to perform miracles.

There will be a light workout before sailing time tomorrow. Today's rigamarole was the last all around routine of the spring, however, the Cubs being booked solid in their exhibition tour.

Morning Drill for Some.

There will be morning drills for part of the squad each morning of the exhibition season, beginning Friday. The three mornings the Cubs are in Los Angeles the following will go through their paces: Grimm, English, Stainback, Stephenson, Gill, Hutchings, Vitter, Vines, Weafer, Ford and Flowers. The remainder of the squad will form the team which will engage the White Sox. Other divisions will be made to determine the morning squad after the outfit hits the road.

As the team drew near the end of the first phase of its training activities, Manager Grimm reiterated earlier complimentary appraisals of his regulars, but went to great length in his discussion of Chuck Klein, who, he said, had shown "remarkable improvement over last year in every way."

Said Charles of Chuck: "His attitude and morale are perfect, his physical condition great, his timing at bat is clicking a million per cent, his terrific power has returned, and I'm counting on him to surpass some of those record years he had when he was a standout for the Phillies."

Insists Warneke Is O. K.

Interviewers who came over to be present at the camp breaking swarmed on Manager Grimm with questions about Lon Warneke. Journalists off the island have continued to insist that Lon is an invalid, even to rewriting dispatches from scriveners on the ground. Here is what Grimm said of Warneke to those skeptics from the mainland:

"Warneke looks better than he has any spring since he joined us in 1930, before he went to Reading. He hasn't suffered the slightest hint of a recurrence of the injury that laid him low in the fifth game of the world series."

Today's didoes were witnessed by Owner P. K. Wrigley. The big boss said that he would see all the games in Los Angeles and would try to see other games on the exhibition tour, although he does not expect to be able to stick to the team straight through. He said that the Cubs would open their training season here next year and that the question as to whether the trip to Florida will be repeated next spring will be answered after it is found how this year's experiment works out.

Demaree to Face Sox.

Frank Demaree, who returned to the team last night after visiting his father, dangerously ill in Winters, Cal., will play left field in the White Sox series. Stan Hack, who ha been in Sacramento because of the death of his mother, is expected to rejoin the team Friday but Gene Lillard probably will play third against the Sox.

Purdue Elects Seward, Downey to Lead '37 Five

Lafayette, Ind., March 11.—[Special.]—James Seward, Indianapolis, center, and Glen Downey, Michigantown, long range shooting guard, were elected co-captains of the Purdue basketball squad for the 1936-'37 season tonight.

JIGGERS, CHABOT! THEY'RE HERE AGAIN

Johnny Gottselig (left) and Glenn Brydson are two of the Blackhawk forwards who will annoy Goalie Lorne Chabot of the Montreal Maroons at the Chicago Stadium tonight, when the two teams meet in the Hawks' last regular home game of the season. Gottselig and Brydson will be the wings on a front line trio which will start the game with Donnie McFadyen at center. In four previous meetings this season the Hawks and Maroons each have won two games.

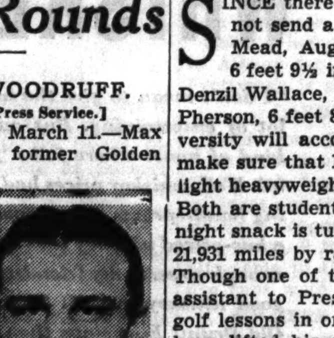
Perroni Sub Beats Marek in 10 Rounds

BY HARVEY WOODRUFF.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Miami Beach, Fla., March 11.—Max Marek of Chicago, former Golden Glover who as an amateur once won a decision over Joe Louis, tonight lost a close ten round bout to Steve Carr of Meriden, Conn., before 2,000 spectators at the Miami Beach arena.



MAX MAREK.

Carr, a ring veteran of nearly a decade's experience, substituted for Patsy Perroni of Cleveland, who injured his hand in training. He accepted the bout on short notice. Although hanging on desperately in the tenth round from weariness, Carr made a most creditable showing.

The round count by this commentator, perhaps due to sectional partisanship, was three rounds for Marek, three for Carr and four even. The decision of the referee and two judges, however, was popular with the crowd which cheered steadily for the easterner against Marek, who was a 3 to 1 favorite in advance, with few takers.

There was no question of Carr's superior ring skill from a boxing viewpoint, for he frequently beat Max to the punch. Marek's tactics were of the type familiar to followers of his amateur days, a body attack, occasionally lifting to the jaw, and a willingness to take a punch to land one. He was the aggressor throughout with Carr on a bicycle part of the way. Carr's tactics, however, were varied with flashy rallies which kept the crowd yelling on its feet over the fastest and best fought match of the Florida winter season among heavyweights.

Carr drew crowd sympathy from the fact a cut eye, sustained at Palm Beach recently, had not entirely healed. But he protected it well except in one round.

Golden Gloves Boys Cut Loose in First Drill

BY WILFRID SMITH.

All present or accounted for. This was the report yesterday when the boxers on the Chicago Golden Gloves team began their ring drills at the Illinois Athletic club preparatory to meeting New York's champions in Madison Square Garden on March 23.

JOHNNY BROWN.

Every member of the squad went through four rounds of work on the gymnasium floor, skipping the rope, shadow boxing and punching the heavy bags. Each round was three minutes. And all of the boys except Johnny Brown, Joe Drayer, Chester Rutecki, Joe Coussens, Sam Zaczek, and Milton Shivers, took part in the first contact drills. These boys are not seriously injured, and their bruises and cuts will not keep them inactive long.

Troupe Takes Smith's Place.

Milton Shivers, Detroit's middleweight champion, checked in Tuesday evening. He was closely followed by Paul Combs from Washington, Ind., who won a place on the intercity squad as a member of the Evansville team. Joe Kempenger, burly heavyweight from Kansas City, arrived last evening after an all day ride. He had just enough time to register at the I. A. C. when Quincy Troupe of St. Louis signed in. Troupe was chosen to complete the heavyweight class, filling the vacancy left when Tyrus Smith, Oklahoma Indian, could not obtain leave from school to make the intercity trip.

Two of the eight 1936 champions are not in Chicago, but these boys, Paul Hartnek, heavyweight, and Carl Vinciquerra, light heavyweight, have been excused from reporting until Saturday morning. Both are students

4 TEAMS BATTLE TONIGHT TO MEET N. U. AND DE PAUL

Resume Olympic Basket Trials at 132d Armory.

Four quintets, three from Indiana and one from Illinois, tonight will attempt to continue their way to finals of the Fifth district intercollegiate Olympic basketball tournament at the 132d Regiment armory, Rockwell and Madison streets. The four teams, survivors of first round play at Indianapolis last Saturday, will engage in two games, the first of which will start at 8 o'clock.

Indiana State, coached by Wally Marks, former University of Chicago star, will oppose Augustana of Rock Island, Ill., in the opening contest. In the other game Central Normal of Danville, Ind., will meet Ball State Teachers' college of Muncie, Ind.

N. U., De Paul Meet Winners.

Winners of tonight's games will meet Northwestern and De Paul tomorrow night. Northwestern and De Paul, rated as two of the outstanding squads in the central west, were seeded. De Paul will draw Indiana State or Augustana while Northwestern is to meet Central Normal or Ball Teachers.

Indiana State, which played one of the lightest schedules in its history, reached the semi-finals by eliminating Miami university of Oxford, O., last Saturday at Butler university gymnasium, 45 to 27. It wound up its regular season with a record of 11 victories and three defeats.

Miklozek Leads Hoosiers.

Coach Marks indicated he would use Hinton and Eastabrook at forwards; Burton and Carr, guards, and John Miklozek, center. Miklozek, 6 feet 4½ inches tall, was the leader in Indiana State's victory over Miami.

Augustana entered the semi-final round by triumphing over Butler, 41 to 40. Indiana State defeated Butler, 37 to 35, two weeks ago.

The finals will be played on the same court Saturday night. The district champion will oppose the Sixth district titleholder in Minneapolis. The grand finals, which will bring together the district champions, will be held in Madison Square Garden, New York, next month.

MRS. CREWS IS BEATEN, 2 UP, BY MISS HEMPHILL

Belleair, Fla., March 11.—(AP)—Rallying brilliantly on the home nine, Kathryn Hemphill of Columbia, S. C., won an upset victory over Medalist Maureen Orcutt Crews of Miami, 2 up, today in the Belleair Women's Golf tournament.

The national champion, Mrs. Glenna Collette Vare of Philadelphia, beat Jean Bauer of Providence, R. I., 6 and 4.

Other quarter final matches went 19 holes, Marion Miley of Lexington, Ky., defeating Sylvia Annenberg of Flushing, L. I., and Mrs. Marion Turpie Lake of New York ousting Mrs. Mark McGarry of St. Petersburg.

YOUNGSTERS GET FLING AT A. B. C.; ONE TOTALS 543

Indianapolis, Ind., March 11.—(AP)—Young America had its fling at the alleys of the American Bowling Congress tournament in the Fair Grounds coliseum this afternoon and the youngest was 11 year old Neil King Jr., son of the A. B. C. vice president.

Rolling anchor with his seventh and eighth grade schoolmates, young King marked up scores of 109—140—112 for an average of 120, with which he was well satisfied.

Young King was one of 160 youngsters ranging in age from 11 to 16 who took over the alleys during the afternoon, their entry fees paid by four local hotels. High team score was 2,096 and the high individual count by 16 year old Bill Snodgrass, who totaled 543.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The Chicago Blackhawks have nourished many a choice grudge throughout their National Hocky league career, but none so fraught with sentiment, tradition, and downright meanness as that of tonight, when they meet the world's champion Montreal Maroons at the Chicago Stadium in the last home game of the regular schedule.

The Hawks will gladly lose five games any season for the ecstasy of whipping Mr. James Norris' Detroit Red Wings. They would trade their able publicitor, Joseph C. Farrell, and all of Trainer Eddie Froelich's healing ointments it the deal guaranteed a decision over the high and mighty Toronto Maple Leafs. And what is sweeter than a victory over Edward Shore and his Boston Bruins?

This Is for Keeps.

Fine, bitter feuds, all of these are, but they are tatting tiffs compared to the enmity that has grown up between the Hawks and Maroons, one to which fresh fuel is added each time they meet. And tonight's game involves reasons other than the feud itself for each to win. For the Hawks, a victory will enable them to tie Detroit, whom they now trail by one game, for first place in the American section, provided that the Rangers do them the favor of whipping the Wings at New York tonight. For the Maroons, it will be a struggle to hold their first place tie in the Canadian section with Toronto, which will invade the Canadiens' rink tonight.

But back of the immediate need of a victory at the Stadium, each of the feudists can present a flock of briefs for wanting to win this one game. It would be just as important to either to take this battle if both were hopelessly out of the Stanley cup playoffs.

Remember Last March?

Here are a few of the reasons why both Maroons and Hawks can hardly wait to get on the ice tonight:

1. On March 26, 1935, the Hawks met the Maroons at the Stadium in the final game of the second place round of the world series. The advantage was all Chicago's. They were on their home ice after having held the Maroons scoreless in 60 minutes at Montreal. There was still no score after the regular 60 minutes here. Then a penalty was called on the Hawks, and Baldy Northcott scored the only goal of the series in four minutes of overtime, the goal that eliminated the Hawks and sent the Maroons on to win the cup.

2. The series to date has done nothing to clear up the situation. The two have met four times, with tonight's game, and another at Montreal on March 21 yet to be played, and each has won two.

Karakas vs. Chabot.

3. The last time they met, at Montreal on Feb. 25, the Hawks won, 2 to 0. This was a personal triumph for Goalie Mike Karakas of the Hawks, whom the Maroons, among others, had considered not good enough for big time hocky. Facing Mike that night, as he will be tonight, was Lorne Chabot, who won the Vezina trophy while playing for the Hawks last year. Karakas has allowed only 76 goals to lead the race for this year's trophy, while Chabot, whose total includes the goals scored against his predecessor, Bill Beveridge, is charged with 100.

4. Thomas Patrick Gorman, who piloted the Hawks two years ago when they won the Stanley cup, is back as active manager after a period of absence during which everybody but the locker room boy ran the Maroons. The Maroons, until recently were managed by a succession of parties, including Cyclone Wentworth, Bill Miller, President Tom Arnold, Secretary Art Cayford, and Lionel Conacher. There is no love lost between Gorman and Clem Loughlin, the Hawks' boss. Last year Loughlin scored a newspaper decision over Gorman, and the next time the Maroons visited here, Thomas had three policemen detailed to protect him and his Maroons.

Alumni Will Lead Jeers.

5. Chabot, Wentworth and Conacher are all Blackhawk alumni, but they are expected to forego all alma mater renditions this evening for the pleasure of thwarting their former associates. Donnie McFadyen of the Hawks has reason to remember Conacher from their last meeting, having received a dandy shiner from the big Maroon at Montreal. Conacher worked out briefly for any future bouts when he went two fast rounds with Art Coulter, another Hawk graduate, at New York Tuesday.

STADIUM SEES BOOM IN BOXING AS HEAVIES MEET

20 Big Fellows to Be in Action Tomorrow.

"Everything is going to be all right," chant Matchmakers James C. Mullen and Nate Lewis as they extol the capabilities of twenty heavyweight boxers who will appear in ten bouts at Chicago Stadium tomorrow night.

Both were agreed that the recent Lorenzo Pack-Cowboy Frankie Edgren fiasco has harmed boxing in general and the Stadium tournament in particular. Nevertheless, they are enthusiastic over the possibilities for thrilling action tomorrow's show presents.

Expects Crowd of 6,000.

"About 6,000 fans will pay approximately $7,000 to see the card," Lewis predicted. "That amount will show a profit of at least $2,000."

Buddy Knox, the Dayton fireball, clashes with Phil Sommese, 1934 and 1935 New York Golden Gloves light heavyweight champion, in one of three matches at six rounds which head the program. Bob Tow, the Virginian 200 pound fighter, meets Lou Le Page, a newcomer from Patterson, N. J., and Johnny Erjavec, 21 year old Duluth boxer, is paired with Charley Halleck, Cleveland, who also will be making his Chicago debut.

Mullen Praises Preliminary Boys.

But Matchmaker Mullen does not stop at praising those candidates. He displays equal gusto while speaking of the skill of rival contestants in supplementary bouts.

"We're selling ten fights," Mullen emphasized. "These bouts stack up as some of the most evenly matched held at the Stadium. Knox' ability to pile up victory after victory and Sommese' demonstration of boxing while whipping Erjavec assures an attractive match, but principals in other conflicts will not lack for support."

Despite this exuberance, the matchmaker does not intend to have the Illinois boxing commission consider Monday's hearing on the "lame and impotent conclusion" of the Pack-Edgren bout at the west side building Feb. 28 as closing the incident.

Pack Handed Suspension.

On that occasion Lorenzo and his manager, Jack Kearns, were suspended for thirty days because the former Golden Gloves champion entered the ring against Edgren out of condition. The match was declared no contest in the sixth round when it was charged Pack was carrying the cowboy, a supposition which did not appear to stand up at the hearing.

Champions of 5 Countries in Bike Race

Six day bicycle race champions of five countries are listed in the starting field for Chicago's thirty-fifth international race which starts in the Stadium Sunday night. The champions are William [Torchy] Peden of Canada, Alfred Letourner of France, Gerard Debaets of Belgium, Heinz Vopel of Germany, and Charley Winter of the United States.

Peden has scored more victories than any rider entered in the race. The husky red head from Victoria, B. C., has won twenty-seven six day events. Only Pete Van Kempen of Holland, who has practically retired, has won more—twenty-eight to be exact. Peden hopes to tie Van Kempen's record next week, for he is in excellent condition and is paired with Jules Audy of Montreal, another strong rider.

Peden has built up this brilliant record since 1928, the year he was a member of the Canadian Olympic bicycle team. In addition to winning twenty-seven races, Torchy has finished second ten times, third five times, and fourth ten times.

Letourner ranks second in number of victories, having won nineteen races, eight of which were in a row. He has finished second twelve times, third seven times, and fourth twice. The little Frenchman is paired with Debaets, a veteran who has won seventeen races, finished second in four, third in six, and fourth in seven.

Vopel, the 28 year old German, has eight victories, six of them in a row. He has finished second five times. Vopel and his partner, Gus Kilian, are confident of winning the coming race, but they are going to have a tough battle. Charley Winter, New York boy, leads American riders with seven victories.

PRIVATE SCHOOLS BASKET MEET TO OPEN TOMORROW

Fourteen teams are entered in the central states basketball tournament for private schools which starts tomorrow morning at Morgan Park Military academy gymnasium. Elgin academy, Culver Military academy and Onarga Military school are rated the strongest teams. Elgin already has won the Mid-west conference title.

Chicago teams entered are Morgan Park, Chicago Christian High school, Luther institute, Chicago Latin school, and Harvard school.

NORTH CENTRAL SEEKS FOURTH TRACK VICTORY

North Central college's track team will be after its fourth indoor track victory when it meets Armour Tech at Naperville tonight. After losing to the University of Chicago by six points in the first meet of the year, North Central beat Wheaton, South Side college and Loyola by large scores.

WALKAWAY MONEY.

MIAMI, Fla., March 11.—Mort Mahony, head of the mutuels department at Hialeah Park, estimates, pending final check, the amount of walkaway money for the season at $8,000. That is surprisingly small for a total betting handle of nearly $15,000,000. In fact, had the Wake been asked to guess, we'd have placed the figure at $25,000. Mr. Mahony, however, has the figures. Moreover, on all past occasions, he has given statistics accurately without regard to any question of policy involved.

For the uninformed, walkaway money, in turf parlance, represents uncashed winning mutuel tickets. It may surprise that any one fails to cash such tickets, but this so-called walkaway money exists at all tracks where mutuel betting prevails and no doubt to a lesser degree in places where bets are made direct with the bookmakers.

Why should there be uncashed tickets? Well, some persons lose their pasteboards. Others forget or misunderstand their wagers. Perhaps it's inconceivable, but we've heard of persons tearing up place tickets because the nag upon which they wagered had won. More frequently, however, there is confusion on entry or field horse wagers. All racing cognoscenti know that if either horse of an entry, or any horse in a field combination, win, all horses in the entry or all horses in the field, win so far as the betting is concerned.

Walkaway money in this state is impounded for six years, after which in the absence of legislative direction, it will revert to the track unless the Widener interests decide to devote it to charity. In Maryland such money is held for three years when the statute of limitations takes effect. Money is returned to the track treasury, from which the state exacts 15 per cent. In New Hampshire, tickets must be cashed within 30 days. After that, it is divided equally between state and track. In Illinois, so far as we know, no provision is made in the state racing law for disposition of this surplus.

Despite any opinion to the contrary, race tracks are most sympathetic in their treatment of patrons who lose or fail to cash their tickets. It's a good will policy. Mr. Mahony told of cashing this year a Pimlico mutuel ticket worth $9.60 which was 12 years old. Although the ticket had outlawed the track paid it. The holder explained that he had written the amount on the back of the ticket and had been three times around the world before presenting it for redemption.

Mr. Mahony was not positive what would have happened if the amount had been $9,600, but thought the track would have paid it just the same. On the other hand it's hardly likely any one would carry a $9,600 winning ticket for 12 years.

One season, at Arlington, a friend lost a $98 winning ticket. He reported his loss to Secretary Roy Carruthers, who referred him to Mr. Shaw, head of the mutuels department. The patron established his identity as a reputable person and was informed he would be reimbursed at the end of the meeting if the ticket was not presented by any one else. If it was, the person presenting would be questioned as to how he secured the pasteboard. At the end of the meeting our friend received his $98.

Gray Rose.

Have you forgotten that once this rose
Brought you the sunlight amidst your woes?
And do you recall that the bloom was red,
Red as the blood it was doomed to shed?
The rose which once brought happiness
Now has outlived its usefulness;
It does not thrill you as of yore—
A fairer bud now pleases more.
O, when a rose once red turns gray,
Often it's carelessly thrown away;
Tossed on the ground to be trod upon
While he, the wearer, just passes on.

King Levinsky Signs for Lee Ramage Bout April 7

Los Angeles, Cal., March 11.—(AP)—Matchmaker Joe Waterman announced today he had signed Lee Ramage to meet King Levinsky, Chicago, in the Olympic auditorium here April 7. Ramage, young San Diego boxer, was a ranking heavyweight until Joe Louis knocked him out here Feb. 22, 1935.

Faculty Votes Tomorrow on Badger Sports

Madison, Wis., March 11.—[Special.]—The second step in assuring the Western conference that harmony exists between the University of Wisconsin faculty and board of regents relative to athletic control will be taken up by the faculty as a whole Friday afternoon. Announcement of the meeting was made tonight by President Glenn Frank.

The faculty will consider two major changes in reconstruction of the athletic department, both of which are designed to place with the faculty additional control over intercollegiate athletics.

O. K. Thought Certain.

The changes, which already have the unanimous approval of the joint regent-faculty committee and the board of regents, are:

1. Elimination of regent representation on the faculty athletic board.

2. A provision requiring that President Frank confer with the university committee, a standing faculty body, on appointment of members to the faculty board.

Because faculty members on the joint board with the regents already have concurred in the new setup, approval by the faculty as a whole is held certain.

Frank Promises Speed.

Immediately after that action President Frank has promised to submit his new athletic board appointments to the regents' executive committee for approval.

Equipped once more with the necessary machinery, the process of hiring an athletic director and a head football coach to fill the gaps created by the regents' housecleaning act several weeks ago will get under way.

The regents' ouster of Coach Clarence W. Spears and Atheltic Director Walter E. Meanwell, which came at the end of a two months' investigation into departmental warfare, was followed by resignation of the four professors and the student representative on the faculty athletic board and a subsequent warning from the Western conference to provide assurance of faculty control over athletics by July 1 or be suspended.

Golden Gloves Novice Winners Battle Tonight

Cosley, who won the 147 pound title, will meet Johnny Xanthakis in one of the feature bouts of the night, while Ligocki, 175 pound champion, will face Sam Smith.

The card:

Jack Cosley vs. John Xanthakis 145 pounds.
Joe McLarney vs. John Lewandowski, 142 pounds.
Sig Ligocki vs. Sam Smith, 165 pounds.
Eugene Smith vs. Stanley Kogut, 128 pounds.
Eugene Ward vs. Joe Herbeck, 112 pounds.
Jack Martino vs. Phil Brown, 118 pounds.
Westefield Miller vs. Al Reed, 135 pounds.
Teddy Hemstead vs. Matty Szajkowski, 130 pounds.

25 Prep Fives Enter Loyola Basket Meet

Acceptance of invitations by seven more Catholic high school teams yesterday brought the total to 25, with nearly a score of applicants being checked to fill out the bracket of 32 for the national Catholic interscholastic basketball tournament which opens at Loyola university gymnasium next Wednesday night.

The new teams announced by the Rev. Bernard A. Reddy, director of the tournament, include St. John's academy of Jamestown, N. D., the first representative of that state to appear in the national meet. The others are St. Anthony's, Okmulgee, Okla.; St. Mary's High school, St. Mary's, Pa.; Campion academy, Prairie du Chien, Wis.; Columbia academy, Dubuque, Ia.; St. Veronica, Ambridge, Pa.; St. Mary's, Dunkirk, N. Y.

Withdrawal of Assumption High school of Windsor, Ont., also was announced. The Canadians had planned to enter, but several recent defeats caused school officials to cancel their bid.

Ty Cobb Sued for $50,000 in Auto Injury Case

San Jose, Cal., March 11.—(AP)—Ty Cobb, the "Georgia Peach" of baseball fame, was named defendant in a $50,000 personal injury suit filed in Superior court today by W. R. Turvey, La Jolla butcher. Turvey claims he was struck by Cobb's automobile on Aug. 29, 1935.

GOLDEN GLOVES BOYS CUT LOOSE IN FIRST DRILL

Hartnek, Vinciquerra to Report Saturday.

at Creighton university, and must spend this week at their books.

The boys who put on the big gloves yesterday set to work as if the intercity fighters were to be chosen at the end of the round. It is true, of course, that only 16 boys can fight in New York and that barring accidents Chicago's eight champions will meet New York's eight champions. This leaves eight positions open, and there are 24 boxers seeking those eight positions.

Kara, Spica Go to It.

Ted Kara, Cleveland's 126 pound champion, and Paul Spica of St. Louis staged a thrilling three minute battle yesterday. It had nothing on the fight between Elwood McReynolds, Davenport welterweight, and Johnny Barbara of South Bend, who was runner-up at the Stadium to Champion Chester Rutecki.

The other training matches brought together Steve Rodak and Joe Chizar, Paul Combs and Bruce Ferro, Ray Harris and George Latka, Pete Lello and James Martin, Andy Scrivani and John Martin, Al Wardlow and Hiner Thomas, Paul Frazier and John Washington, Herman West and Washington. Thus, big John [George] Washington, who finished in second place in the final tournament, was the only boxer to get a two round drill. Washington weighs 214 pounds, tops for the team, and part of that weight is due to his underpinning. He wears a size 15 shoe.

Yesterday's work started with a full session on the road for all boxers. Fred Caserio had one group in Grant park for a long jog before breakfast, while Bob Howard and Eddie Nichols supervised the road work of the other group of boys. After the run the boys had breakfast and then were free for several hours until lunch time. Luncheon is served at 11:30 o'clock. The boxing is split into two sections, the first four weights reporting at 2:30 in the gymnasium to Coach Behr, while the second group, comprising the last four weights, reports at 3:30. Dinner is served at 6 o'clock and taps sound at 10 o'clock each night.

Boys Head East Tuesday.

The team will leave for New York next Tuesday afternoon. This departure will permit a full schedule of boxing on Tuesday. On Wednesday [the team arrives before noon in New York] the boys will continue their boxing at Stillman's gymnasium. Thus the trip will not interrupt the training schedule.

112 pounds—Jackie Wilson, Cleveland; Jesse Robinson, Sam Zaczek, and Steve Rodak, Chicago; Joe Chizar, South Bend.

118 pounds—Johnny Brown, Chicago; Paul Combs, Evansville; Bruce Ferro, Milwaukee; William Joyce, Gary.

126 pounds—Ted Kara, Cleveland; Paul Spica, St. Louis; Ray Harris, Michigan City; Harry Peck, Joliet; George Latka, Gary.

147 pounds—Chester Rutecki, Chicago; John Barbara, South Bend; John Martin, Peoria; Elwood McReynolds, Davenport.

160 pounds—Milton Shivers, Detroit; Al Wardlow, Dayton; Hiner Thomas, Chicago; Joe Drayer, Omaha.

175 pounds—Carl Vinciquerra, Omaha; Paul Frazier, Chicago; Joe Coussens, South Bend; Herman West, Centralia.

Heavyweights—Paul Hartnek, Omaha; John Washington, Chicago; Joe Hempenger, Kansas City; Quincy Troupe, St. Louis.

No. You can't stop hair from falling out with Charles Nessler's Pro-Ker Treatment. Nor with anything else, for that matter. Nature intends that hair should fall out; and should be constantly replaced with a growth of new, healthy hair.

The trouble is following unscientific advice, we go at the proposition backwards. We fail to help Nature replace fallen hair. In fact, we often hinder the natural replacement of hair.

RELIEVES EXCESS OILINESS, DANDRUFF, ITCHING SCALP

COLONELS RALLY FOR DEFENSE OF KENTUCKY TURF

They'll Show California a-Plenty, Suh!

BY FRENCH LANE.

An argument about horse racing is raging right now between Kentucky and California and so high tempered are both sides when approached upon the subject that open warfare may be declared any day.

Right after the running of the last Santa Anita handicap an exuberant Los Angeles journalist stated extravagantly words to the effect that since Santa Anita handicap day had been a $1,200,000 betting day the Kentucky Derby on which a paltry million was bet last year, could in the future be considered simply just nother buggy horse race.

To say that Kentucky's pride was hurt is a false statement. Her honor had been besmirched, her escutcheon sullied and now was the time to mobilize that great army of colonels and in so doing vindicate the fair name of the commonwealth.

Muster Those Colonels!

With none but native sons to man her guns, how helpless California would be when attacked by a concentrated force of Kentucky colonels!

For instance, a mere glance from Col. Mae West might fell a whole regiment. Col. Shirley Temple has half of California at her feet anyhow.

Marching in from the deep south would be another mighty army of colonels headed by our own Col. Harvey Woodruff, who already has his sword and pistol polished and is bivouacked in Florida, ready to march and start fighting at the first drop of the hat.

Col. Edward R. [Derby] Bradley could provide Col. Woodruff's army with a strong right flank by falling in with his Palm Beach forces.

Colonels from Everywhere.

Col. James Farley, the postmaster general, could march west from the national capitol with another fighting band of colonels. It is hard to estimate just how many colonels could be mustered in New York by Col. Al Jolson, Col. Eddie Cantor, and Col. Fanny Brice.

To go any deeper into the situation would perhaps reveal the world aligned against California. Indeed this army of Kentucky colonels is not a home town team in any sense of the word. And there are almost as many Kentucky colonels in England, France, Germany, and other European nations as there are on this side of the Atlantic. And there are still more Kentucky colonels in the orient.

What chance would California have?

"The same chance that the Santa Anita handicap has of making the Kentucky Derby look like a buggy horse race," roar the colonels in mighty chorus.

Remember That Two Million?

Maybe they just didn't want to remember it any way, but Californians forgot completely that it hasn't been so many years ago when more than $2,000,000 was wagered at Churchill Downs on a Derby day during which a downpour of rain fell from morning until night.

And they haven't answered that defy hurled out at them by Col. Screw Sanders, the sage of Churchill Downs, who immediately after reading the nasty piece in the paper offered to wager the Kentucky state house at Frankfort against one California orange tree that the betting at this year's derby on May 2 will top the big handle at Santa Anita on handicap day.

A big Kentucky mint crop this spring may prevent bloodshed. A few juleps at derby time often drive hatred and jealously away and replace them with love and amity.

CLASSIC LEAGUE RECORDS BROKEN BY EDELWEISS

Classic league records were broken last night when the Edelweiss Beers shot games of 1,086, 1,188, and 1,172 for a 3,446 total while winning three from the Baby Ruth Candies, who totaled 3,101. The Oak Leak Motors took two games from the Monarch Beers, the Mouldings won two from the Ben Bey Cigars, and the Pabst Blue Ribbon Beers defeated the Miller High Life Beers in all three games. Bill Flesch's 735 was high individual series. Scores:

Schaap Defeats Kling, 300-267, in Cue Tourney

Newark, N. J., March 11.—(AP)—Arle Schaap, Chicago, defeated Seymour Kling, New York, 300 to 267, in a national amateur 18.2 balkline billiards tournament match tonight. The match went 35 innings. In losing, Kling dropped from a tie with Edmond Soussa, Cairo, Egypt, defending champion. Kling went to third place, behind Soussa and Percy Collins, Chicago, who has won one and lost none.

INDIANA'S IRON MEN HOLD KEY TO BIG TEN TITLE

Supremacy in conference indoor track, which will be settled for another year when Big Ten stars convene at the University of Chicago field house Saturday night, apparently will hinge on the ability of a handful of outstanding Indiana men to double up in two or more events.

Indiana's advance rating as the potential new champion is qualified by the fact that five Hoosier stars are counted upon to place in two events each. The Indiana boys amply demonstrated their qualities as iron men against Purdue last week.

Collier Shows Speed.

Bob Collier, Indiana sprint star, won the 60 yard dash against the Boilermakers in the exceptional time of :06.2, which was the conference record for many years, and came back to win the 440 in the fast time of :50.5. Performances like those would win him places in both events in the conferenc meet; after which he will be expected to run anchor on the Hoosier relay team.

Don Lash ran the mile against Purdue in 4:16.5, four seconds slower than the record, then came back to win the two miles in 9:14.1, more than four seconds faster than the record. If he can repeat these performances, he should win both events for Indiana Saturday night.

Right behind Lash in both these distance races against the Boilermakers were two Hoosier sophomores, Jim Smith and Tommy Deckard, and while it is not expected that the newcomers will trail Lash to the tape in both events, they should, between them, take 5 to 8 points.

Hobbs in Half Mile.

Dan Caldemeyer will be expected to finish among the first three in the hurdles, then return to take a place in the high jump. Marmaduke Hobbs, who prefers to be known as Duke, has run the fastest half mile run by a Big Ten man in a preliminary meet, 1:56.1, with the exception of the 1:55.9 performance by Ellinwood of Chicago, who probably will not enter that event Saturday. Hobbs is entered also for the mile. Indiana will be fortunate if all the other members of its squad except these six take a total of five points.

Michigan, defending champion, will be ready with a large squad of competent, reliable performers, ready to take advantage of any lapses by the Hoosiers, particularly in the half mile, mile, and two mile runs. Chances of Wisconsin, the other leading title contender, depend upon whether several men, among them Kleinschmidt, defending half mile champion; Crowell, outdoor quarter mile champion, and Kellner, outdoor high hurdle champion, have arrived at top form.

BRICK MULLER'S SECOND WIFE IS GIVEN DIVORCE

Reno, Nev., March 11.—[Special.]—Mrs. Zanita Campbell Muller today was granted a divorce from Dr. H. P. [Brick] Muller, former University of California football and track star, on grounds of cruelty. The Mullers were married in March, 1928. Dr. Muller previously had been divorced from his first wife, Bernice Berwin, in 1924.

Muller, one of the all time athletic greats in California's history, threw a 70 yard completed forward pass to Rodie Stevens in the 1920 Rose Bowl game in which the Golden Bears defeated Ohio State.

MOVE OLYMPICS TO PHILADELPHIA, MAYOR SUGGESTS

Philadelphia, Pa., March 11.—(AP)—Mayor S. Davis Wilson, already seeking the Joe Louis-Max Schmeling fight for Philadelphia, today put in a bid to bring this summer's Olympic games here as well.

He wired Count Henri Baillet-Latour, president of the international Olympic committee, an invitation to transfer the games from Berlin to this city.

REVOLTA, PICARD REACH FINAL OF FOUR BALL GOLF

Miami, Fla., March 11.—(AP)—In another display of masterful golf Johnny Revolta and Henry Picard the 1935 winner, today defeated Willie MacFarlane and Willie Klein, 5 and 4, to enter the final of the twelfth annual $4,000 international four-ball matches.

JOHNNY REVOLTA.

Tomorrow, in thirty-six holes of play, they will contest for the $2,000 top prize with veteran Gene Sarazen and young Jimmy Hines, who today rallied in the last three holes to oust Tommy Armour and Bobby Cruickshank, 1 up.

Leaders Play Safe.

Out over this morning's first nine holes in 31, 5 under par, Revolta, the Milwaukee star who is P. G. A. champion, and his Hershey, Pa., teammate, went 4 up on MacFarlane, professional at Old Oaks, N. Y., and Klein, who divides his time between Wheatley Hills, N. Y., and Miami Beach.

Meanwhile, Gene Sarazen of Brookfield Center, Conn., and Hines, who hails from Garden City, N. Y., were furnishing fireworks throughout the thirty-six holes of their battle with the veteran Scotchmen, Armour of Chicago and Cruickshank of Richmond, Va.

Turning this morning 3 up, the victors saw their margin cut to two holes on the back nine. Armour and Cruickshank then rallied to square the match in the first nine holes of the afternoon.

Scots Go Into Lead.

They halved the next three holes in regulation figures. At the 31st Cruickshank ran down his six footer for another winning birdie as Sarazen and Hines both missed the green with their seconds and the Scots were 1 up.

The next two holes were halved but Sarazen and Hines evened matters at the par five 16th.

Hines won the match with a birdie 3 at the 17th.

LOYOLA, DE PAUL TEAMS BEATEN IN A. A. U. GAMES

Two teams composed of reserves from De Paul and Loyola universities were eliminated in overtime games in the Central A. A. U. basketball tournament at De La Salle gymnasium last night. De Paul lost to the Lucania Undertakers, 32 to 29, while Loyola was defeated by the Western-Austins of Aurora, 18 to 16. The results:

Young Hitch Hiker Steals Show in Dodgers' Game

Clearwater, Fla., March 11.—[Special.]—A youngster who quit the classrooms of a New York high school to hitch-hike through Dixie in quest of a baseball career stole the show in the Brooklyn Dodgers' first ball game today.

Perched on the tailboard of a banana truck, Jim Sullivan, who had his 19th birthday today, rode into Clearwater this morning without benefit of fanfare. He had taken a course in Bill Terry's baseball academy at Pensacola and been passed up as too inexperienced.

The bases were loaded with nobody out this afternoon when Manager Casey Stengel sent Sullivan to the mound for the regulars. An infield out and error let in two runs, but the rookie retired the side without a hit and allowed only one fluke hit and no passes in the last three innings.

Tonight he was quartered in a comfortable hotel room overlooking the Gulf of Mexico and was eating at the Dodgers' expense.

Thanks to Sullivan's hurling and a three run rally in the sixth, the Regulars came from behind to nose out the Yannigans, 4 to 3, in seven innings.

PAUL DEAN STILL OUT.

Dallas, Tex., March 11.—(AP)—A telephone conference with the St. Louis Cardinal president, Sam Breadon, at Bradenton, Fla., failed to bring Paul Dean back on the club's 1936 roster, the holdout hurler said today.

"I want to play baseball, but not for what they offered," asserted Paul, who with brother Dizzy is demanding a pay hike.

SENATORS TO FARM OUT TWO.

Orlando, Fla., March 11.—(AP)—Despite the promise shown by a pair of rookie catchers—Alex Sabo and Floyd Prettyman—Manager Bucky Harris has decided to keep intact the trio that handled backstop duties for Washington last season—Cliff Bolton, Sam Holbrook, and Bill Starr.

Sabo, a heavy hitter, likely will go to Albany for more seasoning, while Prettyman is slated for Chattanooga.

CARDS BEAT A'S.

Bradenton, Fla., March 11.—(AP)—Four Athletics pitchers gave the Cardinals only four hits today, but their wildness and three errors enabled the National leaguers to win an exhibition game, 9 to 8. All the Cardinal hits came in the sixth inning, when five runs were scored.

SOLTERS POUNDS BALL.

The 205 pound outfielder pounded the ball to all corners of the field as the team went through one of its best workouts.

An ultimatum was wired to Jack Burns, holdout first baseman, to come to terms or take a reduction in the salary already offered him.

GOODMAN WATCHES REDS.

Tampa, Fla., March 11.—(AP)—Ival Goodman, holdout outfielder, watched the Cincinnati Reds from the sidelines today but moved his equipment from his hotel to the clubhouse, indicating he and General Manager Larry MacPhail were approaching a solution of their contract difficulties.

BEES TO SEEK DEAN.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 11.—(AP)—President Bob Quinn and Manager Bill McKechnie of the Boston Bees said today they were ready to make a serious offer for Dizzy Dean, Cardinal holdout. Convinced the Cards would rather send Dean to the Bees than to any of their dangerous national league rivals, Quinn and his manager will go to Bradenton tomorrow to negotiate for the right hander.

PHILLIES IN DUEL.

Winter Haven, Fla., March 11.—(AP)—The pitchers had the better of it today as the rain stopped long enough for the Phillies to complete a six inning training camp game.

The Haslins, led by Infielder Mickey Haslin, defeated Ethan Allen's Allens, 2 to 0. The runs came in the first inning on a wild throw by Rookie Second Baseman Stan Sperry. Only eight hits, evenly divided, were allowed.

Curt Davis and two pitching hopefuls, Kelleher and Bowman, did the hurling for the winners. Bucky Walter, Euel Moore, and Reg Grabowski shared the losers' mound work. Grabowski was most effective, holding the opposition hitless.

TIGER A TEAM WINS.

Lakeland, Fla., March 11.—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers wound up their pre-exhibition training today with a four and a third inning practice game which ended when Gerald Walker doubled with two men on base to give the "A" team a 4 to 3 edge. Buddy Bates accounted for the three "B" team runs with a home run in the third.

GIANT ROOKIES SHINE.

Pensacola, Fla., March 11.—(AP)—The pitching of Rookies Harry Gumbert and Clement Dreiswerd, plus long distance hitting, enabled the Giants' regulars to defeat the irregulars, 6 to 1 today.

FOXX SLAMS 'EM OUT.

Sarasota, Fla., March 11.—(AP)—Tom Yawkey had his first view of Jimmy Foxx in a Boston Red Sox uniform today and said he was thrilled when his prize slugger knocked three drives over the left field wall. Each traveled more than 425 feet. Watching with Yawkey was Connie Mack, Foxx's old boss, who came over from Fort Myers to welcome his best customer to Florida.

YANKEES' WALKERS ACTIVE.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 11.—(AP)—The Yankees' collection of Walkers, Fred [Dixie], his younger brother, Harry, and Leo, who is no relation to them, played some important parts in the camp today as the Regulars defeated the Yannigans in a full nine inning contest.

COLD SLOWS PIRATES.

San Antonio, Tex., March 11.—(AP)—A cold breeze swept Tech field today, holding the Pittsburgh Pirates' training period to two hours of fly chasing and pepper ball.

ANGLERS STUDY FISH THROUGH ICE ON LAKE GENEVA

BY BOB BECKER.

When a cisco fisherman on Lake Geneva., Wis., gets into his little shack, closes the door, and covers the window so that it is quite dark inside, he can sit in a chair, lean over and look down into as beautiful an outdoor frozen aquarium as any one could ask for. The other day when we parked for a while in a fishing shanty this aquarium idea came to mind immediately, because the sun shining through the two feet of ice enabled us to look down into the clear water of the lake and watch the slim, silvery ciscos swimming around at various depths.

Ciscos Keep Their Distance.

Ackley said that sometimes they hook the fish just a foot or two under the ice. But the other day we had none show any inclination to swim up very close to us.

Looking down into the cold water and watching the ciscos go after the meal of chopped minnows that the boys provide we could recall just one other experience similar to this: leaning over the side of a boat in the Florida keys and watching the many species of beautiful semi-tropical fish we could see on the bottom by means of a glass bottomed bucket.

Fishers Watch Two Lines.

In the shack where we jiggled a couple of lines the other day there was room for two fellows to fish side by side while a third crowded into one corner over a second hole cut through the ice. The fisherman watches two lines—one in each hand. He has to twitch or jerk them a little all the time. The idea is to make the cisco notice the moving bead that is on a very small hook.

When the fish are active at all they'll strike this bead. The strike is very light—what you might properly call a bunt. And you have to be quick on the trigger when you get a bunt because the little ciscos do not pick up the bead and the hook and then loiter for a minute to play with the jewelry. You must set the hook immediately and then carefully bring the fish to the surface.

Big Ten Gym Meet Will Be Held Tomorrow

Four Big Ten teams, Illinois, Minnesota, Iowa, and Chicago, will be represented in the conference championship gymnastics meet at Bartlett gymnasium of the University of Chicago tomorrow night.

Injury to Eugene Wettstein, Iowa, all-around champion last year, probably means that the title fight will be between the three other schools. Illinois, defending champion, has been beaten by Minnesota, and both Minnesota and Iowa have lost to Chicago, which for five years up to last year held the championship.

A new scoring system will be inaugurated this year. Where before each team's total was the total of points awarded by judges on each individual performance, this year the entrants will be ranked on a scale of one to ten, ten for first place in each event, and victory will go to the team with the highest total of points to rank.

NEW YORK RACING BOARD APPROVES CARD OF 172 DAYS

Big Improvement--Names of Jockies on Program.

New York, March 12.—(AP)—The New York state racing commission made ready for the opening of the 1936 season today by adopting a 172 day schedule for the state's five tracks.

The season, six days longer than last year, will open, as usual, at Jamaica April 15 and close at Empire City on Oct. 31, the final day prescribed by the law.

The only shift from last year's schedule is that Belmont Park will hold its fall meeting the last two weeks in September instead of the first two in October. The meeting was shifted to October in 1935 for the first time, but it failed to be a success, either financially or from an attendance standpoint.

39 Days for Belmont.

During the year Belmont Park will have 39 days of racing. Aqueduct 37 and Jamaica and Empire City 34 days each. Saratoga again will hold forth for 28 days in July and August, opening July 29 and closing Aug. 29.

The commission also asked the five racing associations to install an electric "eye" at the finish line and to put the names of jockies and post positions on the programs. In past years, the latter information has been available only on the board in front of the grandstand.

Plan International Races.

John Hay Whitney, a member of the commission who will leave Saturday to see his horses run in the Grand National at Aintree March 27, was appointed by Herbert Bayard Swope, chairman, to represent the United States in interesting English and French owners in proposed international races. The racing dates:

Jamaica—April 15-May 9 and Oct. 5-17.
Belmont Park—May 11-June 6 and Sept. 17-Oct. 3.
Aqueduct—June 8-July 2 and Aug. 31-Sept. 16.
Empire City—July 3-July 28 and Oct. 19-31.
Saratoga—July 29-Aug. 29.

TULEY BATTLES CRANE TODAY IN SEMI-FINAL GAME

Tuley High school and Crane Tech will meet this afternoon at Marshall gymnasium in a junior division City league basketball semi-final game. The winner will furnish the opposition for Manley of the central section in the finals.

The high scoring Manley five earned a final berth by turning back Harrison, 32 to 14. Tuley and Crane each represent the west section, and in the west section preliminary schedule Crane scored a 23 to 21 victory.

The Crane combination probably will be made up of Siegel and Lawson, forwards; Smania, center, and Epstein and Brown, guards. Coach Jimmy Tortorelli of Tuley will use Feldman and Levin in the forward positions, Golden at center, and Galvin and Opatowsky, guards.

WHEATON HIGH BASKET TOURNEY OPENS TONIGHT

The fifth annual lightweight basketball tournament sponsored by Wheaton Community High school will open tonight at Wheaton. Eight high schools will compete in the meet, the finals of which will be held Saturday night. The teams entered in the tournament include Argo, Batavia, Downers Grove, Glenbard, Hinsdale, Riverside, West Chicago, and Wheaton. Tonight's schedule:

Glenbard vs. Riverside, 6:30 p. m.
Wheaton vs. Argo, 7:30 p. m.
Hinsdale vs. Downers Grove, 8:30 p. m.
Batavia vs. West Chicago, 9:30 p. m.

LOUNGE CLOTHES ARE GAINING AS WEAR FOR CITY

Men Take Idea from Garb Seen at Golf Clubs.

BY HARRISON HOWARD.

Beyond the customary seasonal style changes, man's dress is usually undergoing some form of fundamental change also, which, if it is based on a sound reason, as most of them are, eventually sets itself up as a standard.

Such a change has been budding for some time and promises this season to reach full bloom in many quarters. It is the switch in the city by business men from rigidly tailored clothes, professionally known as town wear, to more comfortable and colorful lounge wear. In short, stateliness in the business' man's apparel is practically "out." It is a movement that has been under way for some time, but this year it appears that the momentum will break down all opposing traditions and arguments.

Golf Clubs Responsible.

Golf clubs are largely responsible. With 5,600 "money" clubs in America requiring regular dues — with 2,300,000 golfers spending $230,000,000 annually on equipment—a great many men have had a taste of the freedom and fun of wearing sportswear and loungewear, which are almost one and the same to many. Now they are wearing a similar type of clothes to business. Furthermore many a man can afford but one new suit of clothes a season and he gets considerably more use and enjoyment out of a lounge suit than he does out of highly tailored apparel and often at less cost.

This does not mean that the custom tailor will do less business or be less important. The man who visits him for one type of suit is just as desirous of using him for the other. Actually it requires as much, if not more skill, to turn out a well fitting lounge suit as it does the glove-fitting type. Heretofore, lounge clothes have been the particular forte of English tailors developed through the greater outdoor and athletic life which most Englishmen lead. Recognizing the strong trend here, however, American tailors are fast developing and displaying equal craftsmanship.

Worn With Timidity.

With the conventional minded the wearing of lounge clothes to the office is being accomplished somewhat surreptitiously by combining elements from the two styles rather than an immediate and complete transformation. It is as though they reasoned they really enjoyed being comfortable in the Shetland but must retain something of town wear lest the old school take them to task. Or as though they dressed to be acceptable for both town and country on the same day.

These are the men, and there are many, who wear a pin stripe suit of dark material, for instance, suitable for the office or a cocktail party, but accompanied by a button down, collar attached soft shirt and wing tipped shoes, both among the first installments of country wear.

Others, less mindful of former customs, are succumbing to the natural desire for color and comfort in one fell swoop and are wearing lounge clothes everywhere excepting on formal occasions. Undoubtedly the trend has become so strong there is an entirely new school of thought on the matter and few are the authorities today attempting to dissuade too strongly.

FASHIONS FOR MEN ONLY

This fashion column for men will appear every Thursday in The Tribune. If you would like information about modes for men write to the Men's Fashion department, Chicago Tribune, Chicago, Illinois. Inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your letter.

HIGHLY improbable, we know, but if the Roman winter of 45-44 B. C. was as tough as some of ours in the North American snow belt, we can discern an underlying cause for the boys ganging up on Julius that the historians failed to record. They were just fed up with it all by the time the Ides of March arrived, taking it out on poor Julius, who was getting a bit too upstage to be bearable.

Excluding those fortunate dwellers in the southern sectors, where winter already has been packed into the cedar chest, or where it never has made its appearance, the sooner we get into topcoats and clothing with a touch of spring about them, the better we're going to feel.

1. Early spring smartness in town calls for continued wearing of either the derby or the black homberg.

2. These simple design town shoes will take a load off your feet and your mind. They'll be pleasant to wear and you may be assured that they're correctly smart.

3. This thick and thin stripe shirt is made with the new, always neat appearing, slotted collar. The tie is a typical Macclesfield pattern in woven silk.

4. The smartness of deeper shades in shirtings in enhanced by the use of a white collar. The tie is a Glen plaid woven silk.

5. You may not go in for walking sticks, but you certainly will need a smart pair of gloves. These are of chamois with the button and button hole at the wrist.

Before my boys were born I was making whiskey

Yes sir, that old tintype fetches me back to the days when my father was showing me the ropes of distilling good whiskey, just as I've shown my boys. He always said it pays to be fussy every mite of the time when you want a thing done just so—and that's our motto, and that's why Wilken Family Whiskey always tastes so mild and honey-smooth. SUGAR QUOTA HURTS REFINERS, SAYS E. D. BABST

Lays Drop in Profits to Scheme.

In the first full year of operation of the New Deal's sugar program earnings of the American Sugar Refining company, the principal domestic refiner, fell to the lowest level in more than a decade, according to the annual report released yesterday.

EARL D. BABST. [Assoc. Press Photo.]

Earl D. Babst, chairman, reported to stockholders that profits for 1935 amounted to $3,571,000, equal after provision for preferred dividends to 93 cents a share on common stock. The results were the most unfavorable since 1924, when the company failed to earn enough to cover its preferred dividend requirements of $3,150,000. Profit in 1934 was $4,877,000, or $3.84 a share on the common stock.

Tarif Penalties Aggravated.

Babst said the plan aggravates the tarif penalties under which domestic refiners have operated for several years and serves to reduce the margin of profit on sugar refined in this country.

Operation of the quota system under the sugar plan, he said, has worked to the detriment of domestic refiners in two directions. Quotas on refined sugar imports place no tarif differential on the refined and raw product. Without tarif protection the domestic refiner cannot compete in price, and refined sugar imports provided for under the system displace domestic refining facilities. On the other hand the quotas on raw sugar are so limited that domestic refiners are unable to take the first step toward recovery of their lost business.

A pound of refined sugar from Cuba now comes into the United States at less duty than the domestic refiner pays on the amount of Cuban raw sugar needed to make a pound of refined sugar in this country.

Plan Adds to Woes.

"The present tarif on raw sugar," he added, "is intended to protect the beet and cane producers against low agricultural and manufacturing costs, not only of Cuba's tropical producers, but against the world. On the other hand no tarif protection whatever is given to the pioneer home cane refiners against the lower manufacturing costs of tropical refiners. The sugar plan went a step further in this discrimination. The government reduced the tarif and offset the reduction with a processing tax, somewhat over ½ cent a pound on each pound of refined sugar sold within the country."

The result, he said, was to leave a duty of 1 cent a pound on raw sugar to safeguard the beet and cane producers and create funds with which to pay additional bounties to the agricultural side.

Competition Affected.

"Experience shows," he said, "that recipients of these subsidies, already enjoying tarif advantages, relinquish a share of their governmental assistance in competitive conflicts. This creates bounty fed competition. This stream of subsidies determines the current earning power of all, not only of the beneficiaries, but also of their competitors, no matter how efficient."

The Supreme court's AAA decision killed the sugar processing tax but the validity of the quota system is in some doubt. The government, however, has gone ahead on the theory that the decision did not affect the provisions of the act setting up sugar quotas.

If the government follows a policy which encourages the transfer of refining facilities to the tropics, Babst said, it is easy to foresee the eventual duplication there of present plants in this country.

SUGAR REFINERS BOOST PRICES 10 TO 20 CENTS

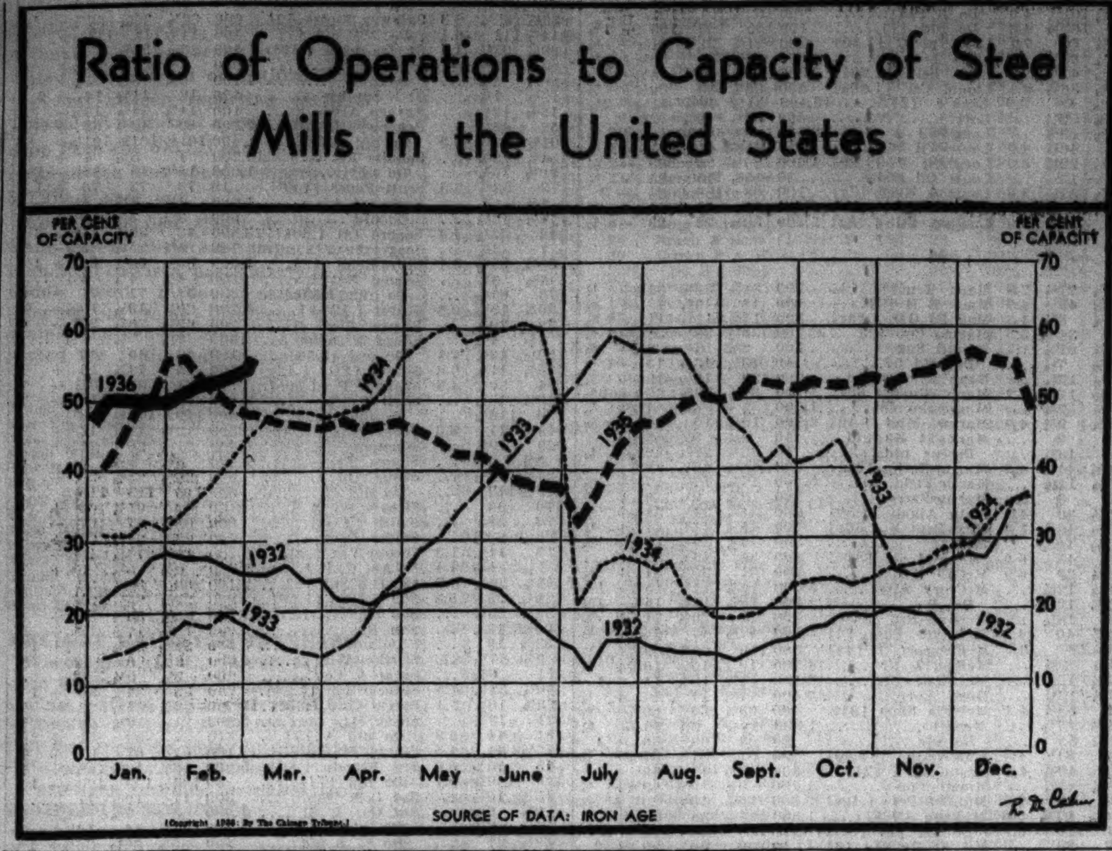
Advances of 10 to 20 cents per hundred pounds in the wholesale price of sugar were announces yesterday by several leading refineries. The boost brings the price of cane sugar to $4.75 a hundred and for beet sugar to $4.45.

Companies posting the higher price included American Sugar Refining company, National Sugar Refining, Spreckels Sugar company, and Great Western Sugar company.

Consumption is said to be running considerably in excess of current supply and market observers believe that an increase in the 1936 quotas by the department of agriculture will be necessary. The price increase is the second since the January market break which followed the Supreme court overthrow of AAA processing taxes. The advances make up more than half of the 35 cent decline which occurred in January.

Food Index Dips to New Low Since July, 1935

Declining for the third consecutive week, the Dun & Bradstreet food index fell to $2.58 in the week ended March 10, from $2.62 in the preceding period. This is the lowest figure reached since early in July, 1935.



Union Station Asks Approval of Refunding

Washington, D. C., March 11.—[Special.]—The Chicago Union Station company today asked interstate commerce commission approval for its $44,000,000 refinancing program.

The company proposed to slash interest charges on its bonded debt through the issuance of new first mortgage 3¾ per cent bonds to replace outstanding $30,850,000 of first mortgage bonds now oustanding bearing 4½ per cent and $13,150,000 of first mortgage 5 per cent bonds.

The company also sought authority to issue $600,000 of guaranteed 3 per cent notes. According to present plans the outstanding bonds will be called for redemption July 1 at 105.

Owned by Four Roads.

The Union Station company is owned by four railroads, the Burlington, Milwaukee, Pennsylvania, and the Big Four. The federal court in Chicago recently authorized the Milwaukee, which is undergoing 77-B reorganization, to give its approval to the refunding plan of the station company.

It is estimated that the savings in interest charges, effected under the plan, will amount to $9,000,000 before maturity of the new issues on July 1, 1963. Cost of refunding is estimated at $2,320,000, the largest part of which represents premiums to be paid on the bonds to be redeemed. This expense will be met through the proceeds of the $600,000 note issue, an outlay of $730,000 from the company's treasury and a premium of $990,000 to be realized on the new bonds.

Otis Steel Plans Refunding.

New York, March 11.—[Special.]—Otis Steel company today asked stockholders to approve preliminary steps for refunding $12,684,649 debt, maturing on or before March 1, 1941, at a lower rate of interest than the present average of about 5.65 per cent.

The plan involves creation of an authorized issue of $25,000,000 first mortgage sinking fund bonds, of which $13,000,000 would be sold and $12,000,000 reserved for future use. Of the latter, $2,000,000 will be available for any purpose and $10,000,000 only against future acquisitions of property, capital expenditures and certain refunding.

It is contemplated that the interest will be 4½ per cent and maturity 20 years. The price to underwriters is expected to be about 97½ and interest. A. G. Becker & Co. is expected to head the underwriting group.

GENERAL FOODS EARNS $2.23 ON COMMON IN 1935

General Foods corporation and subsidiaries had net earnings in 1935 of $11,730,768 after all charges and taxes, compared with $11,143,875 in 1934, according to a preliminary statement issued yesterday. Last year's earnings equalled $2.23 a share on 5,251,440 common shares stock outstanding against $2.12 a share earned in 1934 on 5,251,440 shares.

Net earnings of the company for the fourth quarter of 1935 totaled $2,960,331, or 56 cents a share, against $2,112,142 or 40 cents a share for the corresponding period of 1934.

COUNTY TAX WARANTS ARE SOLD AT RECORD LOW INTEREST RATE

A record low interest rate on Cook county tax anticipation warrants was set yesterday on a $2,000,000 issue awarded to a banking group headed by the Illinois company of Chicago. The syndicate paid a premium of $3,180 for the warants at an interest rate of 2 per cent. The second high bid was made by Stifel, Nicolaus & Co., Inc., with an offer of a $500 premium at 2 per cent.

The warants represent a lien on the first 22 per cent of the anticipated 1936 corporate levy. The previous low interest rate on county warants was 2.10 per cent on an issue of highway warants sold last year.

The Illinois company also purchased $100,000 Cook County Forest Preserve 1936 corporate warants at the same price. Both issues will be reoffered by the group at 100.67.

MARSHALL FIELD ASKS REFUND OF PROCESSING TAX

Marshall Field & Co. yesterday filed a petition in the United States District court asking that Carter H. Harrison, collector of internal revenue, be required to refund to the company $302,696 which its subsidiaries paid in cotton processing taxes.

The petition said that Marshall Field asked the refund on June 18, 1935, on the ground that the agricultural adjustment act, under which the taxes were levied, was unconstitutional. On Sept. 4, 1935, Guy T. Helvering, collector of internal revenue at Washington, ruled that he could not make the refund because the payments had been made in accordance with existing laws.

The petition set forth that the AAA was declared unconstitutional on Jan. 6, 1936, and demand for refund was now being made.

AIR LINE FORMS INDEPENDENT EXPRESS SYSTEM

Los Angeles, Cal., March 11.—[Special.]—On the heels of its disagreement with the Railway Express agency over handling of air express shipments, Transcontinental Western Airlines today announced formation of an independent air express system. Pick up and delivery service, company officials said, will be coördinated with facilities of the Postal Telegraph-Cable company and Keeshin transcontinental truck lines

The Railway Express agency had proposed that all air lines pool their service through the one agency. The air line declared that "air express service must be operated in a flexible manner and sacrifice of air line identity in favor of a communal system would discourage air express shipping."

Preferred Bank Deposit Case Carried to High Court

Washington, D. C., March 11.—(AP)—The Old Line Lfe Insurance Company of America, Milwaukee, Wis., asked the Supreme court today to recognize its $40,000 deposits in the closed Standard Trust bank of Cleveland, O., as a preferred claim and allow it to take certain mortgages from assets of the closed bank. The insurance company appealed from a ruling by the sixth federal Circuit court, which denied the deposit was entitled to preferred status.

Rail Research Organization Urged by Budd

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

High speed train operation has heightened the need of the railroads for a highly organized research department, Ralph Budd, president of the Burlington railroad, yesterday told 500 members and guests of the American Railway Engineering association at its thirty-seventh annual convention at the Palmer house. He suggested that a research department be financed by the Association of American Railroads and that the scientists in its service work in coöperation with practical railroad men such as foremen and roadmasters.

RALPH BUDD.

"The tempo of this decade is speed," Budd said, "and our work must be keyed to the new tempo. The speed of freight trains is 50 per cent faster than it was ten years ago, and the same is true of many passenger trains."

Urges Scientific Treatment.

Equipment, track, and road beds must be designed and maintained in a scientific manner to permit safe operation at high speeds, Budd said. To offset the increased wear and tear on equipment and tracks, he suggested that light weight equipment possibly provided a solution.

"The possibilities of lighter weight equipment are intriguing," he said. "In 1934 approximately 400 billion ton miles were recorded in handling freight and passenger cars, exclusive of the loads they carried. If, as is quite possible, these cars should be reduced one-fourth in weight it would require 100 billion less ton miles to handle the business. At one mill per ton mile that is $100,000,000 a year."

View on Rail Manufacture.

Budd lauded the recent improvements in the manufacture of rail through the "controled cool" and "normalizing" processes, but said that there is still room for improvement.

"I appreciate the handicaps under which we have all been working, but the time has come when we must strive for more refinement in manufacture and inspection of track material before it is placed in track, and then in the application and care of it afterward."

STOCKS SPURT AGAIN; FARM ISSUES LEAD

Net Upturns of 1 to 6 Points Common.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, March 11.—Many industrial specialties, especially farm implement, oil, and airplane stocks, surged ahead again today. Advances of 1 to 6 points were common. The contributing influence was the waning of fears about a European war.

Trading in listed issues was at a greatly reduced pace and the turnover of 2,204,390 shares was the smallest for a full session in a month.

The list was somewhat backward at times, because of profit taking and failure of the carrier section to move ahead, but the rails turned upward in late dealings, providing fresh bullish ammunition.

Trade News Favorable.

Midweek industrial news was intrepreted as favorable. Leading carriers reported for last week a good rise in freight car loadings, compared with the corresponding week of last year, while production of electricity rose nearly 10 per cent over a year ago.

The excellent earnings reported by Case together with the belief in many quarters that truck, tractor, and agricultural equipment sales will continue to expand this week was held mainly responsible for the sharp rise in agricultural equipment shares.

Case quickly ran up 7 points to a new high of 134, and Deere and International Harvester scored gains of 3 and 4 points, respectively. Caterpillar Traction advanced 2½ points, Mesta Machine 1, and Oliver Farms over a point.

Amerada Gains Eight More.

Amerada Oil continued its amazing spurt, adding a gain of 8 points to the 12 picked up in the previous session. According to commentators, the important point in the situation in this stock seems to be the corporation's holding of 60,000 acres in Texas. It is believed this may prove to be a new field, with possibilities of large balanced production, one well having already been brought in. Seaboard was another strong spot in the group, picking up over 3 points.

In the airplane division, Wright soared to a new high of 106 before running into a flurry of liquidation that pared its gain for the session to 2⅝ points. This issue has been climbing for several days and the reason was announced today—a large order from the government. Curtiss Wright, which owns a controling interest in Wright, was active but closed nearly steady. Douglas gained 2⅛ points.

Naming of Reserve Board Member May Be Delayed

Washington, D. C., March 11.—(AP)—Senator Glass [Dem., Va.] said today he understood there was "a disposition to postpone" appointment of the seventh and final member of the new federal reserve board until after the President's vacation in Florida. "That suits me," he said.

Steadier Steel Prices Lift Production in Last Week

Heavy orders for March delivery of steel in anticipation of steadier second quarter prices, together with increased demand from the automobile, construction and machinery industries boosted ingot output for the sixth consecutive time last week, Iron Age announced yesterday. The rise was 1 point to 57 per cent of plant capacity, the highest level since early last December.

Early stabilization of the current irregular quotations is assured through the announcement of second quarter prices on all finished steel products and the inauguration of a quantity discount plan on sheets and strip steel, the magazine said.

Support Open Price Policy.

"Of more importance," the journal continued, "was the official publication by a leading producer of price lists on sheets embodying the statement that 'if and when any change is made in the price as announced, supplementary or revised announcement will be issued.'

"This statement is believed to bind the company to adhere to open price practices and to make it liable under the Clayton act in the event of deviations."

Both Republic Steel corporation and Jones & Laughlin Steel corporation posted second quarter prices, allowing quantity discounts, on Tuesday. Republic Steel pledged itself to an open price policy.

"If other large companies also publish their prices with similar statements, the way would seem to be paved for price stability in the industry," the review said.

Price Actually Increased.

The journal said that affirmation of current official prices in common finishes of sheets, strip steel and carbon bars, on which price concessions have recently been widespread, represents an actual increase in quotations. Reductions are recorded in enameling stock while tin mill black plate and long ternes are unchanged.

Scrap prices are holding their own in most districts, the magazine's composite price remaining at $14.75 a gross ton. The pig iron composite is unchanged at $18.84 a gross ton, while the finished steel index is down to 2.084 cents a pound as a result of lower pipe prices.

Automobile producers are rapidly expanding their releases, according to the magazine, while awards for construction steel are heavier and makers of road machinery are operating at capacity. Railroad purchases are being adversely affected by the labor controversy, decreased passenger fares and the extension of emergency freight rates, but important orders are still being placed.

PLEA TO DISMISS RAIL SURCHARGES DENIED BY I. C. C.

Washington, D. C., March 11.—(AP)—The interstate commerce commission today denied a motion by shipping groups to dismiss an application of class 1 railroads for indefinite extension of emergency freight surcharges scheduled to expire July 1.

The commission's action will necessitate further hearings here and at other points throughout the country to enable the presentation of additional evidence. These hearings will begin late this month, the commission said.

Motion for dismissal of the railroads' petition had been filed by the National Association of Railroad and Utilities Commissioners, the Wyoming public service commission, the National Bituminous Coal commission, and the National Coal association.

The motion asked immediate dismissal of the application without the taking of any further testimony. Arguing in behalf of the extension, railroad representatives have contended that the surcharges yield $104,500,000 of additional revenue annually.

NEW BUILDING PERMITS RUN 86% ABOVE YEAR AGO

New York, March 11.—(AP)—Building permits issued in February amounted to $51,406,138, a gain of 86 per cent over the volume for February, 1935, Dunn & Bradstreet reported today.

COMMEMORATIVE COIN BILLS ARE NUMEROUS; TREASURY ALARMED

Washington, D. C., March 11.—(AP)—Senator Adams of Colorado said today the treasury has become alarmed over a sudden deluge of commemorative coin bills in congress.

"Such an epidemic of these requests has broken out this year," he told a meeting of a senate banking subcommittee, "that the treasury is wondering how it is going to enforce the counterfeit laws if all these bills are put through."

The subcommittee conducted a hearing on bills to celebrate anniversaries for Texas and Wisconsin, Providence, R. I.; Bridgeport, Conn.; New Rochelle, N. Y.; Gen. Robert E. Lee, William Henry Harrison, Jefferson Davis, the landing of the Swedes in Delaware, and the settling of Long Island.

WRIGHT OBTAINS $3,850,000 PLANE ENGINE ORDER

Washington, D. C., March 11.—(AP)—The war department today awarded a $3,850,000 contract to the Wright Aeronautical corporation of Paterson, N. J., for 512 new airplane engines.

Of the total purchase 432 motors will be the most powerful single row radial aircraft engines in the world for use in the new bombers which the army recently purchased. These engines are nine cylinders, 1,000 horse power, air cooled Wright "Cyclones."

The remaining eighty engines will be nine cylinder, 450 horse power Wright "Whirlwinds" for use in basic training planes recently ordered by the war department.

U. S. BORROWS $1,355,653,550 IN LATEST DEAL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., March 11.—[Special.]—Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr. disclosed today that the government had sold $1,355,653,550 in bonds and notes during its recent financing operations.

This largest cash borrowing since the war time Victory bond issue floated in April, 1919, will increase the public debt, already at a record peak, to $31,413,000,000. The treasury's cash balance also will be increased to the unusually high total of $2,675,000,000.

The funds will finance New Deal spending in the near future, partially defray bonus costs and retire $450,000,000 worth of treasury bills falling due March 16.

More Borrowing Expected.

Since no brakes have been applied on the administration's continued spending of two dollars for every one taken in heavy borrowings are expected in succeeding quarters of the year. The current financing operation will raise the accumulated deficit of the federal government under President Roosevelt above the 10 billion dollar mark.

With banks overloaded with cash that could not find a profitable outlet elsewhere the offering of bonds and notes was heavily oversubscribed.

Total cash subscriptions received by the treasury for the offering of 2¾ per cent bonds maturing in 1948 and 1951 amounted to $5,106,913,850. Of this the treasury allotted $727,027,950.

Allot 628 Millions.

For the 1½ per cent notes with five year maturities the treasury received $3,354,464,300 in subscriptions and allotted $628,625,600.

At the same time the treasury exchanged $496,474,900 in new bonds and $48,078,500 in new notes for old notes, bearing 2⅞ per cent interest, maturing April 16. Note holders had their choice of converting into either bonds or notes.

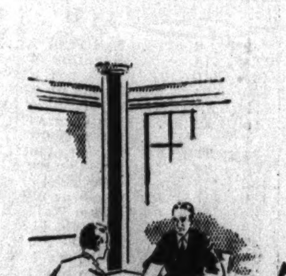
February Auto Output Falls to 218,270 Units

New York, March 11.—(AP)—February output of automobiles by members of the Automobile Manufacturers' association was placed at 218,270 units in the preliminary estimate released today by the association. It compared with a production of 276,445 units in January and 220,162 for February of last year. For the first two months of the year the output totaled 494,715 units, against 424,177 in the like period of 1935. The report covers the operations of all major producers except Ford.



Two Executors
May Be Better than One

The appointment of your business partner and a good bank as co-executor and co-trustees of your estate may be the ideal arrangement for you. In this way your heirs will receive the double benefit of your partner's intimate acquaintance with your business affairs and his personal loyalty to your family, plus the permanence, financial responsibility, specialized skill, and long experience of the bank in handling many estates and trusts.

Your partner, although unburdened with details, will be in close touch with the administration of the estate, and all important decisions will be subject to his approval.

We shall be pleased to discuss this (or any other) type of trust service with you and your attorney.

Department Store Sales 13 Pct. Above 1935.

Washington, D. C., March 11.—(AP)—Maintenance of higher business levels in the early part of 1936 as compared with last year was reported today by two government departments.

"Business activity," the commerce department said, "has declined moderately below the December peak, but the major indexes for both January and February were higher than for the corresponding months of 1935."

The federal reserve board's February department store report showed sales 13 per cent over February, 1935. This was accounted for partly by the extra leap year trading day. Sales were at about the same level as in January.

Chicago Reports Gains.

Chicago's February store sales ran 11 per cent above a year ago, and the two months' sales were 7 per cent higher.

The commerce department reported that the January and February recession in business from December was "influenced by special and temporary conditions," including the severe weather.

"The increase in the volume of industrial production in January," it said, "was less than seasonal, and the federal reserve's adjusted index dropped from 104 in December to 99."

Industrial Jobs Rise.

Brooklyn, N. Y., March 11.—(AP)—Secretary Perkins told the Civitans club today that industrial employment mounted 31 per cent between April, 1933, and December, 1935.

At the same time, she said, industrial pay rolls had increased 61 per cent.

The labor department chief compared these figures with a 33 per cent drop in employment from April, 1930, to April, 1933, and a decline of 53 per cent in pay rolls during that same period.

"The figures cited do not represent all the gains in private industry in which approximately 5,000,000 men and women have been returned to jobs since the low point of the depression," she said.

GASOLINE STOCK IS INCREASED TO NEW HIGH MARK

New York, March 11.—[Special.]—A further increase in stocks of gasoline was reported this week by the American Petroleum institute, which raises the total to a new high record. Reported stocks of finished gasoline on March 7 totaled 45,133,000 barrels, compared with 44,657,000 barrels the previous week. Including estimated stocks not reported, the total supply of finished gasoline totaled 65,054,000 barrels, against 63,826,000 barrels the previous week.

Including unfinished gasoline, the supply reached the unprecedented total of 72,281,000 barrels, against 70,837,000 the previous week. A year ago the bureau of mines estimated the total supply of finished and unfinished gasoline in the country at 66,290,000 barrels.

Mainly due to a fall in production of Oklahoma, the output of crude oil last week decreased somewhat. Daily average production was estimated by the institute at 2,758,650 barrels, compared with 2,774,700 barrels in the previous week. A year ago the daily average production was 2,526,400 barrels.

MILD WEATHER CUTS OUTPUT OF ELECTRIC POWER

Wide Margin of Gain Over Last Year Maintained.

Warmer weather last week reduced electric power production more than seasonably from the preceding week, but the total for the country was still the highest on record for the particular week, according to the Edison Electric institute.

A total of 1,893,311,000 kilowatt hours was produced in the week ended March 7, compared with 1,903,363,000 in the preceding week, off 0.05 per cent, and 1,724,131,000 in the same week of 1935, an increase of 9.8 per cent. The year to year gain in the preceding week was 9.7 per cent.

Smallest Since Last October.

Last week's total was the smallest for any full week since Oct. 19, 1935. This year, however, the industry has shown a continuous advance over last year's production figures, with the range of gains running from 9.6 per cent in the week ended Jan. 18 to 12.3 per cent in the week ended Feb. 22.

From a geographical standpoint the widest gain over 1935 was shown in the week ended March 7 by the Rocky mountain region with a 14.6 per cent increase. New England was lowest with a gain of 6.6 per cent.

In comparison with the previous week New England, the west central, the Rocky mountain, and the Pacific coast regions showed losses.

In the Chicago area a sharp decline occurred from the preceding week, attributed to warmer weather and the decline in power used for lighting on the adoption of eastern standard time in Chicago, according to the Commonwealth Edison company.

The output and percentage comparisons with last year for the Chicago area follow, last three ciphers omitted:

INDUSTRIAL GAS REPORTS PROFIT BEST IN HISTORY

Compressed Industrial Gases, Inc., yesterday reported net profit of $290,818 for the year ended Dec. 31, 1935. This was the largest profit for the company since it was formed in 1928 and compares with a revised figure of $207,620 for 1934. Earnings for that year were previously reported at $219,827.

Last year's profit was equivalent to $4.11 a share on the average number of shares outstanding after a 25 per cent stock dividend, or $5.07, exclusive of the dividend stock. This compares with $4.30 a share in 1934.

Net sales for 1935 were $1,708,031, compared with $1,046,054 in the preceding year. Taxes for the year totaled $74,214 or more than $1.05 a share on the average number of shares outstanding. The company paid $2 a share in dividends during the year.

Current assets on Dec. 31 last amounted to $737,341, including cash and marketable securities of $229,844, against current liabilities of $211,228. A year earlier current assets amounted to $620,529 and current liabilities $181,612.

REQUEST FOR BIDS.
SERIAL CONTRACT NO. 24.

1. Pursuant to the regulations of the Interstate Commerce Commission, prescribed in its order dated October 6, 1919, in Docket Ex Parte No. 54, the Northern Pacific Railway Company hereby requests bids and hereby gives notice that it will receive bids for its requirements from May 1, 1936, to April 30, 1938, for the Line extending from Dilworth, Minnesota, and West, of Locomotive Mine-Run Coal, as follows: Coal called for by the Railway Company, not less than 1,200,000 tons nor more than 4,000,000 tons of 2,000 pounds.

2. Coal to be reasonably free from slate, soapstone, shale, fire clay, sulphur, and other noncombustible impurities, and shall be equal in quality to the best coal of the same commercial grade produced in the district in which such coal shall be mined.

3. Railway Company's inspectors shall have at all times free access to the mines from which said coal is mined and to the scales over which the coal is to be weighed.

4. Coal to be delivered F. O. B. cars on Northern Pacific Railway Company's tracks in as nearly equal monthly proportions as practicable in accordance with the Railway Company's requirements, commencing May 1, 1936, and ending April 30, 1938, (the tonnage required during the months of September to December inclusive will be much heavier than the other months). If mine is not located on Northern Pacific Railway tracks, then bids must be for delivery F. O. B. cars on Northern Pacific tracks at the nearest Junction with the Northern Pacific. Payments: Cash within thirty days following receipt of invoice for coal actually delivered on Northern Pacific tracks during preceding month.

5. Bids must be submitted to E. M. Willis, Purchasing Agent, Railroad Building, 5th and Jackson Streets, St. Paul, Minn., by 12:00 o'clock Noon, Central Standard Time, April 2, 1936, and will be received and opened by him at said office after noon and before six o'clock on the date named. Bids received after that time will not be considered.

6. Bids must be prepared and submitted on the forms prescribed in the regulations mentioned above, which forms will be furnished on request by the undersigned.

7. The successful bidder will be required to enter into and execute proposed contract for delivery of such coal.

8. The right is reserved to reject any and all bids, and to accept any part of any one bid.

9. If any further information is required please apply to the undersigned.

Lawyers Are Likened to Constitution Framers.

Attorneys and committees yesterday resumed their arguments before Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson as to why they should be allowed fees and expenses totaling more than $1,600,000 in connection with the reorganization of the Middle West Utilities company under section 77-B of the amended bankruptcy act. Counsel for the RFC, which is asking that the fees be reduced, will present its objections to the requests today.

Lewis F. Jacobson, attorney for the petitioning creditors, advanced arguments to substantiate his request for $225,000 in fees and $8,771 in expenses, during which he likened the work of the attorneys in the Middle West case to that of the framers of the constitution.

"Not a One Man Job."

"This was not a one man job," Jacobson said. "Like the constitutional convention, it was the work of many men and of many years. You will remember that it took six years to draft the constitution, and men like Jefferson, Hamilton, Monroe, Burr, and others took part."

Criticizing objections of the RFC to the amount of fees, Jacobson said the governmental agency is getting a 100 per cent return on its holdings which are secured by collateral. He insisted that the fees requested were "comparatively modest and insignificant" compared with similar requests and allowances in various states and federal courts. The total of the fees requested represented only 4½ per cent of the value of the property, Jacobson asserted.

No Question of Services.

Judge Wilkerson said he did not question the value of services rendered by attorneys and committees.

"The only question I am interested in is how much these services were worth to the clients and how much should be charged to the estate," he said. "I am limited by the statutes in the allowance of fees to services rendered in connection with the proceedings and plan of reorganization. Many of the lawyers were working for clients who benefited through their services, and some were working for committees who charged clients for their services."

Robert N. Golding, speaking on behalf of the noteholders' committee, requested $319,472 in fees and $44,782 in expenses. He argued that the RFC is legally barred from objecting to the amounts because it had deposited its notes with the committee and had bound itself to an agreement for the allowance of reasonable fees.

"Such an agreement is not persuasive on the court," Judge Wilkerson remarked.

Others Present Cases.

Other attorneys presenting their case were Donald F. McPherson, counsel for the preferred stockholders, who asked $103,000 fees and $78,310 expenses, and Herbert Friedlich, attorney for the reorganization committee, who asked $50,000 fees and $5,576 expenses.

Both attorneys joined in the contention that the fees are not excessive and that the bondholders and stockholders who were represented should not be made to pay them. They said payment should be made from the estate of the benefited party, the Middle West company.

CARNATION CO. REPORTS HIGHER PROFIT LAST YEAR

E. H. Stuart, president of the Carnation company, Milwaukee, reported yesterday the company's net profits for 1935 were $1,140,211, against 1,057,000 in 1934. Earnings on the outstanding common stock totaled $1,010,438, equivalent to $1.65 a share.

Offer 3 Million Boston Temporary Loan Notes

An issue of $3,000,000 Boston, Mass., 0.68 per cent temporary loan notes, dated March 13, 1936, and due Nov. 5, 1936, is being offered today by Halsey, Stuart & Co., Inc., Hamphill Noyes & Co., and G. M.-P. Murphy & Co. at prices to yield 0.5 per cent. Halsey-Stuart yesterday won the award of a new issue of $810,000 of primary road refunding bonds of Guthrie county, Ia., at a price of 100.5309 for 1¾s. The bonds mature from 1937 to 1945.

Canadian House Group Approves Cut in Meat Duty

OTTAWA, March 11.—(AP)—A house of commons committee considering tarif items of the Canadian-American trade treaty today approved a cut in duty from six to three cents a pound on prepared and preserved meats. Charles Dunning, finance minister, said meat imports into Canada during January a year ago were only $10,000 and had dropped to $7,000 for the same month this year.

Columbia Pictures' Six Month Profit Smaller

New York, March 11.—(AP)—Columbia Pictures corporation for the six months ended Dec. 28, had net earnings of $781,273, equivalent after dividends on the old preferred stock, to $2.74 a share on the common stock. For the like period last year net income was $919,000 or $3.26 a share of common stock.

Granite City Steel's Net Profit Shows Large Gain

Granite City Steel company of St. Louis yesterday reported 1935 net profit of $618,358, equal to $2.42 a share on the capital stock, compared with $258,761, or $1.01 a share in 1934.

DROP IN RAIL FREIGHT TRAFIC TO 645,000 CARS IS ESTIMATED

Railroad freight trafic last week totaled 645,000 cars, according to an estimate made yesterday by the Associated Press, based on returns from the first sixteen reporting carriers. This would represent a contra-seasonal drop from the 673,123 cars in the preceding week and would compare with 587,270 a year ago.

Coal roads had sharp declines in trafic due to moderate temperatures. Industrial carriers, particularly in the middle west, made a satisfactory showing, in some instances rising against the general trend. Totals reported for individual carriers were:

FREIGHT REVENUES INCREASE.

Washington, D. C., March 11.—(AP)—An upturn in gross freight revenue of class 1 steam railways from $2,631,505,040 in 1934 to $2,787,018,189 last year was reported today by the interstate commerce commission.

SENATE GROUP APPROVES NEW 'PROBING BILL'

Washington, D. C., March 11.—(AP)—The Wheeler bill to broaden the powers of the federal trade commission to investigate unfair trade practices was approved today by the senate interstate commerce committee. Modified slightly but still carrying provisions vigorously opposed by the National Association of Manufacturers, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, and the American Newspaper Publishers' association, the bill would:

Make "deceptive acts and practices in commerce" unlawful in addition to "unfair methods of competition" specified in existing law.

Expressly give the commission authority to proceed "upon its own initiative," as well as that of the President, or either house of congress as now provided.

Include persons and partnerships as well as corporations within the scope of the commission's authority to investigate business practices and conditions in interstate and foreign commerce.

Redefine "documentary evidence" to include "books of account, financial and corporate records," and make such records subject to commission subpena.

DOLLAR RALLIES AS SELLING HITS FOREIGN MONEYS

New York, March 11.—[Special.]—Selling from abroad caused a recession in European currencies in trading here today, and initial losses were maintained throughout the day as operators remained on the side lines.

Sterling dipped to $4.97⅞, at a net loss of ¾ cent; francs were off 1 point at 6.64⅝ cents; Holland guilders dropped 7 points to 68.54 cents; Swiss francs eased 4 points to 32.90 cents, and Belgian belgas lost 1 point to 17.01 cents.

Local operators were content to remain out of the market because they believe the delicate situation abroad gives foreign operators who are closer to developments a decided advantage. Discounts widened on gold bloc currencies in the futures market. Ninety-day French francs were quoted at a discount of 20 points.

Transamerica Corporation Reports Increased Profits

Transamerica corporation, holding company for the Giannini bank group, yesterday reported that its net profits for 1935 were $20,319,000, equal to 88 cents a share. Net profits in 1934 were $11,451,000, or 48 cents a share. The market value of its investments appreciated $11,555,000 in 1935, the company reported.

Borden Co. Leases Space in La Salle-Wacker Bldg.

The Borden company yesterday leased the south half of the 20th floor of the La Salle-Wacker building for a term of years beginning May 1. The lessee and the Borden Sales Company, Inc., a subsidiary, will move from 326 West Madison street late in April.

McGraw-Hill Names Rost Western Editor

O. Fred Rost, marketing editor of Business Week, will be transferred to the Chicago office of McGraw-Hill Publishing Co., Inc., becoming western editor for the company's publications in addition to his present position, the company announced yesterday.

Cleveland Cliffs Iron Earnings Much Larger

Cleveland, O., March 10. — (AP) — Cleveland Cliffs Iron company and its affiliate, the Cliffs corporation, showed net income of $2,440,547 for 1935 in its annual statement released today. This it compared with a net of $775,489 in 1934.

Show 6.3% Gain in January Railroad Employment

Washington, D. C., March 11.—(AP)—The interstate commerce commission today reported February employment of class 1 steam railways at 1,029,996 persons, an increase of 6.3 per cent over the same month a year ago.

Goldblatt's New Store Will Be Opened Today

Goldblatt Brothers announces the formal opening today of their new, fireproof department store at 91st and Commercial avenue, in the South Chicago area. The building is of granite and Indiana limestone and its three floors have 120,000 square feet of selling space. The store is air conditioned throughout.

CHICAGO TITLE, TRUST TO PAY $1 DIVIDEND; HARRIS DECLARES $2

The Chicago Title and Trust company yesterday voted a payment of $1 a share out of quarterly earnings. The same amount was paid on Jan. 2.

Harris Trust and Savings bank declared a regular quarterly payment of $2, the same as that paid on Jan. 2 when the rate was increased from $1.50 quarterly.

The Bank of America National Trust and Savings association [California] lifted its annual dividend rate on its capital stock to a $3 basis, against $2.50 previously.

The Merchants bank of New York declared an extra of 25 cents and a quarterly dividend of 75 cents, placing the capital stock on a $3 basis, as against $2 previously.

The Singer Manufacturing company voted the usual extra dividend of $2.50 a share and the regular quarterly of $1.50 on the common.

Tubize Chatillon corporation declared a dividend of $3.50 on the 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock, payable on May 1, to holders of record April 10. This payment will reduce the arrears to $5.75.

FIFTY years ago, when the horse and buggy was Chicago's chief means of transportation, the use of Tribune want ads was already a well established method of getting things done quickly and at low cost.

Reading and using Tribune want ads is a tradition almost as old as Chicago itself. Through years of steady growth the Tribune has built up a want ad market place. Through years of satisfactory dealing it has developed the confidence which attracts people in large numbers to that market.

This is one of the reasons why Tribune want ads get the best results today. Because they get the best results people invest more money for want ads in the Tribune than in all other Chicago newspapers combined.

New York, March 11.—(AP)—Domestic corporation bonds regained leadership of the listed market today, advancing over a broad front for gains that ranged from small fractions to 8 points.

United States governments made a feeble attempt to follow along during the forenoon but tired of the effort and at the close the majority of active issues was 1-32d to 8-32 lower. Federal farm mortgage 3s of 1947 were an exception, gaining 5-32ds to 103.6 on a small turnover.

Warant Issues Strong.

Gains were scored by several corporate issues having stock warrants and other privileges, and buyers were again busy in a number of railroad bonds involved in reorganization proceedings.

As measured by the Associated Press averages, leading domestic groups had about recovered the losses of Monday and Tuesday at the close today, and foreign issues, somewhat shaken up by the European war "scare," were within striking distance of levels prevailing at the start of the week. The 20 rails used in the compilation showed the strongest recuperative power, advancing .2 of a point to 93.1.

Extremely Strong Issues.

Extremely strong spots included Allis-Chalmers 4s, up 8⅝ at 136¾; Baltimore & Ohio, up 1½ at 74¼; Erie refunding 5s, up 1 at 79½; General Theatre 6s, up 2 at 30½; "Katy" 5s, up 1¾ at 74; Paramount 6s, up 1 at [illegible]; Pure Oil 4¼s, up 2 at 128; St. Louis-San Francisco 4s, up 1½ at 25, and Studebaker 6s, up 2½ at 109.

Small gains predominated in the foreign department. Argentine 6s, Australian 5s, Colombia 6s, Poland 6s, and French 7½s were higher. German 5½s and Belgium 6s were among the losers.

Catalin Corporation of America.

Investors' Guide: Kindly send me information on Catalin.—P. W. F.

Answer: Catalin Corporation of America manufactures a cast, phenolic resin, which is finished in diversified shapes and colors. It is noninflammable, odorless, tasteless, and, it is claimed, highly resistant to common acids. Catalin itself does not fabricate any articles, but sells the material by the pound to manufacturers of knife handles, buttons, buckles, bracelets, gearshift knobs, pencils, etc.

In 1935 production increased to 3,500,000 pounds, up 34 per cent from the 2,600,000 pounds produced in 1934. Earnings did not increase proportionately because of lower prices. Net sales totaled $1,485,000, against $1,214,000 for 1934. Net income in 1935 was $254,000, or 47 cents a share, against $225,000, or 42 cents a share, for 1934. In 1933 net income before federal taxes was $98,000, against $65,000 in 1932.

Current assets on Dec. 31, 1935, including cash of $182,000, totaled $612,000, and current liabilities were $170,000. Working capital rose to $443,000 from $271,000 the year before. Capitalization consists of 536,892 shares of $1 par stock on which nothing has ever been paid.

Southwestern Light and Power.

Investors' Guide: I would appreciate information regarding Southwestern Light and Power bonds, due 1957. Thank you.—H. A. T.

Answer: Southwestern Light and Power company first mortgage 5s, due 1957, are somewhat speculative. Earnings cover fixed charges by only a fair margin. Both operating revenues and margin by which fixed charges were earned during the first nine months of 1935 were slightly less than during the corresponding 1934 period.

During the first nine months of 1935 fixed charges were earned 1.38 times. In 1934 they were earned 1.41 times, against 1.39 times in 1933, 1.75 times in 1932, and 2.01 times in 1931.

The company is an operating subsidiary in the Middle West system. It supplies utility services, mostly electricity, to a population of about 133,000 in 101 communities in southwestern Oklahoma.

On Dec. 31, 1934, current assets were $1,481,000 and current liabilities were $568,000. Funded debt of $8,400,000. $568,000. Funded debt $8,400,000, consisting of the 5s, due 1957.

MORE INTEREST IN COTTON; PRICES RISE 6 TO 9 POINTS

Increased interest was shown in the cotton market yesterday. Commission houses and the trade were fair buyers. Brokers who frequently act for the pool were credited with selling about 7,000 bales for March delivery at New York. Active futures closed in Chicago at net gains of 6 to 8 points, and other markets gained 6 to 9 points. [A point is equal to 1-100 cent.]

Spot cotton closed 10 points higher with New Orleans and New York at 11.40 cents; Houston, 11.35 cents, and Galveston, 11.30 cents per pound. Prices follow:

NORTH AMERICAN PROFIT FOR 1935 GAINS SHARPLY

Net Income Equals $1.35 a Common Share.

New York, March 11.—[Special.]—The annual report of the North American company and subsidiaries issued yesterday shows consolidated net income of $13,431,472, after all prior deductions, equivalent to $1.35 a share on 8,575,335 common shares, compared with $10,792,414, or $1.04 a share, in 1934.

J. F. Fogarty, president, in his message to stockholders, said that 1935 was the second successive year in which total revenues showed an increase over the preceding year, and the first since 1930 in which the trend in revenues and percentage cost of doing business was favorable.

Total operating revenues were $107,029,663, a gain of 5.57 per cent, with electric revenues alone 6.10 per cent higher. Expenses and taxes were $60,302,894, a gain of 4.87 per cent, the operating ratio declining from 56.71 per cent to 56.34 per cent.

Labor Costs Increase.

The cost of labor rose about $800,000. Prices of fuel were higher, but due to more favorable hydro-electric generating conditions permitting curtailment at steam generating plants, fuel costs were slightly lower, despite an increase of 10.54 per cent in electric output.

Taxes were $14,737,226, against $13,556,572 for 1934, and were equal to 13.77 cents out of each dollar of operating revenue, against 13.37 cents in 1934. Higher taxes are in store for 1936, the report says.

Operations of North American Light and Power company and Capital Transit company, although controled, are not consolidated in the report, nor are operations of Detroit Edison company and Pacific Gas and Electric company, in which substantial investments are held. Revenues from such investments are included as non-operating revenue.

Deficiency Shown.

Consolidated income account of North American Light and Power company for 1935 showed a deficiency of $862,185 in consolidated earnings applicable to common stock owned by North American company, which was 73.5 per cent of the total amount, compared with a similar deficiency of $1,376,324 for 1934.

The consolidated balance of net income of Capital Transit company, 51.3 per cent owned by the North American system, applicable to such holdings, was $194,067 for 1935, compared with $504,468 for 1934. Provisions for depreciation deducted by Capital Transit in arriving at the above balances are considered by the officers of that company to be inadequate, although to a lesser degree in 1935 than in 1934.

CENTRAL ILLINOIS PUBLIC SERVICE'S PROFITS HIGHER

The Central Illinois Public Service company had a net income of $933,716 for 1935, compared with $672,063 in 1934, according to the annual pamphlet report of L. A. Magraw, president, sent to stockholders yesterday. The profit was equivalent to $3.27 a share on 285,073 shares of 6 per cent preferred stock, compared with $2.34 a share on 286,768 preferred shares in 1934. Operating revenues for 1935 totaled $11,422,735, a gain of $364,589, or 3 per cent, over 1934.

Magraw said that the improved earnings resulted in the payment of a preferred stock dividend of $1 a share on July 15, 1935, and an additional $1 preferred dividend payable Jan. 15, 1936, but these dividends should not be construed as the resumption of dividends on a regular basis. He said the company's future dividend policy must be determined as earnings, general business, and other conditions dictate.

Current assets as of Dec. 31, 1935, totaled $3,740,871, including $1,813,984 cash, compared with $4,506,226 and $2,710,955, respectively, at the end of 1934. Current liabilities totaled $1,705,357, against $1,574,358.

WARNER BROS. TO BUILD SOUTH SIDE THEATER

BY AL CHASE.

Purchase of the northeast corner of Rhodes avenue and East 79th street by Warner Brothers Theaters, Inc., for $30,000 and plans for a $250,000 moving picture theater were disclosed yesterday. The new playhouse will have 1,500 seats and will be completely air conditioned.

According to James E. Coston, Chicago manager for Warner Brothers, the new cinema will be completed before Sept. 1. Work will start as soon as plans have been completed. The property, fronting 149 feet on Rhodes avenue and 124 feet on 79th street, was purchased from Mrs. Emma Mayer.

Wurlitzer Leases Store.

Another step in an expansion program was taken yesterday by the Rudolph Wurlitzer company, now at 329 South Wabash avenue, when it leased from the University of Chicago the L shaped store at 111 South Wabash and 59 East Monroe. It was stated by the lessor that $30,000 is to be spent modernizing the premises which will be occupied by the music concern on April 1.

The ten year lease, negotiated by Allan D. Jones of L. M. Willis & Co., is on a minimum guarantee and percentage of gross profits basis. The lease includes basement and upper floor space. The Wurlitzer company recently opened thre outlying studio stores. Its present downtown store building at 329 South Wabash avenue is to be wrecked beginning April 1 and the ground used for a Lydy parking station.

Move I. C. Kiosk.

Removal of the Illinois Central entrance kiosk at the northeast corner of Michigan avenue and Randolph street, and a substitute entry way through the Cuneo building, is to be done at once in connection with the remodeling work on the first floor and basement of that structure.

The $30,000 modernization program to be carried out by the Schless Construction company, from plans by Alfred S. Alschuler, Inc., provides for four stores on the first floor and two in the basement opening into the Illinois Central station level.

SIGN CONTRACTS TO AIR CONDITION WRIGLEY FLOORS

A contract was signed yesterday by the William Wrigley Jr. company with the Kroeschell Engineering company for complete year 'round air conditioning of five floors—two lower level stories and the first, second, and third floors of both the Wrigley building and the Wrigley building annex. The installation will cost $250,000, according to Robert Kroeschell, vice president of the company.

Work will start at once and completion is scheduled within 90 days. The system will function through sixteen separate ducts and a new type of water vapor centrifugal refrigerating machine. It will provide approximately 340 tons of refrigeration.

It is planned to air condition the entirely two Wrigley buildings eventually, the ducts to be continued up through all floors. This will mean, according to Kroeschell, a $750,000 program of air control for the two units.

RAIN FORECAST CAUSES SLIGHT DROP IN WHEAT

Dust Storms Continue Over Southwest Belt.

A weather forecast that held out the promise of showers in the wheat producing belt of the southwestern states was followed by a slight decline in the Chicago market yesterday in prices of future contracts based on the 1936 crop.

Throughout the day reports came in telling of the dust storms in those sections of the southwest which have suffered most severely from lack of moisture over the last three years. The storms furnish evidence of the lack of sufficient soil moisture needed to insure a good harvest. The potential market effect of these storms, however, was canceled by the prospect of showers in central Kansas, an important producing area where moisture is badly needed.

May Future Unchanged.

Trading in the May wheat contract, a future that expires before the new crop is harvested, resulted in no change in price. When the market closed the May contract was quoted at 95½ cents a bushel.

The steady demand for wheat in the cash market helped to sustain the price of the May future. Chicago dealers estimated their sales yesterday at 100,000 bushels of red wheat to mills for shipment out of this market.

Foreign political developments were a negligible market factor. The narrowness of the market and limited speculative trade in the world's leading markets during the last four months was shown by the fact that at the close yesterday May wheat in Chicago was less than 2 cents per bushel above the level which prevailed Nov. 1, while the July delivery was only fractionally changed.

Hedge Buying Offset.

Selling by the Canadian wheat board fully offset removal of hedges against export sales of around 1,300,000 bushels at Winnipeg. The latter market held within narrow limits. Liverpool was slightly firmer owing to uncertainty regarding the political situation and on firmer Australian offers.

	Yesterday.	Tuesday.	Wk ago.
Wheat	$ .99½	$ .99¼	$1.00½
Corn	.60½	.60¼	.61⅛
Oats	.27⅛	.27⅝	.28¾
Rye	.56¼	.56¼	.57¼

Trading in corn and rye was largely professional with prices holding within narrow limits, there being little incentive in the news to induce operators to take a decided stand on either side of the market. Scattered liquidation was under way in May oats which sold within a small fraction of the lowest level of the season.

LARD IS STEADY TO HIGHER AS TRADING REMAINS DULL

Trading in lard futures was inactive yesterday. There was some buying which brokers attributed to distributing interests, presumably a reflection of moderate sales of cash lard to the domestic trade. Futures closed unchanged to 2½ cents higher. Clear bellies [salt pork] closed nominally unchanged.

Cash lard was quoted at $10.57; loose, $10.07; leaf, $10.12, and clear bellies, $14.75 per 100 pounds. Prices in dollars per 100 pounds:

PLAN OFFERED FOR ROSENBAUM GRAIN ELEVATORS

Propose New Company to Control Properties.

Formation of a new concern, headed by James Norris, president of the Norris Grain company, to take over the elevators of the Rosenbaum Grain corporation has been proposed to holders of the bonds outstanding against the properties.

The plan was prepared by the committee representing the bondholders of the Chicago Elevator Properties, Inc., the Rosenbaum subsidiary which has direct control of the grain warehouses. Both the parent company and its elevator subsidiary are under the jurisdiction of the federal court, where attempts are being made to reorganize under section 77-B of the bankruptcy act.

Give Terms of Offer.

Under terms of the plan, holders of the $1,200,000 of 6 per cent first mortgage bonds of the elevator company would receive a cash distribution of $83 for each $500 bond held and for the balance of their claims would get first mortgage income bonds of the new company.

The cash distribution would be made from $370,000 held by the trustee under the first mortgage bond issue, which represents the proceeds of fire insurance policies paid over several years as a result of fire losses to various parcels of the mortgaged property.

The committee reported that Norris has agreed to put up $100,000 in cash for working capital for the new concern. In return he would receive 51 per cent of the capital stock of the new company, 1,000 shares of preferred stock—the entire issue—and all of the capital stock of the Illinois River Packet company.

The latter concern is now controled by trustees of the Rosenbaum Grain corporation, but would be turned over to Norris under terms of the plan. The Rosenbaum company would get 49 per cent of the capital stock in the new elevator company.

Norris Would Control Firm.

Norris' control of the new company would be insured by a provision for a voting trust under which five trustees would vote the common stock for a period of 10 years. Norris would name three of the trustees, one would be selected by the bondholders' committee, and the fifth by the trustees of the Rosenbaum Grain corporation.

Assets of the present firm, excluding cash to be distributed to bondholders, would be turned over to the new concern. The Chicago elevator properties involved have a capacity of upwards of 5,000,000 bushels of grain.

Approval of holders of 25 per cent of the outstanding bonds is necessary before the plan is formally presented to court. Final confirmation would require the approval by creditors holding two-thirds in amount of the claims of each class affected by the plan.

LIVE STOCK PRICE TREND IS MIXED; RECEIPTS FALL

Mixed trends dominated trading in live stock here yesterday. Lambs rose 25 cents a hundredweight, cattle weakened, and hogs, after opening barely steady, strengthened as the day wore on. Receipts were below normal as supplies were held back by farmers because of the wide fluctuations of the markets lately.

Most best grades lambs brought $10.10 to $10.35, which was 60 cents above Monday's low spot.

The cattle market weakened suddenly. Practically all classes shared in the early activity, but demand declined abruptly when costs mounted. Choice weighty steers topped at $11.90. Only scattered lots sold over $10.50, the bulk going at $7.75 to $10.25. Few calves arrived due to recent severe declines and these sold steady.

Hogs cleared steady to 10 cents higher than the average of Tuesday. Advances of 20 cents were recorded in stock over 250 pounds in weight, but unevenness in these was as pronounced as ever, with prices covering a wide range. A small lot averaging 181 pounds topped at $10.65, or 5 cents above Tuesday. The average price at $10.15 was 5 cents higher for the day.

SEASONAL DECLINE IN BUTTER AND EGGS HALTED; PRICES RISE

The seasonal decline in butter and egg prices was checked yesterday on the Chicago Mercantile exchange. The future contract calling for delivery of butter during the current month was quoted at 29¾ cents a pound, a quarter cent above Tuesday's price. The April contract for eggs advanced an eighth cent to 20 cents a dozen.

Buying in the futures market was credited to professional traders who were covering earlier short sales. Transactions in butter amounted to 82 cars. Sales in egg futures totaled 19 cars.

In the cash market egg prices showed a steadier tone, although extra fresh firsts dropped a half cent to 19½ cents a dozen. Other grades were unchanged. Cash butter prices were unchanged to a quarter cent higher.

SUGAR

NEW YORK, March 11.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw sugar was steady and unchanged today at 3.50c per lb for spots and slightly higher for later shipments. Sales reported included 5,000 bags of Cubas for prompt shipment at 3.50; 21,000 Philippines now loading and 7,000 St. Croix for May shipment at 3.55. Futures were firmer on trade and Cuban buying, influenced by the renewed interest in the spot market and firmness in refined. Final prices were at the best, 3 points to 4 points net higher on the active positions. Sales were 7,500 tons.

Rails Get Right to Ignore Long Haul on Illinois Oil

Washington, D. C., March 11.—(AP)—The interstate commerce commission today granted railroads authority to establish rates on petroleum between certain Illinois and Missouri points without observing the long and short haul clause. This clause of the interstate commerce act prohibits railroads from charging a lower rate for a long haul than for a shorter haul on the same route.

BURNHAM'S
Will Enable You to EARN MORE
The easy-to-learn Burnham System quickly enables you to become a skilled beauty operator. Plenty of living models. You learn by doing rather than by studying. Each teacher a specialist. Fewer pupils per teacher.
SEE FOR YOURSELF WHY MORE GIRLS ENROLL IN BURNHAM'S THAN IN ANY OTHER BEAUTY SCHOOL.
NEW
Trip to Paris Award
Velma Marsh, 5115 Nevada-st., has just been announced as winner of the semi-annual Burnham scholarship for efficiency while in training. Like Geneve Huffman, last winner, she will enjoy a wonderful trip to Paris with all expenses paid, even to spending money. She sails on S. S. Manhattan April 22.
DAY OR EVENING CLASSES.
Pay for MOST of your tuition after graduation. It is to your advantage to register now, even if you cannot start until later. Open every day and on Monday, Wednesday, Friday evenings until 9 p. m.

NOW
Auto Financing Plan

Why make a good deal on a car, new or used, only to be penalized by high financing charges?

We have broken down the barriers of tradition and have ushered in a new era of sensible rates for cars bought on time payments. These new rates apply on used car sales, new car sales, or a loan on your present car.

No mystery charges, no extra fees. You simply make a reasonable down payment when you buy and we finance the balance. Here are typical examples of the low cost under our plan:

$100	$12.08	$112.08	$ 9.34
$200	19.00	219.00	18.25
$300	22.04	322.04	26.92
$400	29.00	429.00	35.75
$500	35.08	535.08	44.59

Only Fire and Theft Insurance Required.
Buy It Through Your Own Broker and Include the Premium in the Loan.
